LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Herrons Thank All Responsible For Reception

To The Editor:

We wish to express our sincere thanks to those who attended our golden wedding reception, held in Glenwood Methodist Church, Sunday, Apr. 9 in spite of the very cold rainy day, the church parlor was bulging at its seams with relatives, friends and neighbors.

Also thanks for the lovely gifts, cards, telegrams, telephone calls and flowers received.

Through this letter we wish to say thanks to Wylie B. Shroyer Funeral Home for the lovely record book, our first gift.

Among our many messages of congratulations were greetings from President John F. Kennedy, Governor Michael DiSalle, Mayor Ralston Westlake and Judge Roscoe Walcutt.

We are grateful to Glenwood Chapter 71, Blue Star Mothers of America, who assisted in arranging and carrying through the affair.

We are thankful for the 50 years together which we have been allowed to celebrate, and to our children, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Canning, Silver Spring, Md., and their three children, Thomas J., Mary Frances and Elizabeth Ann, and our son, Charles F. Herron, Chicago, Ill., who honored us with the reception.

They join with us in saying "Thank You."

Harold H. and Edna M. Herron

TEN YEARS of research by Dr. R. F. Rolsten has led to publications of a book on the making of ultra-high purity metals. Here Dr. Rolsten examines crystal bars of chromium, zirconium, and titanium.

Former Hilltopper Is Scientist-Author

He is R. F. Rolsten, Ph. D., whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chalice L. Rolsten, live at 90 S. Harris-av.

Dr. Rolstein, a materials research expert with Convair of San Diego, is the author of a new book soon to be released by the Electrochemical Society.

Title of the 600-page volume is "Iodide Metals and Metal Iodides." In it, he discusses combination of disciplines of inorganic and physical chemistry in making ultra-high purity metals. By determining fundamental properties of pure metals and alloys, he explained, properties of alloy systems suitable for weapon systems of the future can be determined.

Dr. Rolsten's material covers 10 years of research at E. I. Du Pont de Nemours; Battelle Memorial Institute; and Ohio State University, where he received his Ph. D. in physical inorganic chemistry. He joined Convair early last year.

He also has written a number of technical articles for English and German publications. His latest work will be published by John Wiley and Sons, Inc. of New York.

Dr. Rolstein was graduated from West High School in 1942. His sister, Mrs. Robert E. Cassell, lives at 4143 Ongaro-dr.

Letters To The Editor

Westside Woman Calls For 'Revival Of Patriotism' Here

To The Editor:

A "revival of patriotism" in the Surrey Hill-pl section of Columbus has come to my attention and I have received it with so much enthusiasm that I feel I would like to call it to the attention of my fellow West Siders. I was born and raised on the West Side and am a regular subscriber to the West Side News, and feel that our community paper does a fine job of creating community spirit and good will.

The folks up in the Surrey Hill section have started a program whereby every home will be displaying the American Flag on the weekends to indicate their allegiance to "Old Glory" and the principles for which it stands. Is it not probable that the good patriots of the West Side would like to join in this patriotic gesture and show that we, too, are concerned about the complacency of the American people in these uncertain times and let this revival of patriotism spread into our own community?

Although it took these good folk to start this program, I am all in favor of it. What do you think? Do you think it is worth mentioning in your papers? I wonder what the reaction would be.

Sincerely,
Mary Irene Hughes

P.S. My son was one of the boys who helped to distribute the first editions of the West Side News and it has been interesting to watch this paper grow as it has.

Charity Says 'Thank You' For Publicity

To The Editor:

On behalf of the Central Ohio Heart Association, I thank you for the help you gave in interpreting February as Heart Month to your readers.

Only with such cooperation can funds be raised to support research that will result in continued progress in the fight against Heart Disease, America's number one health enemy.

The story needs to be emphasized during the campaign in order to keep the public aware of its importance. The columns of your paper were an invaluable aid in our efforts to do this.

Heart Fund contributions in the past have financed research that has saved many lives. Further research will undoubtedly save many more. Thank you again for the practical way you have shown your appreciation of the importance of this cause.

Gratefully yours,
William A. Bretz,
General Chairman,
Franklin County Heart Fund Drive

The rural electrification program started in Ohio when the first pole was set at Piqua.

Appreciation Expressed By Chicago Church

To The Editor:

On behalf of our church, will you please accept my most sincere thanks and grateful appreciation for your kindness and generosity at the time of our dedication—the excellent story of the occasion, the pictures and the full-page ad.

This certainly helped in making the day one of the greatest in the life of the Chicago Avenue Christian Church.

Sincerely,
Albert L. Rose,
Minister

How many calls can you expect from one ad? And how many of these will turn out to be actual buyers Well, if experience counts, Art Schlook, 1316 Elderwood, sold his house through a Hartley Newspapers Classified ad with just one call! Not that this is an average story, but it certainly shows what you can do by calling BR. 4-1155 to place your ad.

BEST in Schools Doesn't Cost . . . It Pays!

Following is another installment of the article by R. R. Fling, containing some food for thought regarding education:

If we avoid frills and froth, the best in schools doesn't cost, it pays. Bloated Budget is a bogey man.

The need starts in the grades, especially in the less prosperous communities. Below college level is where most dollars should be budgeted.

We could begin by: raising starting salaries, or where accomplishments justify it, or to compete with other states, or other employment; we could provide equipment needed now; we could prepare to start technical institutes; we could raise our academic standards at all levels (The crackpots, pedants, and subversives would soon go elsewhere.); we might find means of aiding our private colleges; we could lower student fees; we could begin state aid to city colleges, (Cincinnati, Toledo, Akron); we could plan to start new universities (Cleveland, Dayton, Canton, Youngstown, etc.); we could provide scholarships. (Some of us knew that a poor boy from the hill country or slum district, no matter how smart he is, will face an almost impossible task in getting a higher education.)

Money alone does not nurture greatness. But Ohio has had great educators who might have brought untold reward if they had been given facilities and encouragement. Ohio has at least five areas in which she ought to be a leader in research. There still would remain the vast and far more important domains of arts, law, and other human needs.

But we should start no new colleges, junior or other, until qualified staffs can be recruited and trained and paid. Under no circumstances should we dilute the standards of our graduate and professional schools. In our colleges we should strive for quality. Furthermore some of us feel that the primary purpose of college is to furnish society with leaders. In all seriousness we may ask whether two-year colleges may not inhibit rather than develop leadership.

A hundred million dollars this biennium would be a start. In a few years every dollar with interest would return to our Commonwealth. It would be hard to find one pressure group, or vested interest which did not stand to profit in the long run. If we use a cold hard business point of view and judge ourselves not for what we are, but for what we might have become, the loss we are incurring by not providing adequately for

Community Groups To Meet Thursday

Two West area community groups have scheduled meetings for Thursday, May 11.

Regular session of the Hilltop Community Council will be held at 8 p.m. at the YMCA on Valleyview-dr.

Highlight of the evening will be the showing of a film, "Our Civil Defense," by Ray Jacobs, assistant director of Franklin County Civil Defense, with a question and answer period following. Visitors are welcome.

Other items on the agenda include announcement of the playground opening ceremony plans, reports from Mrs. Robert Bailey and Gerald Willie concerning progress made in co-ordination with the Cleaner Columbus Campaign, and the announcement of the results of a recreational survey of the Hilltop.

Special recognition will be given Mrs. H. C. Booth for outstanding work in the Hilltop Community Council for the past several years.

May 11 also is the bi-monthly meeting of the West Side Neighborhood Council. All interested persons are urged to attend the 7:30 p.m. get-together at Gladden Community House.

City officials dealing with street cleaning, sewers, and health and sanitation will outline services to the West Side during the current Cleaner Columbus effort.

SUCH SERVICE!

Rely On The Air Force To Do Things Up Big!

Without a doubt, Dale Monett was the most "shook up" man on Broad-st last Monday. Here's the story:

Monett is the assistant manager at Thrift Finance Company, 2403 W. Broad-st. Early Monday morning, he decided to change the company's window display, and phoned the Air Force recruiting office to request a new display. They, of course, promised to send something out.

Half an hour later, an Air Force staff car pulled up in front of the office. Monett went out to greet the driver. Imagine his astonishment when, on reaching the street, he discovered that the staff car was followed by 14 Air Force trucks, stretching for four blocks, and carrying real, sure-nuff missiles . . . yep, an X-15, a "Thor," a "Titan," the deadly "Hound Dog," etc. (See pictures above and on page 18).

A confused discussion led to this explanation: the Air Force convoy was just passing through Columbus enroute from Wright-Patterson AFB, Dayton, to Armed Forces Day festivities in Washington, D.C., and had parked to await a police escort through the city.

"I was really relieved," Monnett said. The entire window is only 6 x 10 feet . . . I couldn't even have used the afterburners."

TO CRUISE MEMBERS:

Because of the change in time between Columbus and Cleveland, buses are scheduled to leave Columbus on the first leg of the big Hartley Newspapers Great Lakes pleasure cruise at 4 a.m., Sunday morning, July 16, in time to arrive shipside by 9 a.m.

Pillows will be provided free of charge so our early-rising travelers will be able to catch up on their sleep between here and Lake Erie.

See inside for this week's story on the wonderful one-day visit to the Great Lakes.

Madison Press Becomes Daily

Formerly a semi-weekly, it started daily operations Thursday.

According to C. Carlton Hartley, publisher of Hartley Newspapers, the Press will publish Monday through Friday. Hartley just recently acquired the Press.

William Rush is the managing editor.

NOW, NOW . . . PULL YOURSELF TOGETHER!

A LIGHT LOAD CAN BE TOO MUCH if seems, when you're a big truck that's used to tugging man-sized commerce over the roads. This semi, loaded with light bulbs, apparently fooled its own braking system last Wednesday and lost its tandem wheels right in the middle of Broad-st. Staff photographer Harley Croom snapped the scene near Algonquin-av.

Hilltop Lions Elect Schmidt As President

A 2726 Dibbles-dr resident, Ervin L. Schmidt, Thursday night, was elected president of the Hilltop Lions Club.

Schmidt, former first vice-president of the club, has been a safety engineer at the Anderson Haulage Co. since 1960. He is active in a variety of civic affairs.

He is married, the father of one son now in military service; and a member of St. John Lutheran Church.

Other officers elected are:

City Purchasing Park Near Lindbergh School

By BERNIE KARSKO

Picnic lunches and ball games won't prevail there this year, but residents in the vicinity of Lindbergh Elementary School are going to have their own park.

The last hurdle was cleared Monday night when Columbus City Council authorized Service Director Ernest Stork to purchase an 8.8-acre site for $35,000.

The newest addition to the Columbus park system will be located adjacent to the Lindbergh School and will run south to the corporation line at Briggs-rd.

It will be a combined city-school park designed to serve the children in the school as well as other residents in the community.

This area was in dire geographical need of a park, according to Bill Walton, a spokesman for the City Division of Parks and Forestry.

The closest facilities now are at Westgate Park.

Walton said the department is not sure yet of exactly how the park will be utilized.

He pointed out that since many prospective sites are never actually developed, plans are not drawn up until the land has been purchased.

A house, garage and barn which were on the land were included in the $35,000 transaction. All of these structures are serviceable and probably will be used for storage and, if possible, as shelter house accommodations.

Walton said that the area probably will not be available for use this year.

A survey will have to be conducted to see if proper drainage is afforded. If it is, it will hasten the completion date.

"The character of the land doesn't make it look too much like a park now," Walton volunteered. "But you'd be surprised what a few trees will do.

He said that the only trees on the property now are a few around the house.

Extensive planting of trees and shrubs should begin within the next couple of months. If the Division of Parks decides to include ball diamonds in the park, construction will also begin on them.

Since the land is flat, Walton assures that there probably will be baseball and softball diamonds.

They won't be ready for at least a year, though. It takes that long for the clay to settle and fuse.

There will not be a lagoon or lake in the park. Walton said that anything of this nature is impractical for the smaller parks.

The city has announced plans of opening 14 similar parks in the next five years as a result of the voted park bond issue. A pending court decision however, is hampering progress at the present time.

FOR YOUNG EYES . . .

Frogmen Will 'Take' Scioto In Combat Show

The US Navy will conduct "Operation Frogman" on the Scioto River at 1 p.m. Saturday, May 20, as part of Armed Forces Day activities in Co-

The exhibition of Frogmen in action will be the first of its kind in the Central Ohio area.

The frogmen team will demonstrate what the Navy does to prepare enemy beaches prior to an amphibious landing.

To add to the realism, live demolition charges will be used during the show and an amphibious "duck" will be on hand to "invade" the shores of downtown Columbus.

The unique Navy operation will take place on the Scioto River above Greenlawn Dam between Mound-st and Green-

The show is free and adequate parking will be available along Whittier-st near the police auto pound.

The team consists of Navy frogmen John Phillips and a group of skindivers from the Seanags of Columbus.

On Sunday, members of the frogman team will be on hand at Lockbourne Air Force Base to talk to the public and to perform in a special indoor swimming pool.

Other displays and demonstrations of each of the four branches of service will also be exhibited to the public.

Modern weapons of war and demonstrations of their use will highlight the many activities at Lockbourne Air Force Base.

Hilltop Relays Tonight

The annual running of the Hilltop Relays, originally scheduled for Tuesday night, will be held at West High Magly Field. Final heats beginning at 7 p.m. The weekend's heavy rains forced the one-day delay of the big track meet.

Hilltoppers See Shepard Make Big Splash Friday

Five Hilltop men were not — as the rest of the country apparently was — glued to their television sets Friday when Navy Cmdr. Alan Shepard became the first American spacetraveler.

They were on the scene.

All five had ringside seats aboard ships of the Navy recovery force stationed 200 miles down the Atlantic Firing range.

Local Lions All Set To Tell Their Tale

That "roar" that you might hear outside your door next week shouldn't alarm you. It's just the Hilltop Lions shouting their proud story to residents of the West Side and Hilltop areas.

Thursday, May 18, is the big day when some 400 adult newspaper "boys" will take to the streets with their 12 big pages which tell the whole story of 1960 in the "Lions Tale."

The annual report—now in its 11th year—tells how funds raised from local sources were spent.

These expenditures include $3500 for sight saving, $1000 for health, education and welfare, $1500 for community betterment, $1500 for local boys and girls and $1000 for the big

Kiwanis Clubs To Honor Two As Mothers Of Year

Two area women, selected as Mothers of the Year in their communities, will be honored by Hilltop and West Side Kiwanis Clubs at their luncheon meetings this week.

Mrs. R. D. Hastings, 180 S. Westmoor-av, will be the guest of Hilltop Kiwanians Thursday at Berry's Restaurant.

Mrs. Donald Doust, 163 Avondale-av, was to be similarly entertained by West Side Kiwanians Wednesday at Chicago Avenue Christian Church.

The affection Hilltoppers hold for Mrs. Hastings will be expressed by the Kiwanians with flowers, certificate and a program planned in her honor.

Her husband and four children will also be on hand to add their own congratulations and best wishes.

Mrs. Hastings has endeared herself to many during nearly a half-century in the community with her whole-hearted devotion to family, home and friends.

Married 56 years next October, she and her husband lived on Ogden-av from 1914 until they moved into their present home nine years ago. Their children, married with homes of their own, still have their roots deep in the community.

Mrs. Robert (Helen) Jones lives at 190 N. Oakley-av; Mrs. Norman (Emmajean) Line, 180 E. Southhampton; David E., 341 Guernsey-av, and James D., 4201 Dublin-rd.

Members of Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church for 47 years, Mrs. Hastings sang in the choir there for 19 years, served as choir mother and taught Sunday School classes.

She is still an active member of the church women's association.

Mrs. Hastings makes all her own clothes and most of those for her children and grandchil

Mr. Hastings retired in 195 the year the couple celebrate their golden wedding anniversary, after a 62-year-career as a printer. He was publisher of The Hilltop Record from 1926 to 1936.

with her own two sons in Mrs. Doust's genuine interest in young people, will add their enthusiastic approval of the Kiwanis choice.

Her work as children's director in the Department of Christian Education at Avondale EUB and as general supervisor of the church's Vacation Bible School has earned for her many young friends.

our schools at all levels is staggering.

The problem will not be to get the money but to use it wisely. Ohio is eighth from the bottom in percentage of income going to all state and local taxes, 16% under the national average. No citizen of Ohio is proud of this place. No one wants to pay taxes to support waste. But none want to be stingy when stinginess costs. Our citizens just don't like to be hoodwinked.

Wake up, Community Leaders and all Citizens. Quit selling Ohio short. Condemn complacency. From the Govenor down, in the legislature and in both parties, you will find men who, given a chance, have the vision and character to fight for a better Tomorrow. Let's give them a chance.

What are you going to do about it?

Command Honesty

Douglas Johnson of Los Angeles recently found $240,000, and being honest, he found the rightful owner and returned it. He has since gained the limelight as a result of quite a number of people writing him to advise that he was crazy for returning the money.

This past Thursday, 75 Hilltop Kiwanians at their meeting, signed a letter to Johnson, commending him on his honesty.

Quote: "Our American heritage is founded on the principle of honesty and integrity which your conduct exemplifies. You have done a fine thing, something of which you and your family can well be proud.

"Unfortunately, there are some people in this country to whom the decent thing is obnoxious, but we are sure they represent a very small segment of our population. The irresponsible criticisms of this small group should not disturb you.

"Again we say, our hats off to you, and may God bless you."

Committee Plans Hilltop Lions 'Fourth' Program

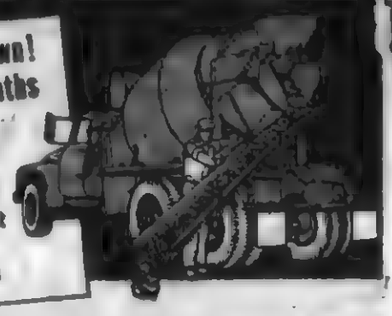
Foster's committee consists of Dick Gilger, Paul Hoot, Bill Myers, Richard Sensenbrenner, Fred Nagle, Dave Tingley, and Sam Taylor.



According to Foster, this year's show promises to be a good one. "There will be plenty of entertainment followed by a giant fireworks display. The time table of events will appear in the Hilltop Record-West Side News at a later date.

IGNORING POLIO SHOTS IS FOOLISH

Six years ago on Apr. 12 at Ann Arbor, Mich., the announcement was made that Dr. Jonas Salk had found a highly effective paralytic polio preventive.

At that time the development of an antipolio vaccine was hailed as a medical miracle throughout the nation.

Yet now, only a relatively few years later, it seems a large segment of the population has forgotten this 'miracle.' Millions of Americans continue to risk the possibility of getting paralytic polio by not taking the Salk vaccine.

The theme for the 1961 vaccination is "Babies and Breadwinners," according to Gen. Mark McElroy, state March of Dimes chairman. This theme was selected to emphasize that 38 per cent of all children under five years are not fully vaccinated, and that, even worse, 65 per cent of men aged 20 to 40 are not properly protected. In 1960 almost half of the paralytic cases were babies and children under five years. Young adults who contracted the disease were among those most seriously paralyzed," the state chairman said.

He pointed out that the National Foundation estimates that the Salk vaccine already has "saved" 'an estimated 30,000 Americans, mostly children, from death or paralysis from polio.

There may be other thousands more this summer who are not spared, paralysis unless they start getting their Salk shot series now. The need for the fullest possible protection is particularly great among children and youths.

A new oral vaccine, which like the Salk vaccine was developed with March of Dimes funds, is in the process of being prepared for manufacture. However, it is not expected to be available until well after 1961 polio season.

"To wait for the new vaccine could be disastrous, McElroy continued. "The fact is that the Salk vaccine, now available, provides excellent protection against paralytic polio.

U.S. Public Health Service figures show that last year's new case load dropped 92 per cent below the average number of polio cases in the pre-vaccine years 1950 to 1954. And, the polio attack rate was 10 times as high among the unvaccinated as it was among persons with three or more Salk shots."

The facts are decisive. The Salk vaccine can virtually eliminate the danger of polio. But the vaccine does no good in a doctor's medicine chest. It's well past the time when anyone should be putting off getting Salk shots.

STUDENTS AWARDED PTA STUDY GRANTS

TWENTY-ONE GRADUATES of Columbus Public Schools were awarded scholarships by Columbus Council PTA at its annual meeting held May 4 at Ohio Union. The two-year study grants of $200 a year stipulate that upon graduation, recipients teach in Ohio for one year for each year the scholarship is awarded. Winners from West and Central Highs were, from left, first row, Susan Kerr, Jo Anne Jenny, Dorothy Nachman, all from West; second row, Judy Wright, West; Fred Strickler, Central, and Yvonne J. Veeley, West.

The 1961 Junior Chamber of Commerce Teen-Age Safe Driving Road-E-O is scheduled May 28 on the Veteran's Memorial parking lot, according to Robert H. Strasburg, Columbus Jaycee general chairman.

The Safe Driving Road-E-O is a competitive event involving a written test similar to that given for a driver's license and an exacting driving test on a course like that used in the National Truck Road-E-O. Its goals are to promote driving safety and to provide an opportunity for youngsters to demonstrate their abilities as safe operators of motor cars.

Strasburg said this year's Road-E-O is a co-operative project among the Columbus, Tri-Village, Grove City, Prairie-Lincoln, Reynoldsburg and Plain City Jaycee chapter. The Standard Oil Company of Ohio is again co-operating with Jaycee locals all over the state in staging such events.

The Safe Driving Road-E-O is open to all unmarried teenagers who will not have reached age 19 by Aug. 3, have a valid driver's license or permit and have a clean record of no moving violations during the past six months. Entry blanks are available through schools or from the Jaycees.

The local winners will compete for $3400 in scholarships provided by Sohio at the state meet in Portsmouth on June 11.

Americans pay about the same share of their incomes for food now as before World War II, and they are eating more and better foods.

Your Youth

By Hilltop YMCA Staff

Information and applications for the Hilltop YMCA Little "Y" Baseball league are in the Hilltop schools. These forms are also available at the "Y." Once more this league includes two divisions—for boys 8-10, and for those 11-13. All boys must be members of the Hilltop YMCA.

A new type of program will be added to the summer activities at the "Y." In past years the Summer Fun Club has been the favorite for many boys and girls. This year the "Hilltop 'Y' Rangers" will take its place. Weekly periods will be set up with separate registrations for each.

This group will be open to boys and girls from 8 to 12 years of age. Each week will have a special theme, such as sports, nature, study, camping and Indian lore. Further details will be announced in the newsletter.

The second annual Hilltop Y's Men—Gra-Y Relays will be held May 20 on West High School track. All Gra-Y clubs are now engaged in eliminations. Several new events are being added to last year's program.

Today 13 members of the West Senior Hi-Y took part in the annual Hi-Y City Day. Boys took over all city offices so that they might receive a better insight into the operations of local government. Among them were Dick Williamson, Dick Sines, Gary Weigand, John Edwards, Bob Dent, Glen Rohrer, Brian Highfill, Larry McQuerry, Lee McQuerry, Dave Nachman, Dick Steele, Chuck Withrow and Ray Click.

An the annual Jr. and Sr. Hi-Y Awards Night at Central YMCA last week, Mark Winchell of the West Jr. Hi-Y Club received a third place trophy for the Bible Story Telling Contest.

Another Junior High Dance will be held Friday evening from 7:30 to 10 p.m. — one of the last two dances for spring. Dances are free to members of the Hilltop YM or YW; 50 cents for non-members.

Only two more Saturday morning movies will be shown at the "Y." These dates will be May 13 and 27.

Members of Hilltonia, Westmoor and West Jr. Hi-Y clubs participated in the City Wide Jr. Hi-Y Swim meet at the Central YMCA, downtown recently. Earl Casper, Barry Greer, Brad Cook and Larry Cooke represented Hilltonia. Westmoor's team consisted of Jim Biggers, John Callard, Don Bender, Bob Barnhart, Laci Varga, Carl Schrack and Tim McClain. Competing for West were Tom Helmick, Bill Dennis, Charles Campbell, Mike Tripp, Mark Winchell, Bob Ainsworth, Don Ehman.

Earl Kesper was the leading scorer for the Hilltop clubs as he took first place honors in the 20-yard butterfly and 20-yard breaststroke. Larry [illegible] rounded out the Hilltonia scoring with a second place in the 20-yard free style. Jim Biggers led the Westmoor team with a third place in diving and a sixth place in the 20-yard butterfly. Carl Schrack added the other points with a fifth place in the 20-yard breaststroke.

West's swimmers were led by Bill Dennis who took third places in the 20 and 40-yard freestyle. Tom Helmick finished sixth in the 40-yard freestyle and Charles Campbell took sixth in the 20-yard backstroke. West's 80-yard freestyle relay team, consisting of Mark Winchell, Don Ehman, Mike Tripp and Tom Helmick, took fifth place to round out the West scoring.

DAV Chapter Sets Induction Exercise May 15

Capital City Chapter 3 of the Disabled American Veterans will hold an induction May 15 at the Veteran's Memorial. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

A large class is expected, according to Publicity Chairman H. O. Parks.

The chapter will elect officers for 1961-62 on June 5. Installation will be June 19. The chapter's auxiliary will elect and install on the same dates. Chapter 3 has a membership of 1,115.

Parks urged members to write their congressmen in regard to the proposed 10 per cent increase in service connected compensation.

The chapter and Barracks 461 of the Veterans of World War I will present the Daughters of the Confederacy with an American flag at Jefferson Davis Birthday Ceremonies at the Confederate Cemetery June 3. Camp Chase Post of the American Legion will be in charge of raising the flag and other ceremonies.

Beulah Park Attendance, Betting Up

Beulah Park, just about at the half way mark in its 25-day spring meeting, is going strong compared to the 1960 figures for the track. There has been an increase in attendance this year of more than 70 per cent while wagering is up five to six per cent over the totals of a year ago for the same period.

Next Wednesday is closing date for entries in the second running of the Robert J. Dienst Memorial Handicap. This event carries a purse of $6,000 and is run at a mile and a sixteenth

Ladies Days are proving popular at Beulah this spring and two more of these are scheduled for the last two Tuesdays of the meet. Women are admitted free to the grandstand areas on these occasions.

Jets' Ground Keepers Sing 'Old Man River'

By Jack Allen
Sports Editor

Last Saturday's Jet-Rochester game must have caused the records keepers to do a little revising . . . four times the grounds keepers at Jet Stadium rolled out the canvass . . . and four times they rolled it up.

The umpire behind the plate must have got his kicks out of the whole thing . . . he'd wait until the rain was falling heavily . . . call time . . . out would come the canvass . . . and before the score of free laborers could get to shelter the rain would stop and they would roll up the cover.

It was interesting to note the workers really hustled the first time the game was delayed . . . the second time they trotted . . . the third time they walked . . . and the forth time they didn't completely make it.

Everyone seemed determined to get in the game . . . Friday's was rained out . . . a doubleheader was slated for Sunday . . . also rained out . . . and the man in the black suit just wouldn't quit . . . the Jets did however . . . six runs behind Rochester.

The game consumed time as as well as patience . . . it was delayed 35 minutes starting . . . when completed the clock was crowding straight up.

I wonder what kind of a story the local football machine's PR man gave fellow sports editor Paul Hornung when he printed in his column that Colts players did the strike routine last season.

This writer had the exclusive break on that story while working with a Newark daily . . . several of the Colts subbed for a local car dealer and Colt money man at a Newark service club and spilled all . . . when it came out the next day a letter was quickly issued from Columbus denying the whole thing . . . but Newark Advocate sports scribe Bob Worth wouldn't bite.

Local papers never printed the story until Hornung did a football rehash a couple of Sundays ago and apparently forgot the subject was taboo.

The Cincinnati Reds used a bazooka-type machine which shoots up high pop flys for the catchers to practice on . . . Scout Mike Ryba was usually at the controls . . . coach Dick Sisler ran the catchers concentrating on wind sprints . . . Ed Bailey inquired at the end of one practice session . . . "Dick, are we gonna run these guys out at second base this year instead of throwing them out?

The Cleveland Indians are sporting one of the most youthful squads in the club's history . . . the average age of the 33 men on the roster was 25 years, five months, at the opening of the season . . . average pitcher's age is 24 . . . infielder, 26 years, 10 months . . . outfield, exactly 25 . . . and the catchers do the old man bit at 28 years, six months.

Hilltop Y's Men Club To Sponsor Second Running Of Gra-Y Relays

The second annual "Gra-Y Relays" under the sponsorship of the Hilltop Y's Men's Club, will be held on Saturday, May 20, at West High School's Magly Field, with the events getting under way promptly at 9 a.m.

This project, which actually began two years ago, was started as an experiment and has been so well accepted on the Hilltop, that there are now 12 schools participating in this year's events, with youngsters from the fourth, fifth and and sixth grades in competition with others of their own age.

Then, of course, the team scores will be tallied, with the winning school walking off with the big "rotating" trophy which they will display for the following year at their school.

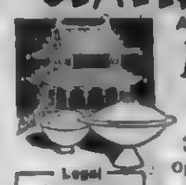
The schools which have entered the relays this year are Lindbergh, Westgate, West Broad, West Mound, Prairie-Lincoln, Highland, Valley View, John Burroughs, Binns and North Franklin, with Eakin and Georgian Heights joining forces to make up the 11 teams to take part.

The 10 events are as follows: 100 yard dash for sixth graders; 50 yard dash for fourth and fifth grades; 50 yard low hurdles for sixth graders; 50 yard low hurdles, fourth and fifth grades; 440 yard relays for sixth graders; 440 yard relays for forth and fifth grades; standing broad jump for sixth grade; standing broad jump for fourth and fifth graders; softball throw for sixth graders; softball throw for fourth and fifth graders.

The low hurdles, standing broad jump and softball throw are new events for the fourth and fifth grade boys and the sponsors are anxious to see how the young boys fare in these events.

Each boy will receive a special felt patch of the emblem pictured on this page for his participation in the relays. A public address system will be installed for the events to identify the boys as they perform in the various events.

Three Gra-Y Teams Are Undefeated



In the South section of the Gra-Y Softball League, Lindberg shut-out Binns 18-0, and the John Burroughs Hawks won a forfeit decision over the Eakin Road Panthers. The Lindbergh Falcons' pitcher, Chuck Martin, pitched a shut-out, and helped the team effort by scoring 4 of the 19 runs. Don Heischman was the losing pitcher for the Binns Bombers.

In the North section of the Gra-Y League, the Valleyview Vikings won a close game over the Highland Trotters 16-15. The Prairie Lincoln Eagles dropped their game to the Westgate Wildcats 11-2, and the West Broad Colts shut out the North Franklin Comets 14-0.

Valleyview's pitcher, Charles Kountz, led his team to victory by going 5 for 5 at the plate, one of which was a home run, and his last hit, a double, scored the run that broke the tie in the bottom of the last inning. Dick King of Valleyview scored the winning run. Kountz was the winning pitcher and the Highland Trotters' Bill Garrett was the losing pitcher. Reggie Jackson and Victor Burton claimed a home run apiece for the Highland Trotters.

West Downs Rival Grove City, Wins In First Class AA Clash

West baseballers again re-versed themselves and had a perfect week winning both their outings. In a week of District Class AA tournament upsets of the district's biggest, West got into the act but not as a victim but as the culprit. The apple-cart they overturned is significant. In late years West has seldom defeated Grove City which annually has some fine baseballers.

West has been unable to win at Grove City's diamond, but the Cowboys overcame both jinxs as they traveled to Grove City last Thursday and dumped GC with a thumping 7-1 loss.

Since the weather took such a good turn for a few days the middle of last week, the previously postponed City League fray with South was played last Wednesday instead of waiting till this week. The result was a 7-3 West victory.

They were scheduled to travel to Washington CH last Monday afternoon for their second tourney contest, but rain postponed it, probably till last evening. This will of necessity force a City fray postponement with a scheduled game with Marion-Franklin (who dumped previously defeated Linden McKinley in tourney play last week) and then the Cowboys have a scheduled fray with Eastmoor at West Friday. Since the first game, originally scheduled for Eastmoor was played at West due to better diamond conditions, this game may also be switched . . . again depending on weather and outcome of tournament play by the Broncos. There is some talk of the latter game being played at Jet Stadium but the District semi and final contests are scheduled in there the latter part of the week. The Cowboys will be pointing towards revenge for an early season 17-3 romping at the hands of the Warriors. Eastmoor also got knocked for the first time and out of the tourney last week, and based on recent performances maybe they will make a battle of it, too.

West broke on top with three runs in the first inning against South and was never headed.

Bill Kain went all the way with a fine hurling job, striking out ten and walking only three. West left six men stranded in South's 5. This shoved West's City League record to 3-3 for an even .500 mark.

After warming their bats up against South the Cowboys really opened up their offensive guns for the first time this season as they leveled a 12 hit attack on Grove City on Thursday, and they kept their errors down to three (GC had 4). Meanwhile Bronco hurler Jim Thornton was having a good day limiting GC to five hits, striking out three and walking two.

Westmoor Junior High is currently having themselves a pretty fair track season, just recently having dumped previously undefeated Roosevelt Jr. High which had itself a pretty fair powerhouse too. To date, Westmoor has rung up the following marks: Champion 73, Westmoor 53, Everett 12; Westmoor 25; Barrett 37; Westmoor 48½; Indianola 33½; Westmoor 40; Roosevelt 35; Franklin 29; Roosevelt 66; Westmoor 36; Mohawk 24; Starling 16; Everett 5; Linmoor 44; Westmoor 31; Dominion 29.

Consistent winners for Westmoor have been Steve Bernard in the high jump, with a high mark to date of "5"; Jim Arrington in the shot put (43'9"); and Tim DeWitt in the 880 (2:32.1). Other "bright stars" as head coach Roger Dumaree calls them, Dave New in the 100 (10'9") and the broad jump (17'6"); John Coleman in the 440 (59.3) and the high jump (5'); Dave Schroeder in the 440 (59.6); Dave Walters in the 220 (25:0); Barnard in the low hurdles (17.5) and Mike Dave in the 880 (2:24.0).

Remainder of Westmoor Jr. High 1961 track schedule: May 10-11, North Sectionals at East; May 18, City Finals at Central.

Hilltonia Junior High head coach Russ Friend is carrying a 15-man baseball team this spring and is being assisted by William Spratly. The starting squad usually finds the following line-up: 1B—Terry Whitlock; 2B—Nick Damopoulos; 3B—Don VanOrder; SS—Ron Friend; LF—Steve Conrad; CF—Dave Romans; RF—Terry Alwood, C—Steve Prater; P—John Goodin.

Remaining 1961 schedule for the Hilltonia baseballers: May 11—Barrett-H; May 18—at Franklin; May 23—Mohawk-H; May 25—at Roosevelt . . . all league frays.

Recently Friend made some lineup swithces to try to get on that "winning side of the ledger" and it seems to have helped. VanOrder was moved into the mound, Whitlock moved to third, Groezinger shifted into first base and Seymour has been operating at second. Currently four men are hitting over .300 for Hilltonia. VanOrder with a whopping .389, Conrad and Prater at .313 and Goodin at .308. VanOrder is hitting a fancy .636 in just league games.

But VanOrder's hurling abilities (he's already a proven capable hot-corner man) of late are even more astounding. Since shifting to the mound corp, he lost a 2-1, four hitter (his opponent won also an a four hitter), won a two-hitter, and then last week lost another two-hitter. Against Eastmoor and their ace hurler Meyers (this las was unbeaten last year and is really a fine young pitcher), VanOrder had himself a no-hitter going for a full five innings. (They only play six frames in Junior High ball.)

Hilltonia's baseball results up to press time: Crestview 5-Hilltonia, 3 (practice game); Starling, 9—Hilltonia, 4; Johnson Park, 2—Hilltonia, 1; Hilltonia, 6—George Beery, 1; Hilltonia, 6—George Beery, 1; Hill-Eastmoor, 3—Hilltonia, 2; for a 2-4 mark overall and a 1-3 league record to date.

Hilltop Relays Running Rain Delays Annual

This is another extremely busy week fo the West "cinderfellas" as they host their own Hilltop Relays tonight, travel to the 16-Annual Upper Arlington Relays this Friday (prelims in the afternoon with the finals in the evening under the lights), and then with no rest for the weary, plunge into the Eastmoor Invitational Meet, there, Saturday. Next Tuesday West hosts Linden McKinley in their last duel meet of the season in tuning up for the District Meet the latter part of next week.

At East last Tuesday afternoon the Cowboys took it on the chin to the tune of 70 2/3—47 1/3. As in earlier season meets, the Cowboys found themselves completely shut out in both relay events. Terry Barnett (100 and PV and West's only double winner), Dennie Thompson (mile), Lew Coles (440), Jerry Clayter (BJ) and Bob Montgomery (discus) picked up West's only firsts. East's Art Milner ran off with individual honors as he paced the East attack with 16⅔ points with three firsts and a member of a relay team.

Leaving Columbus in rain mid-Friday afternoon and returning after midnight Friday with the rain never having ceased proved quite a wet time for the Cowboy cindermen as they made their annual appearance in the Marion Relays. However the Broncos "stacked" distance medley relay team took a first and brought home the first trophy of the 1961 campaign. The team composed of Jerry Ball, Terry Barnett, Lew Coles and Dennie Thompson "clicked" with faultless baton phasoffs, and flashed across the winner.

Thompson also ran the fastest mile run by a city school trackman this year. This doesn't include the area where Worthington's Jeff Eckert is setting national marks. The Cowboy's shuttle hurdle relay team of Barnett, Burr Miles, Claytor and Dwight Newman also took a second at Marion.

WORK SHOES
It's a funny world . . . take this young mechanic I waited on Saturday. He's used to working on machine parts that are made to fit right down to a thousandth of an inch. He'd hoot at the idea of trying to put an eighth inch nut on a quarter inch bolt, and yet, he couldn't see anything wrong with trying to put a size 10½ foot into a size 9 shoe. His feet were giving out and he was looking for arch support shoes. Actually his troubles were more fit than feet. Short shoes never fit under the arch and so place strain on the feet and legs. Add to this the fact that the shoes were poorly constructed, of inferior quality and it's no wonder he was having trouble. Never try to economize on the shoes you work in . . . you spend more than a third of your life in them. Better quality shoes are usually sold in stores that know more about fitting you.

Power Mower Safety Suggestions

1. Study the instruction manual which came with the mower. This manual gives basic information on safety and maintenance.
2. Inspect the lawn for stones, wire and other debris before you start to mow. The blade can pick up such objects and throw them with enough force to kill. It is important to keep all persons away from the opening where grass is ejected.
3. Train all operators before letting them use or even start the mower. The operator should stand firm and be sure the mower will not move over his foot as the starter rope is pulled. Be sure engine is cold and shut off when filling gasoline tank.
4. Always be sure of your footing especially when mowing on an incline. It is very easy to pull the mower back over your foot unless you are aware of the danger and keep your mind on the job at hand.
5. Stop the mower whenever the operator is called away or leaves the job temporarily. An unattended running mower plus a small child sometimes equals disaster.
6. Keep all small children and pets away from the machine. They could stumble or fall into the mower path or onto the mower itself and become casualties.
7. Always stop the engine when you are unclogging, adjusting or oiling the mower. As an added precaution be sure to disconnect the spark plug wire while you are working on the bottom of the mower. Never reach under the guard. Keep your hands, feet and clothing away from all moving parts.
8. Keep gasoline stored in a plainly marked red can. This can should be spill-proof in case it is bumped or upset. Storing gasoline in a glass jar is asking for fire.

Careless operation of your power mower can cause serious injury.

County-Wide Testing For Glancoma Planned

At least 6,000 Columbus area people have or will develop an eye disease called glaucoma and will suffer increasing sight loss ultimately resulting in complete blindness unless medical steps are taken to halt progress of the disease according to Dr. Ollie M. Goodloe, Columbus health commissioner.

His statement came in connection with his announcement of a county-wide five-day free neighborhood clinic campaign, to be held in 30 centrally located centers, Monday, May 15, through Friday, May 19, to find those who need treatment.

Glaucoma tests are made with a small instrument called a tonometer, which measures pressure inside the eye. They are completely painless and take only a few seconds.

Following is the location of next week's clinics in Hartley Newspaper areas and the hours. All screening will be done 2 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m.

May 15 — Bexley Methodist Church; Dublin Community Church; Gahanna IOOF Hall.

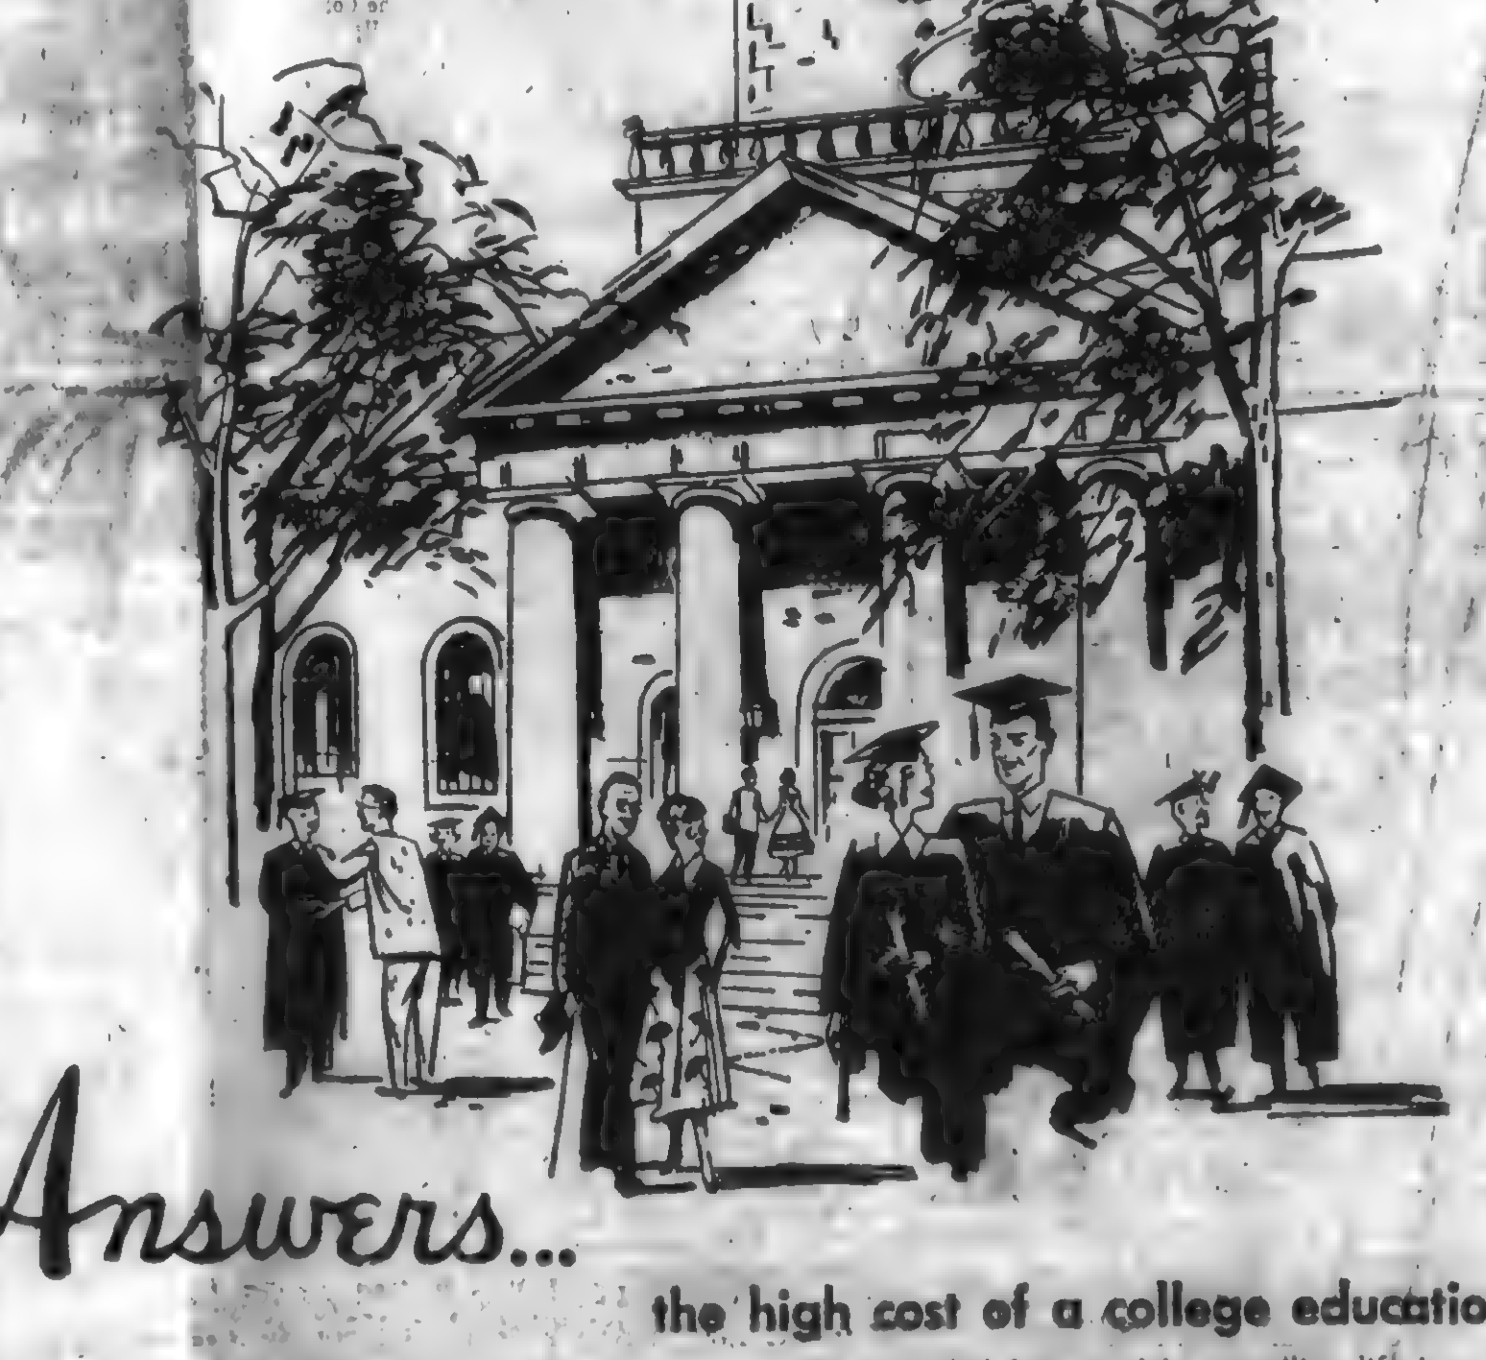
May 17 — Beatty Recreation Center; Children's Hospital Eye Clinic; Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church; Thurman Methodist Church.

May 18 — St. Stephen's Community House; Bethlehem Lutheran Church; Columbus City Health Department.

May 19 — Gladden Community House; Grove City Fire Department; Whitehall Fire Department.

In addition, the OSU Eye Clinic will be open every afternoon, 2-5 p.m., May 15-19 for testing.



IN 'OKLAHOMA!'

TWO LEAD ROLES in Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Oklahoma!" which plays Mershon Auditorium, Wednesday, May 24, through Saturday, May 27, are filled by Judy Wright and Tom Fuhrman (Curly). Educations-"Unlimited"

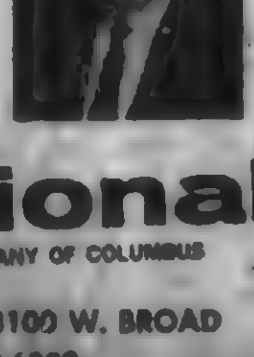
Answers... the high cost of a college education



The average cost of four years of college is $6,000. That can be a real drain on the family budget. The answer is Educations-"Unlimited" — an exclusive loan plan that provides for up to four years of college with only one loan. The cost is budgeted on a monthly basis and covers all charges made by the school.

As an added feature, debt cancelling life insurance is even included. It's the easiest way to work out a sound financing program for the education of your son or daughter.

Now's the time to get details and be all set for college this Fall. Stop in at your Good Neighbor office and get details. Ask for the manager.

Reservations Going Fast For July 16 Great Lakes Cruise

Reservations to date for the big Hartley Newspapers Great Lakes pleasure cruise Sunday, July 16, have been coming into the Hartley offices like proverbial hotcakes.

Reader response as of May 10 has indicated that it won't be long before all spaces are filled for this cruise-of-cruises aboard the $5 Aquarama, the multi-million dollar, nine-deck Great Lakes luxury liner.

Because of limited space aboard the modern, chartered Lake Shore buses, the Hartley papers have made arrangements for those people who might desire to drive their own cars to Cleveland and back, rather than traveling by bus.

Adult fare for the cruise is $18.50, while full child's fare is $12.50. These prices include round-trip transportation to Cleveland plus full cost of the cruise itself. Only meals and beverages are additional. For those who desire to drive, fares have been reduced accordingly to $12.50 for adults and $7.50 for children.

Parking space is available for your automobile at the ship's landing at a cost of $1 for the entire day.

Time Change Noted

Because of the change in time between Columbus and Cleveland, buses are scheduled to leave Columbus at 6 a.m. Sunday morning, in time to arrive shipside by 9 a.m. Pillows will be provided free of charge so our early-rising travelers will be able to catch up on their sleep between here and Lake Erie.

This is a trip you won't want to miss. The $5 Aquarama features movies and bingo, comfortable deck chairs for relaxing in the warm July sun, a ship's library, clean restroom facilities and a large ballroom with evening floorshow.

For the kiddies, there is the glass-enclosed playroom under constant supervision of trained persons. Children must be old enough to play by themselves, however, as there are no nursery facilities.

Church Services, Too

Both Protestant and Catholic Church services are available Sunday morning.

Other features of the beautiful liner include four restaurants and two cocktail lounges, checkroom facilities and elevator service to all nine of her decks.

Indications are that the quota will be filled quickly, so make your reservations now. Simply fill out the coupon and mail, including check or money order for the full amount to: CRUISE Hartley Newspapers, 3465 W. Broad-st, Columbus 4, O. Reservations may also be made at the front counter of the Hartley Newspapers office.

THE S.S. AQUARAMA, beautiful luxury liner on which Hartley readers will cruise from Cleveland to Detroit and back Sunday, July 16, boasts a variety of entertainment features. Even so, some folks just like to sit back, relax and enjoy Lake Erie's ever-changing view through the huge picture windows of the Main Lounge. Make your reservations now for this wonderful full-day cruise.

I would like to reserve space for ..... adults and .....children on the July 16 Hartley Newspapers Great Lakes Pleasure Cruise. Enclosed you will find check or money order for ....., which is the full amount for these reservations. (Note: fares are $18.50 for adults who travel on the chartered buses or $12.50 for adults who drive. Children's fare is $12.50, bus included, or $7.50 if driving). My party will include ..... children under six years of age. My party will (please check one) travel by bus.....; drive our car .....

W. T. Grant's Is Now First Chain In Industry To Offer Stamp Plan

W. T. Grant, national general merchandise store chain, began distributing S&H Green Stamps here and in its other central region stores May 10, according to D. D. Michalak, district manager.

In making the announcement, Michalak said:

"We are happy to announce this additional benefit for Grant customers. By being the first in our industry to offer a stamp plan, we have secured a nation-wide, 65½-year old company, Sperry and Hutchinson, with an outstanding record of providing highest quality merchandise and service."

Issuance of S&H Green Stamps in W. T. Grant stores in the Central Region follows inauguration last month of Green Stamps in Grant's New England, Eastern, and Southern regions.

William S. Beinecke, president of the Sperry and Hutchinson Company, said that he was proud to welcome W. T. Grant Company stores to the roster of 90,000 business establishments.

Nationally, S&H operates 700 redemption centers.

S&H reports it spent more than $22,000,000 in the past year in the purchase of products made in the area.

The Columbus W. T. Grant Company store managers, Anthony Castelli of Great Southern, Harry Collins of Great Western and Joseph Spreviero of Great Western, have completed all arrangements for the introduction for the program.

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS

Camp Alfred L. Willson, the Columbus Y.M.C.A.'s beautiful 337-acre summer camp for boys, between the ages of eight and seventeen, will begin its 49th season on Sunday, June 18, and continue for the summer.

Located near Bellefontaine, Ohio, Camp Willson lies in a natural wooded area and contains sparkling, 70-acre Lake Mac-O-Chee, ideally suited for swimming, boating, canoeing and fishing.

A trained Camp Director is on duty at all times. The camp staff is composed of college graduates and undergraduates with previous camp experience. Each counselor is an outstanding leader and is carefully selected. A medical student is a member of the staff.

"Adventure Through Nature," Camp Willson's program, is carefully planned so that boys share the happy friendship of a group learning and living together.

Daily activities include baseball, tennis, archery, cookouts, chuckwagon feeds, and arts and crafts. Evening programs include camp fires and Indian ceremonies, talent shows and many others.

Ten campers with a counselor are housed in well-built cabins. Food is of the best quality, served attractively and in generous amounts to suit hearty appetites.

Camp Willson is a non-profit operation. Funds from the United Community Council and the reasonable camp fees are used to provide the best facilities for the boys and to maintain the camp.

IDLE HOUR GUIDE . . .

'State Fair' On Probe–May 11 Flippo Special–'Time to Trade'

A special fast-paced program of eight-cylinder hilarity will roll into the living rooms of Central Ohio on Channel 10 Thursday night.

The Flippo Special — "Time To Trade" will be seen at 8 p.m. This show will take automobiles as its theme, with Flippo the clown illustrating in zany fashion that now is the best time to trade for a new model car.

Robinson

Flippo will be assisted by Zada Van Deorn as Mrs. Rinky Doo whose auto runs a close second to Jack Benny's famous Maxwell, all for fun. It is to be a live-studio presentation, supplemented by film clips including some of the old time automobile scenes. A studio audience of auto dealers and their families will be on hand for the activity, attempting to keep Flippo on the straight and narrow.

"PROBE" — "STATE FAIR" ON WLW-C, Thursday night at 7 p.m. In recent years, the state of Ohio's Fair has been criticized for the decline in attendance, poor buildings, lack of appeal to the urban population, lack of continuity in programming and for many other factors. "Probe," will seek to establish the reasons for these conditions and will try to find what is being done to correct them.

"Probe" actually will examine the role of a state fair. The Governor's cabinet committee recently heard a report on the fair. House Bill 617 seeks to establish a separate State Fair Commission. "Probe" will measure these two separate reports. Guests to be seen include, Agriculture Secretary Robert Terhune, the Fair Manager Rowland Bishop and many interested private citizens.

VIEWING NOTES FOR THE FUTURE . . . Spring Byington becomes a member of the cast of NBC-TV's "Laramie". next season as the western sets out to increase its popularity among the women viewers . . . "G.E. College Bowl," recent winner of a Peabody award, returns to CBS-TV for its fourth season on Sunday, Sept. 24 after a summer vacation. One of the "DuPont Show Of The Week" presentation on NBC-TV next season will be a tribute to the USO which will observe its 20th birthday next year. Lee Marvin portrays a mobster on "The Untouchables," for June 1. The Channel 6, ABC-TV episode is called, "The Nick Acropolis Story."

Burr Tillstrom's "Kukla and Ollie" puppets are now expected to return with a regular NBC-TV fall series. (I sincerely hope so). "Continental Classroom," NBC-TV and Channel 4, which ends its early-morning math and chemistry courses May 26, may turn up on another network by fall. A sponsor conflict may prevent Bill Cullen from replacing Arthur Godfrey on the popular Sunday night series, "Candid Camera." While speaking of Cullen, Bill will do his nighttime "Price Is Right," on Mondays, next fall, moving from the Wednesday night slot. "Glen Miller Time," a taped musical series featuring the Ray McKinley orchestra will be a summer replacement for "Hennessey" on CBS-TV and Channel 10 beginning July 17.

"RAILROADS: END OF THE LINE?" . . . What is happening to American railroads and the passengers that ride and depend on them? Why are U. S. railroads in serious trouble today? Sun's Warm Rays Nudging Fish Into Bait-Snapping Ideas

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Fishing is off and running at Hoover Reservoir, according to M. T. Crosby at Paul's Marine Supply. "We need some warmer weather before a lot of fishermen venture out," he commented. "This is just the start."

Crappies, bass, catfish and walleyes have been showing up on fishermen's stringers at the large water supply reservoir north of here. Most numerous, as you would expect, are crappies. Many fishermen in these parts start their season on the crappies and they hit consistently early. Small minnows are the preferred bait.

Running a close second in recent days has been the channel catfish. These are being taken on nightcrawlers and large chub minnows for the most part. The largest one checked in so far has been a 14-pounder caught by Bob Scorles. Many smaller ones, however, have been reported.

Bass are beginning to show up better as the water slowly warms. Live bait has been most successful to date, but artificials are beginning to take some. Often, some of the biggest bass taken all year are caught early. The bass at Hoover so far are running up to four pounds, but a real lunker may show up anytime.

Nice Catches Reported

Some nice walleyes are being reported — 18 and 19 inches long. These weigh from two and one-half to three pounds. Best baits are nightcrawlers and plugs.

Other fishing reports have been rolling in. The Maple Swamp area of Buckeye Lake has been giving up some nice bass. This is shallow water, and it warms more rapidly than the rest of the lake.

Tom Maggard, West Jefferson, had a good day on Deer Creek. Fishing nightcrawlers he took two carp that appeared to be twins. They each weighed nine pounds, and gave his fishing tackle quite a work out. He also took a few rock bass, but no catfish or small mouth bass.

The first good largemouth bass fishing of the year is usually in farm ponds. The water is clear for the most part permitting the sun's rays to penetrate. A bass apparently feels like you do after a long hard winter — he likes to bask in the first sunshine of spring. This therapeutic treatment whets his appetite and he starts to gobble in the calories. He will gobble in artificial baits and nightcrawlers just as readily.

A few early bass are taken every year, some just after the ice goes out. But these are lethargic fish, no fun to hook and no fun to land. For fast fishing you want to hit the feeding spree the fish go on before spawning. This started about two weeks ago in Burr Oak Lake down in Athens County. It's starting now in farm ponds and the shallow bays of larger waters. In a week or so, the deeper lakes such as Hoover will be giving up more bass.

About the same time smallmouth bass in streams will be hitting.

If you must go fishing early, and most of us do, then be content with crappies. Let the bass thaw out a little — but not too long.

First Editions Of 11th 'Lions Tale' Sold To Businessmen Tuesday

There's a rumor currently circulating around the Hilltop that local Lions will present their biggest and best "Lions Tale" newspaper tomorrow night (Thursday).

But, regardless, this year's big 11th Annual Hilltop Lions Tale is a proud story and reports are that they had trouble telling it all in 12 pages.

Members of the Lions Club — along with a number of other civic-minded men — will knock on more than 15,000 doors on the Hilltop and West Side Thursday evening in the 11th annual newspaper sale.

A pre-street auction of "first editions" of the newspaper following a banquet at noon Tuesday at Holiday Inn served as the "kickoff." Many enjoyed spirited bidding under the skillful persuasion of auctioneer Clarence Latham, of Hilliard.

"This year's Hilltop Lions Tale is in the form of an annual report of progress to the community," said Erv Schmidt, general chairman.

"It shows how our club worked for a record-smashing year in sight saving work and other activities for the benefit of the two neighborhoods," he said.

Start At West High

Volunteer salesmen will meet in the West High cafeteria at 5:30 p.m. Thursday. After a supper served by the Hilltop Lions Ladies Auxiliary, they will meet with team captains and receive their filled paper sacks and indentification caps before beginning the door-to-door canvass of the two communities.

The special overseas-style cap bearing the Lions emblem will serve as identification of salesmen in accordance with Charity Solicitation Law of Columbus.

"All who answer their door will be asked to join in the good works of the Hilltop Lions Club' by purchasing a copy of the paper for whatever amount they wish to pay," Schmidt said.

"Those not at home will also receive a paper and on the front page they will find direction for mailing voluntary gifts to the club," said Schmidt.

All monies collected in this annual paper sale go into the work of the five service committees of the club.

In the ten years since the first newspaper sale, the club has spent $52,700 on behalf of the community. Most of these funds have been raised in the annual sale of "The Hilltop Lions Tale."

Publishing of the paper is made possible by the advertising of public-spirited merchants business and service organizations and professional people. This year's advertising campaign was directed by Lion Dick Fagan.

Clubs, Industries Help

Hilltop Kiwanis, 21; Hilltop Y's Men's Club, 21; Georgian Heights Civic Club, 22; Westinghouse, 24; F. W. Sloter Co., 12; General Motors, 30.

The Engineering Laboratory of North Americas Aviation also of North American Aviation also offered 17 men to help the Lions tell their tale.

Taking a preview look at the big edition, it describes expenditures of $3500 for sight saving, $1000 for health, education and welfare, $1500 for community betterment, $1500 for local boys and girls and $1000 for the big July 4th celebration at West High's Magly Stadium.

Open your doors, purses and hearts May 18 — tomorrow night — as your Lions roar to tell their "tale!"

Four $100 bids from the Buckingham Brothers, Ed Tonti, Jerry Spears, Sr., and Pat Wood ranked among the top bids in the spirited proceedings led by auctioneer Clarence Latham.

In all, the Lions raised some $[illegible] during the bidding following a noon luncheon. The paper, itself, goes on sale Thursday evening door-to-door and on street corners.

June Jubilee Preparations Entering Their Final Stages

The tickets — offering either free or discount admission to rides at the annual event—are being distributed by area merchants.

Ten-cent discount tickets are being given away by all businessmen with any purchase, according to a member of the Jubilee Committee.

Free admission tickets are being offered with a minimum purchase by a limited number, West Side merchants, he said.

The Jubilee, sponsored annually by the West Side Board of Trade, will be held this year June 5 through 10 at Sunshine Recreation Center.

In other new developments, Ater announced that the Hilliard Central High School Marching Band will participate in the opening day festivities.

The Central Band has not marched in the parade for several years.

Ater said that plans for rides to be furnished for the Jubilee by Gooding Amusement Co., are in their final stages, and that he expected a report sometime next week.

Among the new attractions at this year's event will be:

A refurbished automobile which patrons will be permitted to smash with sledgehammers.

A greased pole climb in which customers have an opportunity to compete for a prize at the top of the pole.

And a greased pig chase, in which a well-oiled porker will be turned loose for anyone to catch.

Ater also announced that the judges for the June Jubilee queen contest will be Hugh DeMoss, Gene Fullen, Nita Hutch, Robert M. Draper and John C. Young.

Unemployment And [illegible]

We continue another installment of the article from R. R. Fling:

In recent years masses of men have descended upon Ohio from the Appalachians, Vermont to Mississippi and into the swamps of Louisiana. They may not know how to write but they soon learn how to get on Ohio's lush unemployment. They are smart. We ought to cash in on this new asset.

In 1937 Ohio passed an unemployment law and built up a reserve of over $600 million, to protect the workers' families. The reserve has dwindled almost a half billion dollars. In 1959 the Legislature raised benefits about one-third. In 14 months $180 million went out more than came in, probably most of it to families who had done nothing whatever to earn it. Small business men who had spent 20 years building a splendid record had that record shattered in one year. If a drifter wants to winter in Arizona at our expense he can. The "red balance" employer is helpless and "big business" advises raising his rate. There is no limit to the asking of bums looking for a handout.

When Rome started "free grain" mobs from all over the world moved in, she quickly became terrorized and the "Glory that was Rome's" vanished. Organized labor stands to lose most. Once their leadership ties up

Woes Of Urban Life Aired At Council Meet

By Marcus Orr

Those attending West Side Neighborhood Council last Thursday night were told that the city can perform many special services but "in order to get some of them you have to ask for them."

Croft Merrit, assistant city service director, said his department's divisions are so thinly staffed that they spend most of their time following up complaints, rather than looking for work.

His words were echoed in a similar way by Felton Simmons, a supervisor for the Health Department. A third guest from the municipal offices was Bill Clark of the Welfare Department. All were invited to the community meeting at Gladden House mainly to answer questions posed by home owners.

Hearers were told that: the intensified cleanup campaign will come about early in June (residents will be notified at least a week in advance; all streets will be cleaned this summer (streets will be posted and abandoned cars will be removed); weedy lots and stopped up storm sewers should be reported; the "johns on John-st" will be eliminated; it's illegal to park cars longer than 24 hours in a street or alley; a new insecticide will be used on the city dump (near Hartford-av) this summer; and that the flooding of West Side streets is "nothing that $78 million wouldn't cure."

It was announced that Glenn Beech has been appointed new chairman of the WSNC Health committee. A meeting of the group was expected to follow within a week to map out the

UA Earmarks $225,354 For Hilltop, West Side

A total of $225,354 in United Appeal funds has been earmarked to help agencies located on the West Side and Hilltop meet the needs of the people they serve during the coming year.

In the past 12 months these agencies have served a total of 9,694 people with help of the UA funds.

These service and financial figures were released this week by Director Herman Alter, as part of UA's "Thanks To You" report on the use being made of contributed funds.

The allocations and number served by West Side and Hilltop agencies:

Friends Rescue Home, 188 served, $8,129; Goodwill Industries, 684 served, $29,845; Gladden Community House, 1,307 served, $44,906 and Rosemont School, 103 served, $35,024.

West Side Day Care Center, 85 served, $41,263; Boy's Clubs of Columbus-West Side, 515 served, $36,230; Volunteers of America, 5,273 served, $16,108; YMCA-Hilltop, 1,574 served, $23,849.

In all, the organization reported that about one out of three persons in Franklin County benefit directly from UA services.

The UA office announced that a complete down-to-the penny breakdown on the distribution of funds is contained in a printed sheet which was delivered to every home in the county. The printed sheet also includes a guide to proper use of UA services, according to Alter.

The theme of the "Thanks To

Bids Near On Center For Elderly

Thursday, June 8 is the date selected for opening of bids for the West Side's $2,612,000 senior citizens housing and recreation center.

The action will take place at 2 p.m. at Builders Exchange, Dublin-rd. Actual work may be under way as early as July 1, said Director Russell M. Taylor of the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority. Construction is expected to extend over 18 months.

The unique center for the elderly will occupy 3.7 acres just north of Sunshine Park. It will include an 11-story apartment of 188 low-rental living units, separated in a garden-like layout from a new Golden Age Community Club. The latter will be open as a recreational facility to older people from all over the city. It will be operated by the Columbus Recreation Department.

HCC Unfurls Recreation Report, Honors Member

The Hilltop Community Council's recreation survey bore fruit Thursday night.

A committee headed by Betty Chapman presented a report of its findings and suggested a five-point program to improve recreational opportunities.

In general, the committee found:

1. A lack of parents' concern as to where their children are and what they are doing.

2. Need for broader programs of teaching sports, athletics and creative skills to all.

3. A great need for large scale facilities on the Hilltop, including additional community centers, more swimming facilities, ice and roller skating rinks, playgrounds and parks.

The report explained that existing facilities and programs on the Hilltop are of "good quality" but that "the great majority of people do not utilize them."

It uncovered a wide divergence of opinions among persons questioned, according to Mrs. Chapman.

Some felt both recreational facilities and programs were adequate; others that facilities were fine but that programs could be improved; and still others thought neither were "up to snuff."

The report, emphasizing the importance of individual initiative, recommended everyone should:

Analyze the recreational activities of his family; be alert to what is going on the way of such activities in the community; study the activities of groups of which we are a part and see how they can be improved; support the formation of a committee to co-ordinate the activities of groups concerned with recreation; help promote new recreational interests in the community.

Mrs. Booth Honored

In other action, the organization honored Mrs. H. C. Booth

Way Opens For Clime-rd Park, Council Appropriates $400,000

Citizens in the Clime-rd area on Columbus' extreme southwest side may soon have a park of their own.

The way for the long-planned recreation facility was cleared Thursday when Common Pleas Judge Joseph M. Harter ruled that a $5 million park bond issue approved in November was legal.

The validity of the bond issue had been questioned because of wording on the ballot.

Monday, the Columbus City Council approved issuance of $400,000 worth of bonds to finance the proposed purchase of a park site in the Clime-rd area.

No specific property for the park has as yet been purchased, according to Ray Dietz, superintendent of parks and forestry.

He pointed out that the improvement program authorized by the council, including several other parks in the city, would be conducted over a five year period.

However, the city had previously indicated an interest in a 100-acre site to the south of an S-curve between Georgesville and Demorest-rds.

Dietz has said the site, which is under option to the city, "could easily become our most

BILL THREATENS RAIL REVIVAL

Our friends in the railroad industry have put out the caution that our law makers would do well to look and listen — and stop passage of a bill now before the U. S. Senate.

Known as Senate Bill 1197 it, in effect, would water down some of the rate-pricing freedoms which the railroads gained with the enactment of the Transportation Act of 1958. A driving force behind the new effort is James Hoffa of the Teamsters.

Over the years since 1906 the Interstate Commerce Commission has denied railroads the right to set lower, more competitive rates because they might take too much business away from the trucks or water carriers.

An amendment to the Transportation Act of 1958 took away some of this ICC-imposed "umbrella" rate pricing and gave the railroads more opportunity to compete. Since then rail traffic has increased — the shipment of new automobiles by flatcar, in particular. Rail officials point out that some trainloads leaving Detroit carry as many as 1800 new autos. It takes a crew of five men to operate the train. It would take nearly 300 truck drivers to transport the same number of autos.

It can be seen that the railroads have a sizeable inherent economic advantage over their competitors. Now the Hoffa interests want Congress to re-establish the old ICC controls over rates.

If Congress believes that its job is to see that traffic is "divvied up," the proposed Hoffa bill will return that right to the ICC.

Railroads say that in America free enterprise, too, has rights, and that in our system competitive economics, not government, should decide who gets the business.

Is there anything wrong in America with low prices?

A STARK MESSAGE is implied in this photo released by the Columbus Police Department. It serves to impress this alarming statistic on parents: During the first week of May, Columbus had a total of 16 traffic pedestrian injuries. Thirteen of these victims were children under ten years of age who were running or playing in the streets. In most cases, like this the motorist is not at fault. Chief George W. Scholer strongly urges all parents to keep their children out of the streets. One out of every 55 personal injury accidents is fatal. Will your child be next?

Food Market This Week

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits —Pineapple, grapefruit, bananas, strawberries, rhubarb.

It's good news for all food shoppers that beef supplies are running about 10 per cent above a year ago. While the total beef supply normally declines slightly during the April-June period, prospects are good for relatively large supplies for some time to come this year. A large part of the spring supply is made up of the better grades, since large numbers of grain-fed cattle move from feedlots to market during this period.

This increase in choice beef is significant since this grade makes up the largest part of our retail supply of fresh beef. Who gets the prime? Prime grade is used largely by restaurants, hotels, and kosher meat trade.

In contrast, you will find supplies of cow beef are seasonally smaller than in past months—less meat for ground beef, hamburger, and the lower grades of beef.

What about prices? Price effects of these seasonal changes must be considered in view of the relative prices of other meats. Low prices on poultry, pork and lamb offer strong competition to beef. In general, you can expect the usual decline in the price of all chuck cuts, some standing rib roasts and round steaks—which are less in demand as the weather becomes warmer.

SPRING ITEMS FOR GOOD EATING

Asparagus from local farms is succulent and tender. It will disappear shortly, so use it to the limit while you can get it with that delicate fresh flavor. With favorable growing weather there will still be time to tuck away a few packages in your freezer.

Strawberry harvest moves nearer home each week and supplies are increasing. The strawberry is another "weather item," but with enough sunshine, strawberry prices are likely to be at their low point during the next two weeks.

Local berries are three to four weeks in the future. You can likely expect local berries, with their deep red color and vine-ripened flavor between June 10 and 20.

The grapefruit season is a long one this year, and a delight to citrus lovers. From now on the small white meated ones will be the best in quality.

Watermelon supplies are increasing and you can expect more cantaloups soon, since California shipments are expected to start this week.

Speedway To Cover Track With A Roof

Still another improvement is scheduled for C-S Park Speedways near Lancaster is planned. The latest addition will be a roof over the blacktop speedway and grandstands.

New speakers are also ordered and will be installed, and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Beldon of Gahanna, will be the public address announcers. The additions are just part of the park's building program to insure greater safety and comfort.

Presently the track operates every Friday night, Sunday afternoons and holidays. The next big event will be the Memorial Day Championship set for 2 p.m. with the pits opening at noon. A business meeting is set for May 18 followed by dancing and entertainment.

DAV Chapter Sets Induction Exercise May 15

Capital City Chapter 2 of the Disabled American Veterans will hold an induction May 15 at the Veteran's Memorial. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

A large class is expected, according to Publicity Chairman H. O. Parke.

The chapter will elect officers for 1961-62 on June 5. Installation will be June 19. The chapter's auxiliary will elect and install on the same dates. Chapter 2 has a membership of 1,115.

Parke urged members to write their congressmen in regard to the proposed 15 per cent increase in service connected compensation.

The chapter and Barracks 461 of the Veterans of World War I will present the Daughters of the Confederacy with an American flag at Jefferson Davis Birthday Ceremonies at the Confederate Cemetery June 4. Camp Chase Post of the American Legion will be in charge of raising the flag and other activities.

MRS. RICHARD CALEB NAIRN

Westgate EUB Scene Of Myers-Nairn Wedding

A large sunburst arrangement of pink snapdragons and Scottish heather banked the main altar of Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church, and two 32-branch tree candelabra with pink tapers were placed on either side for the wedding of Miss Linda Ruth Myers and Mr. Richard Caleb Nairn, Mar. 18.

Fourteen - branched pink candelabra and jade foliage trees were placed on either side of the chancel.

Rev. Harold Dutt read the marriage service at 2:30 p.m.

The new Mrs. Nairn is the daughter of Mrs. Flossie Myers, 107 N. Hague-av, and the late Mr. Donald E. Myers. Mr. Nairn's parents are Mrs. Bruce Weiner and Mr. Richard V. Nairn of Newark.

The bridal gown of white chantilly lace and tulle was designed with a lace bodice, high neck, short sleeves and floor-length skirt accented with diamond points of lace.

SNEAKERS

Call them sneakers, tennis shoes or KEDS or what have you . . . for the small-fry, they're a part of modern living. Parents ask me if I think they're good for feet. Well, back I was a little kid running around Center St. down in the bottoms, tennis shoes were ill-fitting, smelly things but, like a lot of other things, they're different now. If you get good ones withh support built in, I think they give almost the same efect as going bare-footed on the ground. And in many cases the child ends up the Summer with stronger feet than he had in the Spring. If there is any doubt, check with your pediatrician. If your kids get sneakers, take them where they will be fitted and get good ones . . . you'll save in the long run by protecting the child's feet. The ones made in Japan look like ours but they fall short on fit and quality. BUY AMERICAN! The job you save, may be your own.

West Runs Second Best In Hilltop Relays

Special Meeting Planned For West Football Payers

And Cowboy Coach William Schmitter has scheduled a special meeting May 22—for boys who have played football during the past two years—to make dental impressions for individual mouth protectors for the coming year.

The meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. in Room 135 at the school. Boys with less playing experience will have dental impressions taken later in the summer.

HILLTOP RELAY QUEENS

Well, almost but not quite . . . again! The West tracksters found themselves the "bridesmaids" at the 15th annual Hilltop Relays last Wednesday evening at Magly Field, for the sixth time since the Relays were instigated in 1946.

And by what a margin of miss too . . . it was by far the closest that West has come to winning their own Relays. As West head track mentor, Rufe Glass, put it, "Second is all right, but I'd sure like to win that sometime." The final margin of victory for South, in winning its first Relays here, was by less than two points over the Cowboys. (Incidentally the last time that West came the closest to winning they went on to take the City Meet . . . so we shall wait and see.)

The final results . . . South 63, West 61-24/42, East 59-4/21, Linden McKinley 30-3/7, North 45-13/14, Central 39-16/21.

Those fractions ought to keep the statisticans busy for awhile. There are always a lot of "Ifs" in a close-almost situation like this as hindsight is always better than foresight. But if the Cowboys could only have picked up those two points during the evening . . . and there were so many places that it might have been done . . . that it would take too many pages to list theme. But such is the wonder and mystery and interest of athletics.

West firsts in the Relays were taken by . . . Burr Miles in the 120 high hurdles, Terry Barnett tied for first in the pole vault, and shuttle hurdle relay team of Miles, Barnett, Jerry Claytor and Dwight Newman took the "cake."

Lemon Pollard, with 15 points took the individual trophy. There were no new records set this year. Both special (440-880) junior high relays were won by Upper Arlington. The crowd was estimated at between 15-1800.

At the 16th annual Upper Arlington Relays run under the lights last Friday evening, West ran strong winning one first (Jerry Claytor winning the broad jump with leap of 20' 2½") and took third place in a field of nine teams. Winning the affair was a tough Worthington crew with 63-7/10 points followed by another very strong squad, host Upper Arlington with 61⅝. West finished with 47-7/10.

PIT PATTER

By Bill Gray

Columbus Motor Speedway opened its 1961 season Sunday when 5,000 fans showed up to watch Jim Cushman take the lead in the 21st lap of the 50 lap feature race and come in the winner. He was trailed across the finish line by Ralph O'Day and Johnny Wymer, both of Columbus, Wayne McGuire, Ashland, Ky., and John Campbell of Urbana.

There were 24 starters in the feature. Bob Smith started in the lead. Johnny Wymer took over the lead in the third lap and held that position until the 12th when Elzie Whetnall took over. On the 21st lap Jim Cushman took over the number one spot and held it the rest of the way.

Walt Scherer, Wymer and Smith took the 3, 10 lap heat races. The two semi-finals were taken by Elzie Whetnall and Jerry Poland. The Australian Pursuit was taken by Tony Santarelli.

The South Side plant will open this Sunday evening with racing starting at 8. There will be no time trials, which should get the racing started on time as well as prove very interesting. Friday night racing as well as regular Sunday night will start May 26th.

Dienst Memorial At Beulah Saturday

GROVE CITY, May — The memory of Robert J. Dienst will be honored at Beulah Park Saturday, when the Robert J. Dienst Memorial Handicap is run for the second time. The race is worth $6,000 and will be contested at the mile and a sixteenth distance.

Dienst, who served as Beulah Park's treasurer from 1933 to 1937 and then was its president and general manager until his sudden death just before the opening of the 1950 fall meeting, was one of Ohio's best known supporters of racing.

of 389 S. Brinker, a member of the council since its founding in 1944.

Mrs. Booth, a Hilltop resident for 30 years, is retiring from active participation. She will remain an associate member.

Bob Frakes, president, presented Mrs. Booth, a citation and an orchid "in appreciation of her outstanding service to the council."

During her tenure with the council, she has served as chairman of the camp committee, the public relations committee, the youth service committee, and as a member of the civil improvements committee. Mrs. Booth also helped draw up the council's by-laws.

An inspection of Hilltop parks sponsored by the council revealed the need for general clean-up and repair, according to a committee report.

All four showed signs of vandalism, with windows and light bulbs broken and walls defaced.

The committee also recommended that City Supervisor of Parks Ray Dietz be commended for continuing efforts to beautify Hilltop parks.

Scheduled Events

June 8 — Annual family picnic, potluck style.

Parkways Controversial

Suggestions made years ago by the Parks and Forestry Department and revived recently in talks by Director Ray Dietz touched off a variety of responses at Thursday's meeting. It had been proposed that further development of center parkways, such as on West Park-st and Dakota-av would "help" the areas.

Several residents took issue with the fencing off of the parkways, saying it would attract children from other neighborhoods and cause a traffic hazard.

"There's very destructive play at these spots now," one woman commented. "I believe that if some swings, slides and the like were put there it would attract the younger set. It's the teenagers who play hardball that give us trouble."

"Who wants a fence in front of his house," one man retorted. Another added that the little parks simply were not fit for development. A third remarked that "crabby neighbors are the problem — they don't like kids in the first place." "But wait until that baseball goes through your windshield and you'll be one of them," was another reply.

The "better parks" proposal went unresolved.

Next meeting of the executive board of the Neighborhood Council will be held at Gladden Thursday, June 8. The council itself will suspend meetings until Sept. 14.

West Follows Win, Lose Pattern

In recent weeks West baseballers have followed a pattern of winning all their games one week and losing all the next. Last week was one of those "down" weeks. After winning their lone City League encounter and first tourney contest two weeks ago it looked like they might keep winning.

But last week they lost their second tournament outing, dropping out of the District Class AA warring with an extra inning 5-3 loss to Washington Court House. And this set the week's pace. Then followed two City League losses. They dropped a 7-3 decision to North and a 5-2 at Eastmoor.

Last night they traveled for a City Loop fray at East and then travel for another one at Linden McKinley on Friday. Both are return matches. The Cowboys previously having beaten East at West 6-3 and having lost 1-0 at Linden, the victims of a no-hitter. The Broncos finish their 1961 campaign next Tuesday traveling to Central. They beat the Pirates 1-0 in an earlier meeting this spring also. West also has a league makeup to schedule in with Marion-Franklin in the next few days.

Following their tourney pattern of last spring, winning their first tournament outing handily on the road and then returning home to lose their second tourney clash in a tight pitchers' duel in extra innings. It took only nine innings this year for Washington C. H. to take home the win.

West hurler Jim Thornton was in trouble most of the way, yielding 11 hits, but managed to pitch his way out until the final inning. Meanwhile, after their 11 hit assault in their first tourney game, West was only able to collect seven off Wash. C. H. pitcher Ernie Herman. In striking out 10, Thornton had perfect control, not issuing a single walk all afternoon. Meantime Herman was also striking out 10 but gave up one base on balls.

This contest saw the greatest amount of extra base blows in a West game this spring, but unfortunately Wash. C. H. was on the end of the real big blows, two home runs, each a two-run blast. And each was hit over a temporary rope that greatly shortened left field, but was up for the Hilltop Relays to be run later that evening.

Gary Alwood paced the West attack with three hits including a double while Gary Clark had two singles. Glenn Rohrer and Jack Trotter each had one hit. West only committed two errors to their four. Alwood's double, and a couple other West blows, might have gone for much more but the balls were stopping almost dead once they hit the damp grass. His mighty smack would probably have rolled quite a ways in deep right center.

Wash. C.H.	000	120	002	5	11	4

The Cowboys all three of their runs at North in the third inning as Steve Takos led off with a walk. Hurler Bill Karn sacrificed him along. Neely then singled as did Clark and both advanced on a wild pitch. Ross then struck out but Alwood, putting his clean up position to good use, smashed out a triple (it bounced into the stands).

Alwood also got a double to pace the Cowboy attack. Only singles were garnered by Neely, Clark and Rohrer. West committed three bobbles afield to North's one while the Polar Bears were pounding out 11 hits off Karn. West was the victim of a double play in the second, caught a North lad who didn't touch second going around and Karn gave up two extra base blows, both doubles.

On Friday West traveled to Eastmoor and took it on the chin again. With Thornton home sick and Karn with a sore arm, Coach Bill Schmitter had his pitching problems. Ross finally took the mound the last three innings until relieved by sophomore hurler Mike Porter. Ross struck out none and issued five walks and five hits while in. Porter struck out two and walked one during his tour.

Spectator—

with nonmember ignorant mobs they will have stinking and ruthless bed fellows.

Ohio's workmen will demand and get justice. A family which has saved for years will not stand for their substance being wasted by forces beyond their control. If morals permit such injustice better change our morals. Better yet find an honorable solution to unemployment.

We could start technical institutes over the state. We could require every man on unemployment to attend these schools. This would improve the employe's chance for the future, and bring wealth to the State in a pool of skilled labor. It would also avoid the degrading, character corroding, effects that paid idleness forms on the unemployed.

If labor contributed they would help police waste of the funds better than employers or the BUC can hope to do. If some unemployed had to choose a tough school or work, maybe they would locate jobs sooner. Training could help to place a man in work for which he is suited. If a workman could not learn in some field, he belongs on relief, not unemployment.

There are thousands of the unemployed who never will get their former jobs back because of automation or market change or because they were misfits. Research for new jobs ought to accompany retraining programs. Whole industries might be saved. (Example, ceramics.) Several times our present unemployed could be used in education, training, development research and basic science research. It would take time but time marches on while we bicker over a quarter million here, four million there. Petty men.

What are you going to do about it?

SIGN BEAMS SUNSHINE'S LOCATION

SOMETHING NEW at Sunshine Park is this sign, the first ever erected as identification for the center. Done in etched redwood, it bears the official Columbus Recreation Department emblem which was adopted last year. It is located at the northwest corner of the park, where it may be easily viewed from Sullivant-av and the expressway. Representing local organizations who helped to secure the new sign are Mrs. Eva Seely, president of the Sunshine Advisory Council, and Robert Morton, president West Side Board of Trade. At the right is Donald McCann, director of Sunshine Center

Gra-Y Relays Date Draws Near; 12 Schools Participate

The excitement is building up among many local small fry in the Hilltop area over the coming of the second annual Gra-Y relays to be held next Saturady, May 20, 9 a.m. at West High Magly Field under the sponsorship of the Hilltop Y's Men's Club.

Boys in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, representing 12 schools in the West Side, and Hilltop, will be competing with each other in several track events. The climax is when one of the school teams walking off with the rotating trophy which is awarded annually to the team which racks up the most points totaled from all the various events.

In addition to the school trophy, each boy participating will receive a special felt patch to wear on jacket or sweater, to denote those events he took part in.

The awards will be presented to the boys after the meet by a leading sports figure of Columbus.

A public address system will be set up to announce the name of each boy as he comes up in the events to keep the spectators informed throughout the program.

This is a big day for these young athletes, so a good turn out of parents, relatives and friends to cheer them on will be welcomed.

Underwood Is On 'Amphon'

Richard W. Underwood, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Underwood of 22 N. Central-av, is serving aboard the repair ship USS Amphion operating out of Norfolk, Va.

Junior Jet Baseball Applications Available

Junior Jet League baseball applications will be available in all Columbus Schools this week for all 8 through 12 year old boys who may be interested in playing baseball this summer in the Columbus Recreation Department's Junior Jet League Program. The applications should be taken home, filled out by parents, and returned to the school by Friday, May 19.

The Columbus Recreation Department has designed this popular program so that every boy will be on a team, and play in every game regardless of size or ability. The main objective is to provide an opportunity for boys to learn how to play baseball by actually playing under qualified leadership with ample safety precautions.

The local recreation department provides the professional leadership, playing facilities, and equipment while various civic and fraternal groups provide T-shirts for all players in the various leagues.

Last year 263 teams played two games a week throughout the summer involving approximately 5,000 boys. A greater number of teams is expected in this year's program and several new league areas will be established. This newspaper will publish the locations of all the leagues in this area during the week of June 5.

In view of the expected increase in teams and leagues this summer, any additional civic or fraternal group may contact Jerry Feddersen at the Columbus Recreation Department (CA. 1-2211, Ext. 282) if they are interested in sponsorship of a league in their community.

scenic city park."

He explained that improvements at the planned park would cost the city between $100,000 and $150,000.

Dietz has said that the park would not be opened to the public this year even if it is purchased now because improvement funds have not yet been allocated.

The Parks Supervisor also said Tuesday that a new boating and fishing park on the Scioto River north of Greenlawn Dam will be opened for the first time Saturday.

First event at the new facility will be the armed forces day program, "Operation Frog man," he said.

Boats are forbidden in the area now, but River Patrol Chief Lloyd Vest has prepared a new regulation for City Council action to allow controlled boating.

Mayor Ralston Westlake has said "the section is a perfect spot for fishing boats and rowboats."

South of the Main-st bridge, the Scioto River widens and contains several scenic islands. It is navigable for 1.25 miles north of Greenlawn Dam.

A boat launching dock and two ramps, plus a cinder parking lot for autos have been installed on the east bank of the river, just off of W. Whittier-st, north of Greenlawn-av.

Honor Candidates Picked

Twenty-one boy scouts from nine troops of the Southwest District were "tapped out" at campfire ceremonies at the recent Spring Camporee, thus becoming candidates for initiation into the Order of Arrow, honorary campers' lodge. They were put through the first tests, silence and carrying a burden, represented by a log on a rope about the neck, worn for the balance of the camporee.

Allowat Sakima, or supreme chief, Gary Reynolds was in charge of the ritual team, made up of David Wright, Jack Kumer, Bill Yerian and Dick Nadelin. Other members of the Southwest District chapter of the honorary assisted with conducting elections of candidates in the district's troops.

Initiations will take place in June and August.

Annual Meeting Set

The Southwest District annual dinner meeting and recognition will be held Saturday, June 3 at the Boy Scout Reservation, Camp Lazarus.

This will be a potluck dinner, beginning at 4 p.m.

Recognition service for scouters and veterans, and installation of district officers, will be held in the evening.

On May 10, the Southwest District May Roundtable will be held at Westgate Methodist Church. Representatives of all troops and posts are urged to attend.

On May 20 there will be camp leaders' orientation.

Fox Patrol Are Winners

The winning patrol of the Spring Camporee held at Scioto Trails State Park on May 5, 6 and 7 was the Fox Patrol of Troop 182, of the Hilltop Church of God. They accumulated 460 points in many skill contests. The prize was a king pin for their cook flap.

The following boys are members of this patrol: Steve Moran, John Mielke, John Wogrell, Warren Martindale, and Bill Arvin.

Billy Warrens, Steve Davies, David Van Meter, Bill Tier, Mike Zimmerman, Butch Early, Dennis Wesney, Kevin Jenkins, Don Shultz, David Clinger.

This will be a potluck dinner, beginning at 4 p.m.

Major league project is "The Lutheran Hour," weekly world-wide gospel broadcast which is integrated with the church's mission program.

The world's largest non-government radio broadcasting operation, "The Lutheran Hour," has a potential audience of more than a billion. It is heard locally over WMNI at 8:30 each Sunday.

Other LLL service programs include university scholarships, youth leadership training, aid to the blind and deaf, world relief, place-service, full utilization of senior citizens, and participation in church activities.

Feature speaker at the convention will be Wilbur H. Wiese, St. Louis, LLL headquarters representative. He will report on the league's world-wide program of Christian service.

Rabies Clinic PlannedMay 19

The Columbus Academy of Veterinary Medicine urges owners to cooperate with the compulsory rabies immunization regulations adopted by the Boards of Health of Columbus, Franklin County, Grandview Heights and Upper Arlington.

Pets owned by needy and low income families may be vaccinated at Columbus Academy of Veterinary Medicine Rabies Clinics. The second clinic will be held at the Columbus Health Center Garage May 19th from 1 to 3 in the afternoon. Charges for each animal vaccinated will be $1.50. Pet owners are requested to have their animals on a leash and under control.

Summer Fun Planned For Area Handicapped

At least 300 handicapped persons will get a taste of the outdoor life this summer thanks to a new organization in the Columbus area.

The group — Recreation Unlimited, Farm and Fun, Inc. — was formed a year and a half ago to provide recreational opportunities for the handicapped, according to Executive Director Richard Ruff.

It will primarily serve those crippled by polio, muscular dystrophy and cerebral palsy.

Major current projects are establishment of a permanent summer camp and a flourishing bowling league.

The soon-to-be built camp will give both children and adults a chance "to get out and spend 10 days in the country," according to Ruff.

It will be located on a 40-acre site north of Columbus between the Zoo and the Delaware County line. Land for the project was donated to Recreation Unlimited by Lee Solis, a Columbus insurance man.

Ruff said that the rapidly expanding organization has already received 300 applications from potential campers for this summer. Anyone interested should contact the group's headquarters at 1929 Wyandotte-rd; phone HU. 6-3302.

Last summer the organization utilized Indian Village and Camp St. Joseph's on a temporary basis to provide 10-day vacations for some 210 handicapped persons.

However, Ruff explained that the absence of ramps and other special facilities at the two camps make their further use impractical.

A survey was conducted by Ohio State University to determine actual need before the group decided to go ahead with plans for the permanent establishment, according to Ruff.

Work at the camp is scheduled to begin in mid-May. Plans call for construction of four cabins, kitchen, dining and recreational facilities for use this summer. Additional buildings are to be built later.

Ruff explained that the Recreation Unlimited program is financed through the sale of campership cards, $25.50 and ganizations and individuals. A campership cost $26.50 and maintains one person at the camp for 10 days.

The group does not participate in the United Appeal drive nor does it conduct a drive of its own, Ruff pointed out.

He stressed that the only paid employes are college students who serve as counselors at the camp. None of the officers receive a salary.

The organization's other current recreational project, a bowling league for handicapped children, meets one day each week at Olentangy Village.

Six teams participate.

CSG Offers Summer Education

The Columbus School For Girls Alumnae Association will, for the fourth summer, offer a six weeks summer program.

An approved and accredited course in driver education will be offered for the first time this summer. Robert Ringer, who teaches this course at Bexley High School, will be the instructor. Ringer uses a dual control car. Requirements for a credited driver education course are 36 hours of classroom instruction and 18 hours in the car with a minimum of six hours behind the wheel.

A 10 per cent reduction in automobile insurance is available to all young men passing this course. Students must be at least 15 and one-half years of age by June 19 to be eligible for instruction.

Ringer obtains temporary permits for all students under 18. He holds these permits, for a permit is valid only when he is instructing the pupil. Classroom instruction will be at 10 a.m. Monday through Friday. Driving instruction will be scheduled, three to a class, afternoons.

Russell Owen, of Bexley High School, will teach typing, 9 a.m. Monday through Friday. Classes for beginners will be held two hours daily (one hour of instruction and one hour of practice) five days a week. Boys and girls at the high school level, including the incoming freshmen, are eligible for the classes.

Instruction in tennis will be given this summer by Dorothy H. Sellery. Mrs. Sellery is secretary of the Upper Arlington Tennis Association. Three years ago she organized the Junior Wightman Cup Team and coached the girls of this team. The classes are limited to eight children, 11 or older. Instrpction will be in the morning and will be held each day regardless of weather conditions. Hours are 9:30 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and 1 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

Intermediate tennis, if there is a demand, will be taught by Larry Mets, teacher and tennis coach at Bexley High.

Franklin Village Art Show On Tap Saturday, Sunday

The children of Franklin Village will hold their third annual art exhibit on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, May 20, 21, from 1 to 5.

Purpose of the event is to provide a means for building better relationships between boys and girls at Franklin Village and the children with whom they are daily associated in classes at the Southwestern City Schools.

Closely aligned to this purpose, is the one of developing more understanding on the part of the parents of the children in these schools.

The exhibit will also provide another opportunity for all the citizens of Franklin County to see Franklin Village and to learn about the part it is playing in the life of the community, as well as the role the community is playing in the lives of its children.

The exhibit will consist of paintings, drawings and other art objects done in the schools by all the children.

There will be a special showing of the imaginative ceramic work undertaken by some of the boys and girls in their leisure-time activities at Franklin Village.

In addition to the display itself, there will be an "Open Door" welcome to visit some of the cottages. Members of the staff will be available to talk with visitors about the comprehensive services of the Franklin County Child Welfare Board.

This will be a chance for those of you who have wondered about and perhaps not always understood the functions of this program to have your questions answered, and to offer your suggestions and support to the staff.

The members of the Alpha Omega Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, a volunteer organization that has provided extensive service to the Child Welfare Board over the past ten years, will act as hostesses, in association with a number of teenagers from the Village. Ample parking space will be available, and the new throughway South to Frank Road (Ohio Rt. 3 or Interstate 71) makes the Village easily accessible within a short time from most any part of Columbus. A right turn from the Freeway, a left turn on Frank-rd, and a drive past two traffic lights and you are there!

BUSINESS REVIEW

AN INSTALLATION of siding by Slyh workmen is seen in this picture of the home of C. H. Campbell, 91 S. Westmoor-av.

Harold Slyh Keeps Watchful Eye On Workmanship

Quality products, experience and reasonable prices have long been recognized as the ingredients necessary to build a good reputation in the business world.

When Harold Slyh, 2343 Valleyview-dr, started his own business 14 years ago, he chose the products of Alside, a pioneer in the field of baked enamel aluminum siding. Alside is available in 13 colors, with more than 100 combinations of styles and colors, and its durability is seen in thousands of installations over the years.

Slyh's 17 years of experience in the roofing and siding field with a large organization served as a background for helping the home owner choose the product best suited to his needs and wishes.

Two brothers, Howard and Guy Cotbern, who have worked for Slyh the past eight years, are the second generation in their family to install Alside siding.

According to Slyh, this combination of quality and experience enables him to give the home owner a good installation at a reasonable price. Said Slyh, "We are proud that well over 90 per cent of our work comes from home owners who are referred to us by customers for whom we have installed siding."

He said Alside is not only a value improvement product, but it eliminates future painting and upkeep, modernizes the outward appearance of the house, and helps maintain even temperature.

Slyh has long been active in community affairs, currently serving as president of the Hilltop Business Association, and is a member of the Hilltop Kiwanis, Masonic Lodge 372, Shrine and Scottish Rite. The Slyhs live at 575 Chestershire-rd.

Those who are intent on advertising their troubles should be told that there is no market for them at present.

DE Students Will Enterain Businessmen

Twenty-five West High Distributive Education students will hold a banquet at noon Tuesday, May 23. It will be their way of saying thanks to a like number of local merchants who have provided them with work stations during the past year.

The third annual event will be held at the Hilltop Branch YMCA. Robert Bobbitt, DE class president, will be the principal speaker.

The "DE Student of the Year" will be revealed during the meeting, said O. D. Lehman, teacher-coordinator.

School and business officials will be guests. West High Mixed Ensemble will sing.

Doolittle

Doolittle, who formerly was territory representative for the sales promotion department of the Landmark cooperative will be in charge of the merchandising program of the seed and fertilizer products for the association. Doolittle became associated with the Landmark organization in 1950.

TV Repair Licensing? Public Opinion Sought

Do you think the man who works on your television set should be licensed by the state?

Associated Radio-TV Service Dealers, backing a bill which would license all radio and television servicing dealers and technicians, is seeking public opinion on the proposal.

The bill has been approved by the Senate and comes up for a House committee vote next Monday night.

The 16-year-old Columbus association, of which Herman Francis is president, asks those who are interested to phone either Don Wilson, AM. 8-3037, or John Graham, AM. 2-8712. Wilson is chairman of the state association and Graham is past president of the Columbus group.

"This bill will protect the television set owner from incompetent or dishonest TV repair men," says Wilson. "If you care to express your opinion, phone either me or Graham or get in touch with your state representative."

Columbus Business Leaders Pay Tributes To Teenagers

Columbus business leaders have paid tribute to 14 teenagers for superior Junior Achievement records at a "Future Unlimited" banquet.

Hilltopper Buys AF 'Skyhawk'

The business was bought from Ralph Winkler Co.

Sharp, former advertising salesman and department director for Hartley Newspapers, now holds a similar position with a Grove City publisher.

IDLE HOUR GUIDE . . .

'Learn To Swim' On Again; 'Best Of Post', Silvers Switch

By Stan Robinson

Last year, more than 12,000 children joined the Columbus Red Cross-Channel 10 Learn-To-Swim summer project along with the station's famed Flippo.

"From Polliwogs to Whales," set for Thursday, June 1 at 10:30 p.m. will tell the story of Johnny Smith, an eight year old with a problem. It seems his friends are sure he will be of little use in an upcoming swim meet and so John, wanting to be worthy of the group, enters into a Red Cross program at his neighborhood pool.

Robinson

The polliwog medal is the first milestone, followed by the various classifications from turtle to porpoise and then whale. Flippo appears at each pool and consistently offers good advice, and in general this show has a happy ending with John a good swimmer and you'll want to see how the swim meet turns out for all concerned.

SWITCH TIMES ON 4 — A new day and a new time starts tonight for "Best Of Post." Thursday evening's story, taken from the pages of the Saturday Evening Post, tells of a jet pilot who after cheating death gains understanding from his wife. Stars are Don DeFore and Nancy Hadley. Meanwhile Phil Silvers moves to the Saturday night slot, 10:30 p.m. and Ernie Bilko decides to teach a lesson to a society girl who refuses to reign as queen of the Motor Pool Mardi Gras, by spreading rumors that the Mardi Gras King, Duane Doberman, is an international Playboy.

SOMETHING FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY on channel 6 . . . On Saturday night, Leave It To Beaver presents "Junior Fire Chief" as Beaver becomes a public nuisance as he clamors against fire hazards in the neighborhood. At eight o'clock the Champagne Music Makers, soon to visit Columbus, welcome the season with "Spring, Spring, Spring", sung by the Sparklers'. Soloist, Norma Zimmer sings "Spring Is Here" . . . At nine o'clock, dad can settle down to Fight of the Week on Channel 6 with a 10-round middleweight bout. Jorge Fernandes meets Teddy Wright on ABC-TV.

JETS ON TV . . . Wednesday, May 31 is the next regularly scheduled Columbus Jet baseball game on television when WLW-C cameras take their respective transmitting spots for the Jets and Richmond. Clark Smith and Jimmy Crum will be describing all the activity.

MYSTERY AND INTRIGUE, SUMMER REPLACEMENT FOR PERRY . . . "Perry Como's Kraft Music Hall, on Channel 4 and NBC will be replaced for the summer months effective June 14, with "Kraft Mystery Theater", a 16-week series of full hour mysteries and suspense filled films. Host for the summer series will be the "resonant" voice of Frank Gallop, regularly heard as Como's announcer. These films are English produced and have never been seen in the USA. Gallop's mystery experience goes back to a well remembered production, "Lights Out" when he was described as "the face with a hollow voice." Perry Como will commence his third year of the Kraft Music Hall, Oct. 4.

"CBS REPORTS" . . . will be expanded next fall to three times a month instead of twice. "Face The Nation", currently the Thursday night alternate for "Reports", is being dropped. A new alternate to be seen every fourth Thursday is a series of CBS news specials and public affairs programs, such as "The Great Challenge."

IN PASSING . . . John Daly, is expected to be CBS-TV's host when the "Miss Universe Finals" is presented from Miami Beach, Saturday, July 15, Channel 10 in Columbus.

"WAGON TRAIN" SAFETY HINTS, SAVE ACTUAL LIVES . . . The television set has special significance for Debra Robbins and Pamela Shirley, residents of suburban Indianapolis. Using methods shown on "Wagon Train," a week ago, they saved themselves from drowning in a 25-foot well. Neither girl can swim. As they played in their yard, around some old boards covering the well, the boards gave way and the girls plunged down the shaft and into 12 feet of water. Debra, braced her back and feet against the walls and urged Pam to hang on to her. Their cries brought the family running in minutes. It seems a cowboy on "Wagon Train" did this very same thing to save himself in a story on the show seen on Channel 4 locally and NBC-TV.

NOTES FROM WVKO . . . Jazz enthusiasts will be interested to note that Bill Culter's Show, "We Call It Music", will be heard at a new time on WVKO radio. Previously scheduled at 12:05 p.m., the new time period will be 4:35 to 5:30 p.m. . . . WVKO radio has now joined the Mutual Radio Network for many daily newscasts including on the hour and half hour. News "names" such as Galen Drake, Cedric Foster, Tony Marvin and Frank Singiser will be heard daily.

Pedigrees Overrated In Selection Of Dogs?

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROD COCHRAN

Typing out the pedigrees of puppies isn't exactly a popular way to spring a spring afternoon—the height of the warbler migration is passing through, morel mushrooms are up and bass are hitting. But, when pups are sold, the AKC papers and pedigrees must be in order for new owners.

That little certificate of paper, that every breeder of registered dogs must fill out, should constitute about half of what a dog owner buys. A pedigree is very important, for it can tell you a lot about your dog. When you purchase a pup you get it and a sheet of paper, and you should examine both carefully.

If you are not well versed in bloodlines of your particular breed, then you should consult someone who is or have absolute faith in your breeder or kennel owner.

It is sad but true that in the case of beagles, the breed that I buy licenses for, owners have gone overboard for pedigrees. I would say that in some transactions the pedigree is all that is considered. There has been a stampede to get dogs whose ancestors are all field champions for two, three or more generations back. Some litters are advertised "quadruple championship mated," whatever that means. (Actually, it means all champions for four generations back.)

Personality Is Factor

There is no doubt that pupples from such breeding would be fairly apt to run rabbits. But what do they look like? This is most times a different matter.

What is the disposition and personality of this super pup, born with a silver bunny in its mouth?

There are men who seldom see their dogs. They are purchased from pedigrees, sent to professional trainers who work them and then take them to field trials. They don't care what a dog is, as long as the ribbons and cups keep coming for him to display in his den. After such a dog makes it on the field trial circuit, he is usually leased to someone else who puts him at stud and the dog may actually turn a profit.

Fortunately, these cases are few and most of us like to have our dogs around us. This is why beagle breeders should pay more attention to conformation and disposition, and less to pedigrees. There are thousands of registered beagles around that would give a bench show judge a stroke—they are sway backed, crooked legged and big headed and everything else you can think of.

With these thoughts in mind, it gave me a great deal of satisfaction as I typed out the pedigrees. There are enough field champions in the bloodlines to satisfy most hunters. Just as important, the pups look like beagles. It is extremely doubtful if any of them will ever win anything, for none of the new owners, to my knowledge, is interested in either field trials or dog shows. But I can't help but feel a little pin-prick of pride in selling pups that will not embarrass me or the owner in either hunting potential or appearance.

To my mind, it costs no more to feed a good dog than a faulty one.

Lake Erie Fishing

The smallmouth bass season will soon get underway in western Lake Erie according to veteran party boat captain, Eldon Hales. Fishing is expected to be best around the island area. The smallmouth fishing should continue good until June when the white bass have their field day.

Hales asked me to pass on the fact that his address has changed. He can now be reached at 410 E. Catawba-rd, Skyline View Park, Route 1, Port Clinton. Telephone is Catawba Island 73403. His boat leaves from the dock of Catawba Marine Sales.

Rites Commemorate Famed Psychologist

Dr. Henry Goddard, first superintendent of the Juvenile Diagnostic Center, 3220 W. Broad-st, is gone but not forgotten.

A plaque bearing a likeness of the internationally-revered psychologist and a memorial library were dedicated Thursday at the institution. Taking part in the ceremony were department officials and persons who knew Dr. Goddard when he was a professor at Ohio State University. (1922 to 1938).

Dr. Goddard was one of the principal founders of the fields of clinical and abnormal physchology as areas of scientific inquiry. His activities had far reaching and lasting effects upon the professions of social work, criminology and special education. He authored more than 50 publications.

His work with the then-called Bureau of Juvenile Research began in 1918.

First Cases Arrive At New Units

TICO (Training Institute of Central Ohio) opened its doors for the first time Monday morning, May 15 to receive five boys.

The boys entered the brand new institution on the northwest corner of the State Hospital grounds after transfer from the Boy's Industrial School, Lancaster. The new Hilltip unit is still incomplete but Superintendent William M. Belson felt assured that all major equipment would have arrived within a month or so. He said boys will be accepted gradually at the new institution so that the staff will have the best opportunity to get to know them. Some boys will be accepted each week until capacity is reached.

One day later, May 16, neighboring 100-bed Psychiatric Hospital, under the supervision of Dr. T. R. Huxtable, Jr., opened for the first time, receiving a similar sized group of patients. This unit too, plans to begin slowly, reaching a full program sometime later in the year.

At a Monday press conference at a meeting of the Y's Men's Club of Columbus, Governor DiSalle told a Hartley Newspaper editor that threatened cuts to his budget now before the Legislature could mean further delays in making full use of the new institutions here. TICO, in particular, has remained closed for some time because State Mental Hygiene officials have been unable to attract competent personnel at salaries they demand.

FAMILY FUN-FOR-ALL

Big Time Assured At Gladden Friday

This is the week for Gladden's May Time Festival! The day is Friday. The time is 4 to 9 p.m. All West Side families and friends are invited to participate in the fun at the community house at Hawkes and Town-sts.

There is a basketball throw — hit two out of three and win a prize; try your luck at a bean bag toss or make a bullseye with the ping pongs. Match your skill at the penny pitch booth.

With fun in mind for the children, a makeup booth is planned where they can become princesses, pirates, beatniks. A miniature train will be running a tour in the back of Gladden. Movie comic strips are scheduled every 15 to 20 minutes.

In the line of refreshments a family type supper plate is to be sold as well as individual servings. Pizza will be sold by the slice or pie and cotton candy can fill the [illegible]

There will be 19 booths, said Barbara Coe, program director.

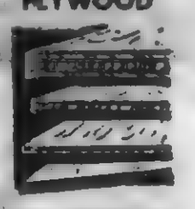
Council Tables Rezoning Plan For Valleyview

A request to rezone a one-and-a-half acre tract next to the Valleyview Community Center from C-4 to R-3 was tabled by the Columbus City Council Monday night.

Action on the proposal was delayed when the clerk expressed doubt that the owner of the property had been notified of the meeting.



The request to rezone the parcel, which is occupied by Cunningham's Trailer Court, was initiated by the Zoning Commission according to Planning Director Jack Bachtel.

He said the commission felt the C-4 classification was in conflict with the residential use of the neighborhood.

The rezoning would permit the continued non-conforming use of the land by the trailer court but would limit its further expansion, he said.

Cleanup Campaign Swings Into High Gear

Inspectors Sent To West Side; Pilot Project Set

The City of Columbus has moved whole-heartedly into the city cleanup drive on the West Side.

As a preliminary step in the campaign, three teams of city housing inspectors Monday were sent into the area bounded by the Civic Center west to Central-av, and the Scioto River south to Mound-st.

The teams, each composed of two men, will inspect the area for abandoned cars, ramshackle buildings, junk piled yards and alleys and other unsafe or unhealthy violations of the minimum housing code.

Assistant Service Director James Worster is in charge of the drive.

Charles McGue, senior housing inspector, explained that the department will request that property owners rectify any violations uncovered by the survey.

Should they refuse, the department has the power to enforce the city code, he said.

Most common violations are sheds and fences in a state of disrepair and junk piles, according to McGue.

He said that the inspectors would notify the police department of any cars they found abandoned on public property.

The senior inspector explained that the survey was not expected to uncover an overly-large number of violations.

"The West Side property is pretty clean," he said. "Columbus in general is a much cleaner city than it was 10 years ago because of our slum clearance program and freeway construction."

He pointed out that the department has a never-ending job. "We go through a section, clean it up, and then find just as many violations the next time through."

As part of the Cleaner Columbus Campaign, Assistant Service Director Croft S. Merritt announced Tuesday that the cleanup in a four-block pilot project on the West Side would begin the week of June 19. This project was sparked by the West Side Neighborhood Council.

The area is bounded by Hartford on the east, Meek on the west, the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks on the north and Gay on the south.

Merritt said that the area would be subject to an intensive cleanup and repair. Property owners are encouraged to paint and repair their buildings. The city will clean streets, the catch basins and alleys.

"We hope to make it an example for the entire city," he said.

SENIOR HOUSING Inspector Charles McGue inspects a vacant house on N. Hayden-av, during a survey of housing code violations on the West Side. McGue's office sent three teams of inspectors into the area earlier this week as the preliminary step in the city clean-up drive. The survey will take several weeks to complete, he said.

An Open Letter To George

Printed herewith is the last of four thought provoking articles by R. R. Fling. I trust they have been worthwhile and that somewhere there are a few Georges to give this matter some thought and back it by action:

Dear "George:"—

You are a humble, hard-working man, whose measure of success has been recognized by your fellow citizens. Particularly you put great stock in our democratic organizations. You are organization minded.

Now let me tell you. That is not enough!

Organizations have done and are doing a splendid and a necessary job. But it has not been enough. In the last few years in Ohio we have made progress backwards. It is time we "solid" citizens helped to catch up.

You probably read the messages of the past three weeks and dreamily said: "That point is interesting. Such an idea ought to work. Is this point true? We ought to do something about that. I'll talk it over with George. Maybe we can get a law next biennium. I couldn't do anything personally. I'll call the C of C, the NMA, the PTA, the OEA, the OSE, the HBA, the CIO, the AIA, the Bishop, the priest, the preacher, the president of the Dodo Society, or chairman of the Ladies Auxiliary." Before you lay the messages down you will have nominated George do it.

So this letter is addressed to George. You are George.

It seems utterly preposterous that we go to church and pray "Thy Kingdom Come," and do nothing about it, we confess the golden rule and turn the job over to someone else. We see opportunities and wonder what the Chamber of Commerce is doing. We blame the politicians. The legislature will and can do just what WE demand of them and no more.

The ordinary man can do things. Often he is the only one who can. Most of us lack the faith that goes with ma-

Holy Family High To Close In 1964; No Future Plans Made For Building

The class of 1964 will be the last to graduate from Holy Family High School.

A long-time landmark on Columbus' west side, the school is to be closed in June of that year, according to Msgr. Bennett Applegate, Diocesan Superintendent of Schools. Thereafter all students will attend Bishop Ready High School.

Msgr. Applegate said the process of closing Holy Family will be a gradual one.

No Future Plans Made

He also explained that his office has no plans to utilize the building in the future, quenching persistent rumors that it would be turned into a trade school for the Diocese.

The first step in shutting down the 47-year-old parochial high school will come in September, Msgr. Applegate pointed out.

Freshmen who would normally attend Holy Family will be enrolled at Bishop Ready, which will be completed in time for the opening of the coming school year, he said.

Classes To Continue

Msgr. Applegate stressed that students now attending Holy Family will complete their high school education there.

During the following year, the school will have only junior and senior classes. And in 1963-64, only a senior class.

Msgr. George Gressel, pastor at Holy Family, pointed out that the change will not affect elementary classes.

Staff To Transfer

Sisters of Mercy, now on the staff, will be transferred to different posts throughout the province after the school closes, he said.

Some will be temporarily transferred to Bishop Ready next year to teach along with nuns who will permanently staff the new school and others from still uncompleted St. Francis De Sales High School, he said.

New School Planned

Students from St. Francis De Sales, which will be opened on the north side, September, 1962, will attend Bishop Ready next year.

Holy Family High School was built in the years immediately prior to World War I. The building was initially used in 1918 as a haven for refugees from the flood of that year.

Classes were first held in the school the following year.

Expansion Of Library Considered

After ten years in business, the Hilltop Branch Library is beginning to feel the pinch of the population explosion.

Accompanied by their architect, library trustees and staff officials visited the branch at 2936 W. Broad-st last Thursday to size up the situation. Among them were Hilltopper Mrs. Rose Ferguson, a long-time member of the board; and Jacob Meckstroth, president.

Library spokesmen emphasized that plans to increase the library's floor space have not progressed beyond the talking stage.

SERVICES SET

Memorial Day 1961 Is A Solemn Time For Remembering

The stage was set for the emergence of the Union, cemented by the dead who were being memorialized on that May 30, 1868, as an immortal giant that would spread its bounty across a continent.

That was the first Memorial Day over nine decades ago when San Juan Hill, Verdun, Dunkerque and Kores still were unfamiliar names to most Americans.

They were honoring men who had died in their own land at the hands of their own countrymen in defense of "one nation, indivisible."

There were still echoes of war on that solemn first Memorial Day when the holiday was proclaimed by Major General John A Logan who commanded the Grand Army of the Republic.

Major General Logan led the tributes with services at Arlington National Cemetery.

Now, in 1961, it is time to make those same solemn tributes to the dead.

And, Americans across the country will make these tributes May 30 at community burial grounds and memorials and, in some places, with street processions.

The Monday holiday will mean an extended weekend of at least four days for many people.

Memorial Day activities will get underway on Saturday, May 27, when members of local veterans organizations will place a flag on the graves of war veterans buried in cemeteries in Franklin County.

Some 10,000 flags are needed for this project.

On Sunday, May 28, many veterans organizations with their auxiliaries will attend memorial services in local churches.

Highlight of the day in downtown Columbus will be the annual parade sponsored by the General Memorial Day Committee consisting of all veterans organizations in Franklin County.

The parade will start at 9 a.m. at Washington-av and Broad-st and move west to the Broad-st Bridge.

The reviewing stand will be located in front of the Chamber of Commerce Building, 30 E. Broad-st.

Ranking military and civic leaders have been invited to review the parade, together with honored guests of Gold Star and Blue Star Mothers, Widows of World War I veterans and Spanish-American war veterans.

Immediately after the downtown parade, Navy-Marine Post, the American Legion, with the aid of the Franklin Post Band, will hold their annual Naval Memorial Day ceremonies on the Broad-st Bridge.

A floral anchor in memory of deceased sailors and marines will be lowered into the Scioto River. A muzzle loading firing squad from the Sons of Union Veterans, dressed in Civil War uniforms, will fire the salute to the dead and Boy Scouts will sound taps.

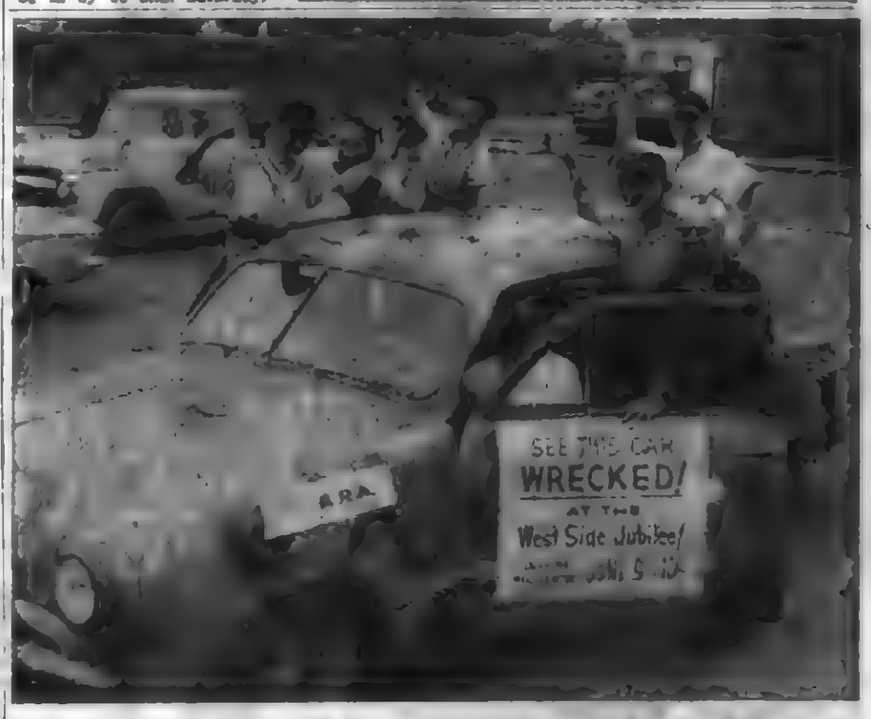
Space For July 16 Cruise Running Low



Reservations for the Hartley Newspapers big July 16 Great Lakes Pleasure Cruise have been pouring into the Hartley offices to the point where space is now running low.

If you have not made your reservations for this full-day luxury cruise aboard the multi-million dollar S. S. Aquarama from Cleveland to Detroit and back, do it now!

Although no actual time limit has been set on ticket sales, the number of tickets allotted to the Hartley papers is running low. The tour must be closed when the last ticket is sold, as no more space is available.

Chartered Lake Shore buses will leave Columbus at 4 a.m. Sunday morning, July 16, in time to arrive shipside in Cleveland by 9 a.m. (because of the time change, an hour is lost between here and Cleveland). Free pillows will be provided to all travelers both going and returning.

Remember time is short! Make certain you're one of the lucky travelers on this wonderful, one-day vacation. See story and picture inside this week's issue.

READY TO LEAVE for one last joy ride, "The Wreck"—a completely refurbished 1949 Ford—will soon be "smashed to bits." Patrons of the annual June Jubilee will have an opportunity to "take a whack at it with a sledgehammer." Here, with a baseball team from Sunshine Recreation Center, are Clarence Scott (behind the wheel) and Bob Miller, members of the Jubilee committee.

West Side Jubilee To Offer 10-Day Holiday As Top Prize

The 1961 edition of the June Jubilee—scheduled for June 5 through 10—is less than two weeks away.

"This should be the greatest Jubilee we have ever had," Committee Chairman Chuck Ater pointed out.

He explained that the group is offering as a grand prize this year, a 10-day, all expenses paid vacation for two to a luxury golfing resort in Savannah, Ga. The holiday will include meals, room and transportation.

Drawing for the prizes will be held Saturday, June 10, the final day of the Jubilee.

Other prizes to be given away include a portable television set, two bicycles, a picnic table and chairs, a six month's supply of soft drinks and an array of other merchandise.

Tickets for the drawing are being given away by a limited number of West Side merchants, Ater said. Holder of the ticket must be present to win.

Among the star attractions of the opening night parade will be two musical units, the Hilliard and Central High School marching bands.

Two vocal groups, the Novelaires and the Cordials, are scheduled to perform during the six-day Jubilee.

The latter group, composed of graduates of Central High School, includes Pug Pepper, Paul Perry, Phil Stobart, Rem Reiser and Dave Rathburn.

They have made hit records of "I'm Ashamed" and "Sentimental Journey," appeared in Columbus and other Northern Ohio communities and performed on the Gene Pullen Show.

Fred Strickler Wins Kiwanis Scholarship

West Side Kiwanis Club believes in Fred Strickler's future.

That was apparent last Wednesday when the tall Central High senior was handed the club's annual $300 scholarship.

Young Strickler, who ranks fourth in his class of 313 students, lives at 1441 Merrimac-st. A Boys Stater last year, he has been active not only in class work, but also in band, choir, Future Teachers, student council, and in some minor teaching assignments. On May 15 he received a good citizenship award from the Sons of the American Revolution.

Fred is the only high school student in Columbus Symphony Chorus and is the youngest prima dancer with Jorg Fasting. He plans to major in education at Ohio State University.

Fred's mother, Mrs. Laurette Strickler, is presently out of work, having been furloughed from Columbus Bolt and Forging Company. His two sisters, also excellent students, attend Starling Junior High School.

BRIDGE INCIDENT NOT SO FUNNY

Another bomb scare. This time, instead of the usual school or public building, it was busy Darby Creek Bridge on U.S. Route 40, near West Jefferson.

What type of person is it who derives pleasure from such a costly prank? Is it a child, or a man with a child's brain—someone who enjoys a hollow hour of power?

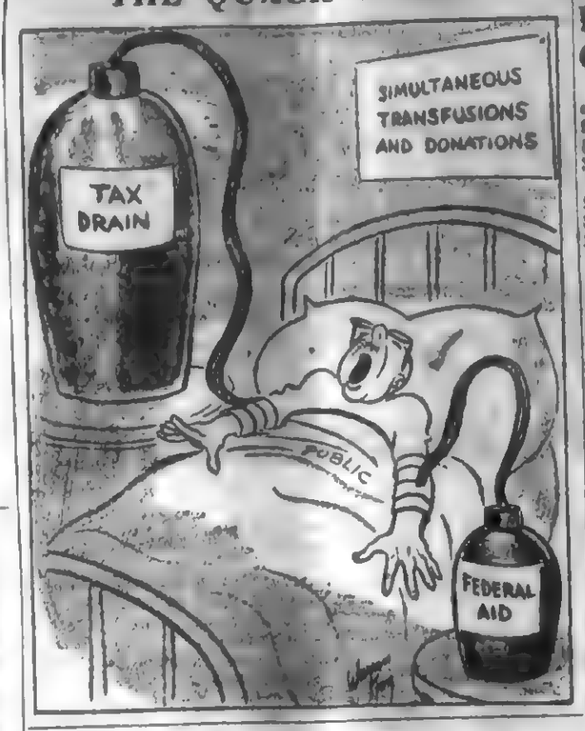
Surely he wasn't one of the harrassed law officers who had to stop traffic while the bridge was thoroughly examined, the helicopter patrolman overhead, or one of the hundreds of distraught drivers who had to wait.

No doubt the person who turned in the bomb report was at the scene, "watching the fun." In our opinion, he is little different from an arsonist who watches as his handiwork costs the public real money.

Bomb hoaxes are no longer a novelty . . . simply a disgusting inconvenience. Persons who are caught at it should be forced to feel the full penalty of the law.

If last Saturday's prankster is caught, we have one form of punishment to suggest: let him paint the bridge the next time it needs it — with a two-inch brush.

FEAR—THE REAL FOE OF FREEDOM



With the advent of another Memorial Day; with services in the memory of those who have given life for freedom, we find ourselves a people living in fear.

This country has for so long been the bearer and the image of all that is free and good and Godly that it is somehow hard to accept the accusations directed at the United States today. It is hard to understand the invectives flung at us by East and West alike, hard to realize we are in the throes of what could be our last defense of freedom, should we lose.

Fear itself is a stronger foe than the worldly powers we face. Its own power destroys man's faith, kills him from within; leaves only a cowering figure-of-a-man. Unity is destroyed when his fear forces him to point an accusing finger at his neighbor, finally at his brother.

Fear has never before played so great a role in the drama of the fight for freedom. Let us keep it out now, or forever lose that fight.

Kiwanians Arrange Tribute To Departed

Sixteen members who have died during the 16-year history of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club will be commemorated this week.

Representatives of families of the deceased are invited to be special guests at the noon luncheon program at Berry's Restaurant, Thursday.

A memorial plaque bearing the following names will be unveiled: Chester O. Cramer, Ira Claggett, Woody Clark, Ray McVay, Sr., Howard Whitehead, Curt Roberts, Tom Wolfendale, Fred Raether, Lou Saunders, Orrin Craft, Otto Mattox; Dorrell Jacques, Tom Fox, Forrest Keiser, Herb Deems, and Pearl Spence.

As Mack Pemberton reads the names, Rev. Harold Dutt will recall the achievements of each former member.

William Grace will sing, and Tim Morris of West High School will render Taps. Dr. Raymond Miller is program chairman, assisted by Robert Cramer, Harold Fox, and Rev. Dutt.

Consumer Report
Food Market This Week
By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

Fruits — Strawberries, pineapple, rhubarb, bananas, grapefruit.
IT'S A LIQUID DIET
Want to start a lively discussion? Mention "liquid diet." There are now some 100 different brands of these 900-calorie food preparations manufactured by drug companies, food companies and dairies. They have taken their place in the special dietary department of supermarkets.
The popularity of these products had resulted in the Food and Drug Administration becoming concerned with the nutritional adequacy of such items. At the recent annual meeting of The Nutrition Foundation, George P. Larrick, Commissioner of Food and Drugs, U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, made the following significant statement that may help you decide whether or not you add these products to your food shopping list.
Mr. Larrick says, "In general, we have found that, although the protein quality does vary somewhat among the different brands, from the nutritional standpoint these products appear to be satisfactory for the relatively short period for which they would be the sole item of diet."
Since the primary purpose of the products is to reduce weight, Mr. Larrick stated, "We have had several conferences with various manufacturers in an attempt to evolve labels that will be truly informatie to the consumer. A change from a customary diet of 3,000 plus calories, to one providing only 900 calories, is quite drastic and could result in uncomfortable, although probably not harmful physiological effects. We feel that the label should caution the consumer to use these products under competent medical guidance. We are maintaning a close scrutiny of this aspect of the special dietary food market."
So again, we point out that the label is your "best friend" as you make decisions among the thousands of items in a modern supermarket. To get labels on our foods that are informative and dependable requires devoted and continuous efforts from all of us.
THE SEASON IS SHORT
Asparagus, greenhouse tomatoes and strawberries are short-season foods that deserve your attention the remainder of May and early June.
And there is still time to enjoy the best asparagus of the season. The local crop is excellent and prices are lower. It's wise to do whatever freezing you plan very soon.
Greenhouse tomato supplies are now the heaviest of the spring crop and you'll find their price tags are lowering.
Strawberry volume has increased and prices on quarts are probably as low as they will go this season. Berries from the Columbus area are two to three weeks in the future.

City School System To Buy Land

Columbus School Board Tuesday tentatively selected a nine-acre parcel of land in Lincoln Village South for purchase as a possible site of a future school.

A school board spokesman explained the purchase of a school site in the South Western Schools district as essential to assure a location when a school becomes necessary.

If the nine-acre site, reserved by developers of the subdivision for a school is not acquired now, houses may be built on the land.

Since South Western Schools are financially unable to purchase the property at the present time, the spokesman continued, Columbus Board will buy the land and hold it until it is needed. The site may then be sold to South Western Board.

Sometimes the best way to get the boss to do what you want is to tell him you just don't know what to do.

Four Schools Considered For Flashers

Four West Side schools are currently being considered by the Columbus Traffic Commission for school flasher signals, but, in a meeting Tuesday, no definite action was taken.

The schools include West Broad Street, John Burroughs, West Mound and St. Agnes Elementary schools.

"Actual installation of flashers on all streets around public and parochial schools would cost some $430,712," according to Commissioner Jack Gallagher.

Gallagher figures that would take 225 flasher installations for the public school system and an additional 39 installations for parochial school sites.

The commission is expected to act on the matter during the next meeting slated for June 6.

St. John Members To Break Sod For New Wing Sunday

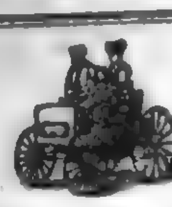
St. John Lutheran Church, W. Broad-st at Hague-av, will break ground Sunday for a new addition to the building.

The comprehensive program includes plans for remodeling and redecorating all the church's present facilities, and enlarging the sanctuary.

Sunday will also mark the last day the building will be used by the congregation until the program is completed. Members will meet for worship at West Broad School at the regular times — Sunday School, 9:15 a.m. and services at 8 and 10:30 a.m.

Groundbreaking ceremony conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. T. Langholz, is scheduled for 10 a.m. followed by worship at 10:30. The usual early service will be omitted Sunday.

Construction and remodeling will get under way next week and members expect to re-occupy the building before Christmas.



The proposed addition, to be built at the east side of the existing building, will house Sunday School rooms, administrative offices and parlor.

The sanctuary will be enlarged to include its present space as well as a portion of the new wing. The entire area will be rearranged, organ and altar moved, and new pews installed.

Existing Sunday School rooms and social hall will be remodeled and redecorated.

Bernice Lineberry, William C. Coon Exchange Marriage Vows May 20

Holy Spirit Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Bernice Ann Lineberry and Mr. William C. Coon, May 20, at 10 a.m.

Janitrol Gets Contract For Space Device

Janitrol Aircraft Division of Midland-Ross Corporation, 4300 Surface-rd, (off Phillippi-rd) has been awarded a contract for development of a zero "G" hydrogen separator. This is a fuel heating system used on the NASA Centaur space vehicle.

James W. Ashby, vice president and general manager of the local plant, announced the awarding of the contract by Convair (Astronautics), Division of General Dynamics Corporation, San Diego, prime contractor, for the Centaur.

A group of six engineers, headed by M.S. Decker, have been chosen to direct the development project. Work has already started.

Janitrol Aircraft has been given responsibility for developing a venting system for liquid hydrogen, the fuel used in the upper stage of the space vehicle. The Centaur has been described as embodying the most radical advance in rocket propulsion since the Germans developed the V-2. It is the first rocket vehicle which will use liquid hydrogen as the propellant.

The Centaur will be the first rocket vehicle designed to achieve a 24-hour orbit on a very precise trajectory 22,900 mile above the equator. It is mounted on an Atlas booster that uses liquid oxygen as the oxidizer.

Liquid hydrogen has a boiling point of 423° F. below zero. This is only 36° above absolute zero. Solar radiation in space causes part of the fuel to vaporize. The venting system must maintain an acceptable tank pressure when this boiling occurs, without venting an appreciable amount of liquid overboard. The system being developed, will include a heat exchanger, a turbine and control valves.

An intensive test program to prove the reliability of this system will be carried out in Janitrol's modern laboratory and test facilities.

The local firm has designed and produced many items of hardware used by today's jet aircraft, missiles and space vehicles. These include heat exchangers, pneumatic valves and regulators, couplings, heating and cooling equipment.

Council Stalls Rezoning Move

A request to rezone a 1.8 acre tract adjacent to the Valleyview Community Center from commercial to residential was tabled by the Columbus City Council Monday.

The proposal was made by the City Planning Commission to prevent undersirable development.

The site, now occupied by a trailer court, is owned by Harold Cunningham, 3053 Valleyview-dr. City Planning Director, Jack Bachtel said the trailer court could remain but that the land could not be used for other purposes such as a night club if the rezoning was approved.

The sale followed a dinner served by the Lady Lions at West High School's cafeteria which was attended by over 300 public-spirited citizens who aided in the sale.

Newsboy "men" were on the job Thursday until 10 p.m.

West Downs East 6-1 In Second Round Play

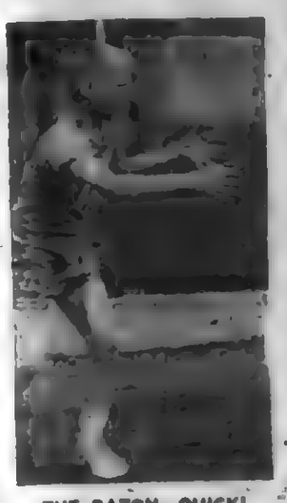
West racked up their second win of the campaign against East, there, last Tuesday afternoon, 6-1. The seven-hit attack was paced by Rich Neely with two and single blows by Charlie Castle, Gary Alwood, Jack Trotter, Steve Takos and winning pitcher Bill Karn.

Karn twirled himself a nifty three-hitter and struck out 10 and walked not a single East man. West left five men stranded to East's four.

West scored once in the first, twice in the second, a single tally in the third and finished up with two in the top of the seventh. Neely opened the top of the first by beating out an infield single, stole second and went to third on a wild pitch. He came home on Gary Clark's sacrifice fly. Bob Ross then walked but was left stranded as the next two men went out.

In the second Takos singled (for his second hit of the year) to open the frame, also beating out an infield hit. Hurler Karn then doubled and went to third on an error by the shortstop. Neely was safe on a bobble by the same man. Clark was hit by the pitcher and both runners moved up on a passed ball and another error. Ross finally struck out to end the uprising.

Alwood led off the third and was safe on an error by the second baseman and eventually came around to score, aided later by another error by the first sacker. Ron McDaniel got life and on base via another shortstop bobble but was left stranded. In the seventh with two out Castle got on via an infield hit followed by Alwood's single and the two, aided by an error, a passed ball and Trotter's single came home to score.



East committed seven errors afield to West's two. East got their lone tally in the fifth, on a weird situation. East's lead-off man actually struck out but got on base when the third strike (swinging) was also a wild pitch with the batter getting to first safely. He then came on around to score as the next three men were going out.

I CAN'T LOOK!

COME ON FEET!

THE BATON—QUICK!

HE'S GETTING AWAY!

Saturday, May 20, 11:30 a.m., the gate behind the stadium at West High's Magly Field swung to and was locked. The click of the lock, bringing to a well-earned and satisfied close, the second annual Hilltop Gra-Y relays.

These track events, under the sponsorship of the Hilltop Y's Men's Club, had given 120 boys, from 12 schools in the West Side and Hilltop areas, an opportunity to practice fair play and good sportsmanship, as well as to cheer themselves hoarse with honest, youthful enthusiasm for the success of their teammates.

Much time and work had gone into the planning and completion of this important affair by the Y's Men, by the staff members at Hilltop Y and by the boys themselves.

Hard work or not, the boys and men alike had a big time and even though there couldn't be a winner's ribbon for every boy, they all had a great thrill in receiving their awards and a firm hand shake from one of Ohio State's great athletes in the person of Gary Gearhart.

The Colts from West Broad Street School won the top team award and walked off with the rotating trophy while the Westgate Wildcats came through with a very close second. Regardless of where their teams finished in standings, all of these boys can be proud of the good sportsmanship which they displayed throughout the entire program.

The top three boys in each event are listed as follows along with their schools:

50 yard dash, first, Dearing, Highland; second, Miller, Lindbergh; third, Sparks, Lindbergh.

50 yard low hurdles, sixth grade, old record, 10.3 seconds; first, Meinberg, West Broad set new relay record 9.8; second, Miles, Binns; third, Zulauf, Westgate.

50 yard low hurdles, fourth and fifth grades, first, Williams, Valleyview, in 11.3 seconds; second, Parrish, West Broad; third, Zulauf, Westgate.

Standing broad jump, fourth and fifth grades, first, Hayes, Lindbergh, jumped 6'1"; second, O'Neal, Highland; third, Claros, West Broad.

Softball throw, fourth and fifth grades, first, Martin, Lindbergh, new record 134'; second, Schaeffer, West Broad; third, Davis, North Franklin.

Softball throw, sixth grade, old record 156'6", first, Garrett, Highland, set new record of 170'; second, Beery, John Burroughs; third Colegrove, Westgate.

That's the rundown of the top three in standings for each event. They had a pretty good crowd of parents and friends out this year to root for the boys but it could still be better to watch for the announcement of the next series of Gra-Y events and have a really big turnout. Your boys deserve your support.

Thompson In District Track Run

Dennis Thompson

Miler Dennis Thompson is the only West trackman to make it through the Central Ohio District Track Meet, held last Friday and Saturday at the Ohio State stadium track, and to qualify for the State Track Meet this Friday and Saturday at the same location.

Thompson was one of three Cowboy qualifiers last Friday for the district finals on Saturday. He in the mile, Jerry Ball in the 880, and Terry Barnett in both the 100 and 220.

Thompson finished third in the District finals with a time of 4:40.1. (Only the first three places in each event qualified for the State Meet this weekend).

District competition was extremely tough this year. Barnett watched as a Whitehall lad set a new record in the pole vault of over 13 feet while two others were up and over 12 feet. Technically Barnett tied (three-way) for fourth (heightwise) but because of his number of misses he got fifth. There was only three feet difference between Montgomery's distance and the winning heave, but a big three feet it was, and only 2 to 3 inches separated him from fourth spot. West has been outstanding in their hurdles competition this spring and yet couldn't manage to even qualify any of their four top hurdlers for even District finals.

Area Youth Selected For YMCA Post

A 1960 graduate of West High School, Michael Kagay, has been elected vice-chairman of the Ohio-West Virginia Area YMCA Student Council.

Kagay, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Ralph Kagay of 65 N. Roysav, is a freshman at Miami University. He is majoring in English literature and philosophy.

Among his activities, he is on the executive board of the Young Democrats, the campus YMCA cabinet and a member of PHI Eta Sigma honorary fraternity.

Goodrich Ends NCO Traininp

Army Specialist Four Franklin N. Goodrich, son of James Goodrich, 802 E. Second-av, recently graduated from the 8th Infantry Division Non-Commissioned Officer Academy in Baumholder, Germany.

West Gets Linden In Final Meet

West ended one of its most successful regular track seasons in several years on the Magly Field cinders last Tuesday afternoon as they downed fellow City-Leaguer Linden McKinley in a dual meet, 66-52. All that remains for the Cowboy "cinderfellas" are the District and the City Meets at Central this Wednesday and Thursday and the State Meet at OSU this Friday and Saturday, providing the Cowboys made it thru the District to qualify.

The Broncos split "shutouts" with Linden by taking the 880 relay but losing the mile relay. However West won the battle of "whitewashing" as the Cowboy weightmen took all three places in the shot put. They took two of three places also in the pole vault (first and second), the 220 and 180, high jump and broad jump. They captured three of the four places in the 120 high hurdles and the 180 low hurdles.

Thornton Turns In Second Almost Perfect Ball Game

With 4-48 Thornton Turns P H

And then there was another "long" disappointment for West hurler Jim Thornton. Yep . . . it happened again! Thornton pitched another fine marathon . . . 13 innings this time, only to lose through the usual lack of both offensive and defensive support when the chips were down and possibly, some poor base running.

In their first encounter this season, Thornton was the victim of a no-hitter by Linden McKinley's Dick Gray. This time out, he matched Gray pitch for pitch.

Thornton allowed eight hits, struck out 18 and issued only five walks (one of them the start of the final disaster) and But he made it, but was a little stranded. Meanwhile, Linden's Gray was allowing six hits, striking out 10, issuing three walks and left four Cowboys stranded on the base paths for a 4-3 ending.

Linden pulled off two double plays against the Cowboys while West was retaliating with one of its own. With Gary Alwood on via a walk in the second, Jack Trotter grounded into one, pitcher to short to first. Then in the sixth, Gary Clark walked only to be doubled off on Rick Finke's pop out to the third baseman who threw to first for the double play. West's DP was like the latter as in the fifth with a foe on first and one out shortstop Ron McDaniel took a line drive and doubled the runner off at first.

Thornton lost another "tight" game in extra innings, the second one this year, by weird base running as well as lack of support. West put on quite a stalling performance in the eighth inning. First baseman Gary Alwood spent the day playing in the District Golf Tourney so did not start for the Cowboys against Linden. Returning to school from the links expecting to find the game over, he instead found them locked in an extra-inning struggle. So he rushed to the locker room and hurriedly suited up. Meanwhile the Cowboys began to stall with all their might and tricks so that he might make it out to take his next turn at bat on and shoes to be tied. Jet he made, but was a little too "cold" and hit into an inning ending fielders choice. Alwood drove deep to left in the 11th, breaking a bat in the process.

Solo

He also, for the second time this season, pulled off a gem of a defensive play, taking beautifully a popper into short right field, running pell-mell away from the infield and taking the ball over his shoulder.

The firm sent the man, wife and three youngsters to that city and established temporary residence at the Dunes Hotel until a suitable home could be found. So Mom and Dad proceeded one evening to put the kids to bed and slip downstairs to see the Billy Eckstein show, only to have one of their youngsters come on the scene in short order and steal the show as he appeared in his pajamas singing, "Jesus Loves Me."

IT'S A FACT

Ten years ago there was an average of less than 200 persons per square mile in Ohio. Now that average is nearly 240, and in another ten years it will be about 300, according to OSU extension rural sociologists.

A view from the air serves to accentuate the sleek lines of the S.S. Aquarama, multi-million dollar Great Lakes luxury liner on which Hartley Newspaper readers will travel from Cleveland to Detroit and back Sunday, July 16. Make your reservation now for this fabulous one-day pleasure cruise!

Remember – Sunday, July 16 Is Big Day For Hartley Great Lakes Cruise !!

TO: CENTRAL OHIO FUN-LOVERS
SUBJECT: GREAT LAKES PLEASURE CRUISE
SPONSOR: HARTLEY NEWSPAPERS
OBJECT: FUN FOR ALL
DATE: SUNDAY: JULY 16
TIME: LEAVES COLUMBUS . . . 4 A.M.

Question. Who would get out of bed in time to catch a bus leaving at 4 a.m. for anywhere?

Answer: So far, over 100 people (each with a little pioneer blood, we think) who have signed up to join the Hartley Newspapers in their first one-day Great Lakes pleasure cruise from Cleveland to Detroit and back aboard the fabulous S. S. Aquarama, multi-million dollar luxury liner.

For those of you who have not made reservations (and there are a few left) here is the opportunity to see the world-famous Great Lakes region first-hand . . . to see for yourself the never-ending parade of ships from Japan, Israel, Norway, Sweden and many other countries of the world as they proceed with their daily routine in one of the world's busiest shipping areas.

Because of the great number of responses during the first few weeks, it has become apparent that space aboard the chartered Lake Shore buses will soon be filled. As a result the Hartley papers have made arrangements for those people who might desire to drive their own cars to Cleveland and back, rather than traveling by chartered bus.

Adult fare for the cruise is $18.50, while full child's fare is $12.50. These prices include round trip transportation to Cleveland by chartered bus. For those who desire to drive, there is a reduction to $12.50 and $7.50 for adults and children respectively.

Parking space is available for your automobile at the ship's landing at a cost of $1 for the entire day.

This is a trip you won't want to miss. The S. S. Aquarama features movies and bingo, comfortable deck chairs for lounging in the warm sun, a ship's library, clean restroom facilities and a large ballroom with an evening show.

For the kiddies, there's the glass-enclosed playroom under constant supervision of trained persons. Children must be old enough to play by themselves, as there are no nursery facilities.

Both Protestant and Catholic Church services are available Sunday morning.

Other features of the beautiful liner include four restaurants and two cocktail lounges, checkroom service and elevator service to all nine of her decks.

Indications are that the quota will be filled quickly, so make your reservations now. Simply fill out the coupon and mail, including check or money order for the full amount, to: CRUISE, Hartley Newspapers, 3465 W. Broad-st, Columbus 4, Ohio. Reservations may also be made at the front counter of the Hartley Newspaper office.

JET POWER helps Ohio Fuel serve you better!
Jet power has been brought down to earth to help the Ohio Fuel Gas Company meet increasing demands for natural gas in 745,000 Ohio homes, stores, and industries. In the world's first harnessing of jet thrust for industrial needs, Ohio Fuel's parent company, the Columbia Gas System, is now using a jet engine to pump natural gas. The jet engine—like those that power the fabulous new jet airliners—propels millions of cubic feet of gas a day on its way to Ohio from the big gas fields in Louisiana. This revolutionary new achievement is the result of the constant program of progress by Columbia and Ohio Fuel to serve you.

Jaycees Hit On Idea For Safer Driving

Each year, Memorial Day traffic on Route 40 through Columbus is very heavy due to Indianapolis 500 festivities.

The Prairie Lincoln Jaycees have decided to do their part this year to encourage safe auto operation and benefit drivers through their area.

This group plans to sponsor a free coffee break from 3 p.m. until 12 midnight Tuesday, May 30, Memorial Day. Two stands, one on each side of the highway, near New Rome will offer tired drivers free coffee and soft drinks.

"Statistics show that some accidents could be prevented if only drivers would stop occasionally, get out of their car and stretch their legs," said Bob Oberst, club president.

"It is our hope to induce mile-weary travelers to stop and take a break . . . and, perhaps, prevent a serious or fatal accident as a result," he said.

Plan Annual Open House May 26 At Friendship House

This year's theme will be "The Olden Days'. To recapture the flavor of the early days of this country, nursery and preschool children will dress as Indians and sing, older boys will participate in Indian wrestling and games, girls dressed as Indian maids will portray Indian life.

Cowboys will move across the scene with songs of the old west, settlers will move in with their country dances and song festivals.

An old-time melodrama will be presented by teen-agers. The adult groups will carry this theme through their performances.

The Austin Whitacre Orchestra will play mandolins, banjos and fiddles, throughout the program. It will later furnish music for round and square dancing. There will be a community sing.

Your Youth

By Hilltop YMCA Staff

The spring program at the Hilltop YMCA is rapidly drawing to a close. Plans are now underway for new summer events which were announced in the newsletter sent to all "Y" members.

West Broad ran off with the championship in the second annual Hilltop Y's Men Gray-Y Relays held May 20 on the West High track. Several new records were set with a good crowd on hand to cheer their favorites to victory.

The Gra-Y programs will be coming to a close this week with all clubs scheduled to have their annual picnics. Saturday morning at 11 the Gra-Y Council will have a special picnic at the "Y."

Winner of the Annual Hilltop YMCA Jet Badge Sale was Chuck Martin of Lindberghs. The runner-up award was given to Steve Hedges of Binns. These boys, along with other members of Indian Guides, Jr. Hi-Y and Gra-Y who sold badges, have added to the fund for development of the ball diamonds and play area behind the "Y." Several salesmen have not made their final report yet and it is hoped that these will be taken care of in the near future.

Members of Westmoor, Hilltonia and West Jr. Hi-Y Clubs will be closing out their activities for the year with a picnic which will be held Thursday, May 25, at Westmoor School. Softball games and track and field events will highlight activities for the evening. All boys should report behind Westmoor School by 4 p.m.

The last scheduled Junior High Dance will be held Friday evening, at 7:30 at the "Y." It will be open to members of the Hilltop YM or YW. Non-members will be charged 50 cents.

Beginning June 2 the Hilltop YMCA Youth Center will be closed except for special programs. The building will not be open on Saturdays during June, July and August.

Little Nine applications are available at the Hilltop YMCA for those boys who have not received one through their school. Cards will be sent out to all boys who have turned in their registration forms as to when they should report for the first time.

Any boy interested in attending Camp Willson should get in contact with the "Y" office. Application forms are available. There are still openings for all periods.

Here Is A Tip, Litterers: Watch Where You Dump!

The violator dumped the trash on the Berlin Reservoir Public Hunting Area, Portage, Mahoning and Stark Counties. Wildlife Patrolman Max Duckworth found it two days later and the violator was found guilty in the Alliance Municipal Court the third day.

Key to the cast was finding a name and address in the papers in which the trash was wrapped. Duckworth followed up the lead immediately with the result that a $100 fine plus costs was levied.

Duckworth reported that he took pictures of the littered area and these photographs helped to make the case.

Little Ones Not For Adoption!

Spring is the time of year most wild animals reproduce their kinds. According to the division of Wildlife, folks think they can adopt these wild animals and birds which "seem" to be lost or abandoned by the parents.

The most recent case involves wild goose egg "snatching" which has been going on at or near the Mercer County Wildlife Refuge.

"This," says Roger McElroy, supervisor of game management, "is just as illegal as taking the young. According to the law, it is forbidden to disturb a nesting goose, take the eggs or molest the birds in any way.

"This law holds true on both public and private lands."

BREAKING TRADITION

Officials in Burbank, Calif., broke more than a pipe when they cut the ribbon opening a two-million-dollar highway extension. They cast aside scissors and drove a Model "T" Ford car through the ribbon.

IDLE HOUR GUIDE . . .

Friday – 'Ruth Lyons Day' Here; Big 500 Exclusive On WMNI

By Stan Robinson

Ruth Lyons has assembled one of television's most talented and versatile casts and Friday brings the entire group to Vet's Memorial in Columbus for the 50-50 Club on WLW-C.

The guest list from the "queen city" will include the Newsman Peter Grant, Chief Meteorologist Tony Sands; the popular Bob Braun host of "Bob Braun's Bandstand", singers Bonnie Lou, Ruby Wright, and Marion Spellman, Cliff Lash and the orchestra.

Robinson

Channel 4 will be represented on the show by Hugh DeMoss, news director; Jimmy Crumm, sports director, Jack Davis, "Jack's House" and Weatherman Stan Robinson.

19,476 women will be disappointed as the mails bring a card stating that "we are extremely sorry that it is impossible to fill your request for Ruth Lyon's "Fifty-Fifty Club" when the show originates in Columbus, May 26." Ruth Lyons made just two mentions of the Columbus trip and Channel 4 mail handlers were inundated with envelopes. On the brighter side, 4,024 viewers are delighted in opening the mail to find a pair of tickets for the show on Friday, 12 noon.

"INDIANAPOLIS 500," magical phrasing, every Memorial Day when the biggest and most colorful racing classic of the year draws a 100,000 people and untold millions to their radio. This is a good reason for some 26 radio announcers to pool their efforts through the originating facilities of WIBC in Indianapolis, coordinated by Sid Collins, a veteran at the scene.

WMNI radio will again have exclusive radio coverage in central Ohio with activity to commence around 10:30 a.m. and last until about 3:30 p.m., according to Program Director Bill Robinson. This past week, WMNI has offered some informative background on the race with trackside interviews with drivers, busy during time trials.

ABC's JOHN CAMERON SWAYZE TO VISIT COLUMBUS . . . The versatile John Cameron Swayze, probably one of television's best remembered newscaster when "Camel News Caravan" was a consistent viewing habit for millions on NBC-TV, will visit Columbus and WMNI radio Friday, in his current role of weatherman, ABC radio.

Locally, Kar-Mel Village will be the focal point of Swayze's visit as that particular builder plans to tie Swayze in with their promotions for the next several months. Lennox, air conditioning and heating, plays an important role in Kar-Mel construction. Each week day morning at 8:30, "Swayze's Notebook" is heard on WMNI, while his evening weather show is carried at 5:55 p.m. Friday night the program will originate in Columbus from the studios and will be fed to the some 300 affiliates of ABC. It looks like a busy day for the "men behind the mikes," in the Southern Hotel.

COLORFUL HORSE RACING on "Summer Sports Spectacular" on 10 . . . Three of the most colorful, and dangerous horse-racing events held in the United States and England are spotlighted — the Grand National, Maryland Hunt Cup and the Grand National at Aintree, England. Bud Palmer will host the program for CBS-TV, Saturday at 6 p.m.

"ASK HAROLD COOPER," General Manager of the Jets on Channel 4 . . . Columbus Jet General Manager Harold Cooper will answer questions from the fans in a new show that will precede all remaining televised games on WLW-C. Write your question in to the attention of "Ask Harold Cooper," Channel 4 Columbus, Ohio. Sports Director Jimmy Crum will work the show directly from the field at Jet Stadium 7:30 p.m. with the first show set for May 31, next game on television.

Little Bit Of Careful Planning Can Double Camping Pleasure

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROD COCHRAN

Ever tried a combination camping and fishing trip? Or perhaps camping, fishing and boating? With camping and boating becoming more popular family sports all the time, the fisherman may find he has less time for his hobby. The answer to this problem is to make your jaunts to good fishing waters and then wet a line when interest in other activities lags a little.

Weekends trips are becoming the thing, so I've selected some some locations not too far from home that should keep the whole family happy. Fishing is good at all of these spots and other recreation possibilities vary quite a bit.

Clear Fork State Park — A very scenic area in southern Ashland County. One campground is right along Clear Fork which offers good fishing downstream. Nearby is Pleasant Hill Reservoir which you may want to utilize.

Pleasant Hill Reservoir — The Muskingum Conservancy District provides a campground near the lake. Fishing for bass and walleyes is popular. Up to six-horsepower motors are allowed in Richland County, and horsepower is unlimited in Ashland County.

East Harbor State Park — A boat launching ramp is provided for campers only, and provides access to East Harbor and Lake Erie. A lot of new facilities for campers were opened here last season. The swimming beach is excellent. A lot of bass and bluegills are taken around the weed beds in the harbor, and fishing from shore is possible. Location is in Ottawa County.

Hueston Woods State Park — Acton Lake is not large, 625 acres, and motors are limited to six-horsepower. The lake is in a beautiful forest setting, and the water is usually in good fishing condition. There are 100 campsites available here. The park is located on the Butler-Preble County line.

Pymatuning State Park — In the extreme northeastern corner of Ohio is this unique area on the shores of large Pymatuning Lake. Most of the lake is in Pennsylvania, however your Ohio fishing license is good if you do not touch shore on the Pennsylvania side. Walleyes are the main attraction, although other species are taken. Motors are limited to six-horsepower.

Rocky Fork State Park — Plenty of water with the chance of taking bass, both largemouth and smallmouth, and muskellunge. Motor horsepower is unlimited. The park is in Highland County, and offers 100 campsites.

Tappan Lake — Some of the best fishing waters in eastern Ohio. The campground is operated by the boat dock concessionaire, as is the case at all Muskingum Conservancy lakes. Motors up to 18-horsepower are allowed, depending on boat size. The lake is in Harrison County.

Leesville Lake — Another Muskingum Conservancy lake in a beautiful setting. Water is usually clear, and some really large muskies have been taken in the past couple of years. Bass fishing is also good. Motors are limited to six-horsepower. The campground is small and often crowded.

Dollar Day Is Planned At Gooding's

Gooding's Zoo Amusement Park will officially open the season Saturday, May 27, with an innovation in the amusement field.

Saturday has been designated as Dollar Day at the Park and, upon purchasing an identification tag, patrons can ride all the rides, except the live ponies, as much as they want all day from noon until 9 p.m.

According to President F. E. Gooding, this affords an average family of four to spend the entire day on the rides for only $4.

Park officials are encouraging family groups, business firms, church groups, reunions, neighborhood get-togethers and organizations to bring picnic baskets to the free picnic grove and spend the day.

The park features some 20 rides this year. All park rides, including the Roller Coaster, Ferris Wheel, Merry-Go-Round, Dodgem, Tilt-A-Whirl, Octopus, ten new kiddie rides, Train, Looper and others will be included in the Dollar Day special.

IT'S A FACT

Farmers average about $1.37 an hour for their labor; a factory worker earns $2.29, the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service reports.

MANY BENEFITS grow from the work depicted here. A homeowner donates unwanted furniture and clothing to one of the familiar Salvation Army "red shield" trucks—men are given work therapy and are rehabilitated—needy families benefit from the renovated goods.

Salvation Army Appreciates Help

The Salvation Army is appealing to its many friends and benefactors for help in meeting the needs of those who come for assistance.

Usable furniture and clothing are now urgently needed.

Donated articles are processed and repaired at the Men's Social Service Center, located at 584 S. High-st. Here gifts accomplish a number of purposes.

Work therapy is helping 75 men to regain their self-mastery and again lead a productive life.

The Salvation Army has long been known for its helping hand extended to those in need. In addition, it maintains "Thrift Stores," where lower income families can shop at ease and find furniture and clothing at a very low price.

The Salvation Army in its rehabilitation program is not subsidized financially by any federated fund-raising agency. Its entire program is financed through the sale of material picked up by the "Red Shield" truck.

Donors may contact the rehabilitation center by calling CA. 1-4369, and arrange for truck pickup of items.

BIRDS 'N BUDS

Metropolitan Parks Offer Nature Walks

By Ron Pataky

Attention all nature lovers . . .! There's good news in the making for those Central Ohioans who are interested in a layman's look at our local bird and plant life, according to a recent announcement by the Columbus Metropolitan Park Board.

Paul E. Goff, staff naturalist, has announced bird and wildflower walks will be held at 7:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., respectively at Blendon Woods, Blacklick Woods and Darby Creek, Franklin County's three metropolitan parks. After the first Sunday these walks will continue each Sunday thereafter through May 28.

The spring program planned for the Darby Creek Park, located on the Koebel-Suydam-rd in the southwestern part of the couty, is in its second year in this park. Darby Creek is the newest of the three metropolitan parks, having first been opened to the public in September, 1959.

The early morning bird walks will be conducted by guest leaders who are familiar with local bird-life, as well as other phases of Ohio wildlife, while the wildflower walks will be under the leadership of staff naturalists.

These walks, which have been conducted every spring for the past 10 years, have been tremendous successes in the past, according to Goff. On occasion, they have ". . . opened new horizons to people seeking a fascinating hobby," he said.

The walks are open to anyone. The groups will leave from the trading post in each park at times stated above.

Goff stated that this is the ideal time of year for the bird

An added feature at the three parks will be special color movies on nature and travel which will be shown beginning Tuesday, June 6 at Darby Creek, Wednesday, June 7, at Blacklick Woods, and Thursday, June 8, at Blendon Woods, and will continue on these respective nights through the week of Aug. 28. The movies will begin at 8 p.m.

Three Villages Overlap Counties

Three villages in the Rural-Urban area are among the 32 of Ohio's 930 municipalities that are located in more than one county.

They are Canal Winchester, located in Fairfield and Franklin Counties; Harrisburg, which is part Pickaway and part Franklin and Plain City, overlapping Union and Madison Counties.

This report comes from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown and is part of the "Ohio Population Report," which his office will issue soon.

Plant Approved

County Commissioners have approved a request from the Robert-Shaw Fulton Co., manufacturers of electrical equipment, to rezone a 30-acre plot of land on the west side of Rt. 71 near Grove City.

Academy Will Offer Classes

Columbus Academy will conduct its annual summer school for girls and boys, starting on Monday, June 19, and running for seven weeks through Friday, Aug. 4. The daily schedule, Monday through Friday, includes four class periods from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The courses are designed for girls and boys who have had difficulty in school work or who want to strengthen their academic background. Size of the classes is kept at a minimum so that the masters can give each boy and girl a great deal of individual attention.

In addition to the summer school, the academy will conduct a day camp from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to accommodate girls and boys below the fifth grade level. While this is primarily a recreational program, instruction in elementary subjects is available.

GROUP SPONSORS CAR WASH

ONE HARTLEY NEWSPAPER press car is a good deal cleaner thanks to the West Columbus Civitan's semi-annual car wash. Actually, this cleaning job was a bit premature as the group will sponsor a full-day car wash Saturday, May 27, at the Prairie 66 Service Station, 4949 W. Broad-st. Proceeds of the day's activities will go to Civitan charities including the State Hospital, State School, Boy Scouts and Buckeye Boys' State. Interested persons may call TR. 8-5002 or TR. 8-0194 for information.

Once burned, Edouard le Loster, 48 Walked 240 miles from his home to a courtroom in Brive, France. There he paid a $50 fine for riding a train without a ticket.

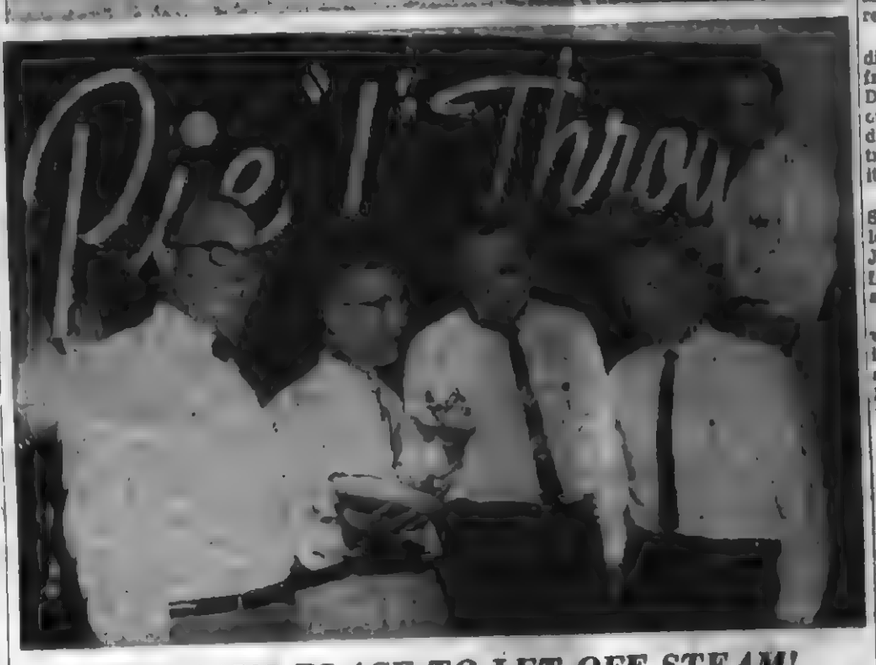
Judge Draper Heads Ohio Effort To Save Battlefield

A Hilltop man who has a love for things historic has accepted the Ohio chairmanship of a mushrooming effort to save the Gettysburg Battlefield.

Common Pleas Judge Robert M. Draper, 194 S. Westmoor-av, is rallying the support of every Ohio county as part of a nation-wide drive to buy up historic portions of the battleground now threatened by home developments.



A representative of the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association appeared with Judge Draper at the Wigwam last Wednesday. More than 100 members of the Ohio General Assembly and members of veterans groups there heard first details of a plan to raise $1.5 nationally next fall.

The GBPA proposes to issue pseudo deeds on the needed 700 acres at $1 per foot. The land then is to be turned over to the government for permanent inclusion in the park.

It was pointed out that Ohio troops played an important part in the early hours of the famous Civil War battle. No state monument has ever been erected at the site. There are a few regimental markers, however.

Members have had many activities scheduled. Beginning on Apr. 1, Karen Born, Patricia Carter, Mary Ann Flowers, Cecelia Gentry, Karen Predmore, Toni Warren, along with Ruth Knott, Linda Morris, Lynn Richards, Kathy Washburn and Alice Weigus, of Troop 580, helped to patrol Glenwood Park before and during the annual Easter Egg Hunt.

Recent activities of Troop 548 in carrying out their ongoing Cloverleaf I Cottage Project at the State School have been making and filling Easter baskets and most recently the giving of puppet shows for inmates. Girls participating in this latest project were ninth graders, Betty Ball, Karen Born, Rita Breckenridge, Cecelia Gentry and Toni Warren.

On Apr. 16, these Girl Scouts from Troop 548, assisted by Darlene Shank, of Troop 206, represented the Ohio Trefoil Council in acting as assisting hostesses for the annual Recognition Tea held for volunteers at Gove Hall: Mary Ann Flowers, Karen Predmore, Sandra Rotola, Beth Spangler and Toni Warren. On Apr. 25, nine members of the senior patrol of this troop attended the Apr. council meeting held at St. Peter's Lutheran Church. This experience was to aid the girls in learning more about their council. This is in fulfillment of one of the five points in the senior program.

Both the eighth and ninth grade patrol members of Troop 548 helped in carrying out a combined troop birthday party and a court of awards recently. This was the seventh anniversary for the troop. There were nine seven-year girls, three six-year girls, two four-year girls and one one-year girl.

Adult supervision was furnished by Mrs. Joseph Gentry, Mrs. Norman Predmore, Mrs. Fred Maggiore, Mrs. Campbell Warren and Mrs. Raymond Born.

The council-wide State Fair display included several displays from troops and individuals in District 8, as well as from many other areas in the city. This display was sponsored from District 8 but was council-wide in its make-up.

The group was also honored with the presence of Mrs. Marion Packard, council president, and Mrs. Edwin Erickson and Mrs. Newton Hess, first and second vice presidents of Ohio Trefoil Council. Stirring music will be provided by the marching bands of Hilliard and Central High schools.

A nice Rosebud bouquet to Rev. Joe Shellhaas who is about to retire as minister at Glenwood Methodist Church. His untiring efforts in so many directions, both in his church work and in civic affairs, have done much in the continued building of a fine community. Friends inside and outside his church wish him well and hope for the best of life in years to come.

We Lose A Good Friend

We at the Hartley Newspapers offices are saddened this week by the fact that our papers carry the story of the death of Mrs. Elsie Kattau, a proof reader with our organization since 1951.

Elsie was a grand lady and loved by all. Her reliability, her loyalty and her friendliness endeared her to all who were associated with her.

West Side Clean-Up Starting

Date for the opening of the first phase of the West Side Cleanup Campaign have been announced by Glenn Beach, chairman of the West Side Council Health Committee.

City housing inspectors have been working in the West Side for the past 10 years and expect to complete their work this week. They have been looking for safety and health hazards in local homes.

From June 5 to June 16, rubbish will be collected by city flat-bed trucks, following the regular garbage truck routes. The special trucks will haul away all rubbish placed at the regular garbage pickup spots.

Art Bellar, of the Division of Sanitation, said the trucks will haul anything from old furniture on down in size. Trees will not be picked up unless they have been cut into small logs.

Anyone desiring special pickup during this two weeks period should call CA. 1-2211, extension 328. Bellar emphasized that crews would not go into garages or homes. All rubbish must be piled at the garbage pickup points, he said.

The West Side Council is also arranging definite dates for cleaning all streets in the West Side during the month of June. The dates will be published in next week's paper.

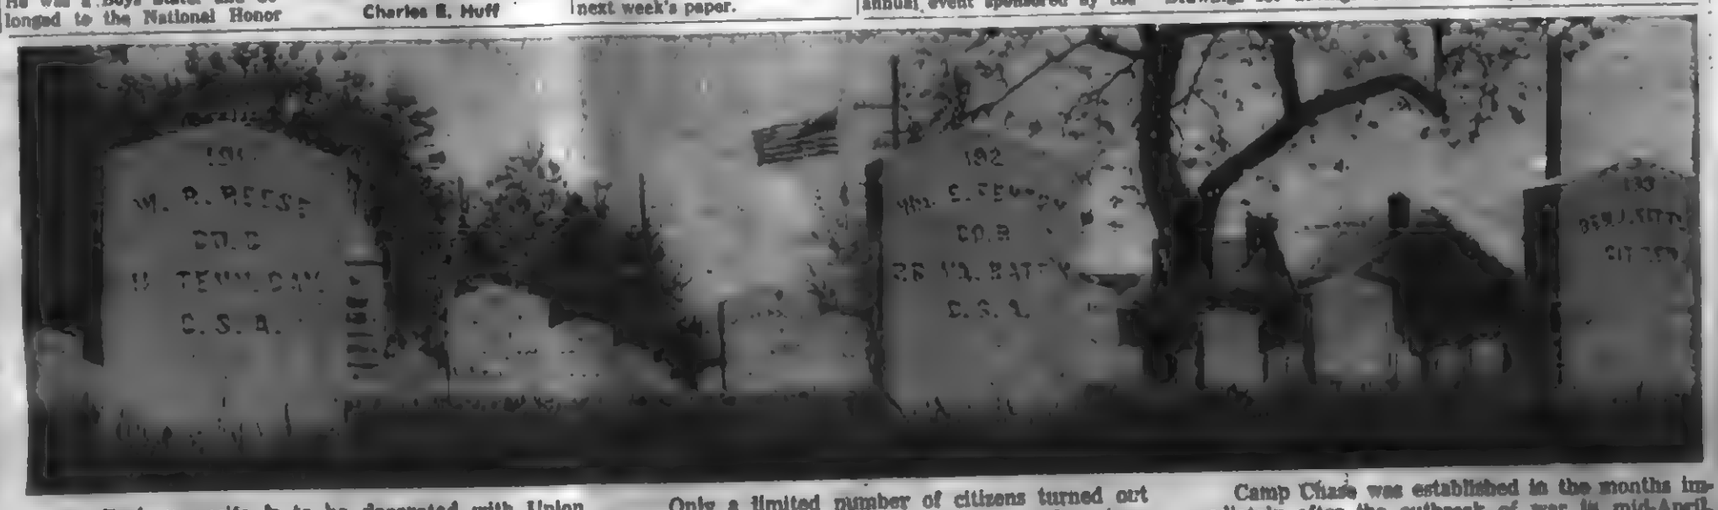
HBA Merchants Offer New York Trip For 2 As Bean Dinner Award

Visualize a weekend in New York, "toted" to and from by American Airlines, two nights at the famed Vanderbilt Hotel—breakfast there, too—a sightseeing trip in the metropolis, a show at Radio City Music Hall and an evening at the Latin Quarter. And, as if that wasn't enough, there'll be $100 in cash just for spending money.

That's a trip to dream about, but it will become a reality for some Columbus area couple on the night of July 26 at Westgate Park, thanks to the Hilltop Business Association.

The Jaunt to New York City is the top award to be given at the Hilltop Bean Dinner, an annual event sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association, to be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 24, 25 and 26.



But there will be lots of other prizes, too, including Savings Bonds and silver dollars — all through the cooperation of Hilltop merchants.

Eligibility coupons will be issued at the places of business of participating HBA members, and containers for the filled-in coupons have been provided each merchant. No purchase is necessary to obtain a coupon and there is no limit as to the number of times a person, who must be 18 years of age or older, may register.

Drawings for Savings Bonds and silver dollars will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday nights of the Bean Dinner, but the top award—the trip to New York for two—will not be given until Wednesday evening. Time of the drawings will be announced later, as winners must be present to collect their awards.

All official coupons will carry the stamp of the issuing HBA member on the back side. No HBA member or any member of his immediate family will be eligible to win any of the prizes.

A complete list of participating merchants will be found in an advertisement elsewhere in the newspaper.

For W. R. Reese, William E. Fenton and Benjamin Kittle, the long drum-roll of time has measured out almost 100 years.

The men—one a member of Co. C., 11 Tenn. Cav., another of Co. B., 26 Va. Batt'n., the third just a citizen—lie buried in Camp Chase National Cemetery here with 2,257 other Confederate war dead.

They will be honored in memorial services Sunday, June 4.

Scheduled for 2 p.m., the program is sponsored annually by the Daughters of the Confederacy at the cemetery, 2900 Sullivant-av.

Old Glory Flies For Rebel Dead

Rev. Paul W. Johnston, minister of the Worthington Presbyterian Church, will deliver the memorial address this year. Invocation is to be given by Rev. John W. Moody, vicar of St. Edward's Episcopal Church.

Organizations scheduled to participate are: Camp Chase post of the American Legion—salute to the flag; 37th Division Band of the Ohio National Guard—music; Army personnel from Ft. Hayes—firing squad; Disabled American Veterans and Veterans of World War I—presentation of flag to Daughters of the Confederacy.

Each gravesite is to be decorated with Union and Confederate flags.

Mrs. Marcus Crocker, representing Daughters of the Confederacy, will preside.

Sunday's program comes as the latest in a long series of observances dating back to 1894.

In that year, Col. William H. Knauss, a Union veteran who was badly wounded during the bloody battle for Fredericksburg, initiated the Confederate Memorial Day service.

Only a limited number of citizens turned out that first year to pay homage to the men for whom the war had no end.

However—after the dark days of doubt that plagued the nation during reconstruction had passed, the onset of the Spanish-American War gave common [illegible] to both north and south—Col. Knauss' careless campaign paid dividends.

The cemetery was cleaned up and annual service initiated.

Camp Chase was established in the months immediately after the outbreak of war in mid-April, 1861.

Built four miles west of the State House on a tract known as the Racegrounds, it became an organizing center for volunteers from throughout Ohio.

Under the direction of Gen. William Rosenkrants, who later in the war would lead Union troops through Tennessee and the Middle South, 180

Judge Draper Heads Ohio Effort To Save Battlefield

A Hilltop man who has a love for things historic has accepted the Ohio chairmanship of a mushrooming effort to save the Gettysburg Battlefield.

Common Pleas Judge Robert M. Draper, 104 S. Westmoor-av, is rallying the support of every Ohio county as part of a nation-wide drive to buy up historic portions of the battleground now threatened by home developments.

A representative of the Gettys-Battlefield Preservation Association appeared with Judge Draper at the Wigwam last Wednesday. More than 100 members of the Ohio General Assembly and members of veterans groups there heard first details of a plan to raise $1.8 nationally next fall.

The GBPA proposes to issue escudo deeds on the needed 700 acres at $1 per foot. The land then is to be turned over to the government for permanent inclusion in the park.

It was pointed out that Ohio troops played an important part in the early hours of the famous Civil War battle. No state monument has ever been erected at the site. There are a few regimental markers, however.

buildings were constructed by June 12. The camp was officially dedicated in honor of ex-governor Salmon P. Chase on June 20.

Confederate prisoners began trickling into Camp Chase during the first week of July, 1861. They were captured during the inadept sparing between Union and secession troops in the Kanawha Valley of western Virginia.

By July 19, the flood of prisoners had swelled the camp's population to 4,200.

Thousands of others followed. Among them were men in butternut taken at Gettysburg, Cold Harbor, Fort Donelson and during General John H. Morgan's famous raid across Ohio in July, 1863.

Dimensions of the stockade at Camp Chase near the end of the war were reported as 700 feet long and 800 feet wide.

Some 9,416 prisoners were jammed into the detention center in the early days of 1865. It was then enclosed with a 12 foot high board fence.

Conditions made life at the camp far from pleasant. Water was drawn from shallow wells. Fuel for cooking and heating was meager—three sticks a day per man. Fare consisted primarily of salt beef, bacon, coffee, sugar and bread. The diet was supplemented at periodic intervals with corn meal and vinegar. The hospital—set apart from other buildings—was known as the pest house.

Disease and death were rampant.

In all, over 5,000 Confederate prisoners died at the camp, most of them during a smallpox epidemic which ravished the post in 1863.

Slightly more than half were returned to their beloved South by family or friends after the cessation of hostilities.

The rest—"Americans" all—lie buried at Camp Chase.

Sunday they will be honored again.

Agonis Honors Athletes

The Agonis Club held its [illegible] annual athlete-scholar award program last Wednesday honoring such youths as Dave Farson of South, Glenn Carr of Central, and Jerry Mechling of Bexley.

When the affair was first founded, Aquinas, Central, East, North, South and West were the only schools participating. With the addition of Bishop Hartley to the list this year, 22 schools participate in the special scholar-athlete recognition [illegible].

This year only three schools, Eastmoor, Marion Franklin and Franklin Heights, did not nominate boys for the awards.

To qualify for the recognition the high school boys must earn at least four letters in any combination of sports or three in one, and must keep up grades of B or better.

The popular Tennyson Guyer, public relations director of Cooper Tire Co., of Findlay, was guest speaker this year, his second appearance before the Agonis Club affair.

Last Week To Sign Up As Jr. Jet

The Columbus Recreation Department's registration program for Junior Jet League Baseball is still open for 8-12 year old boys who have not signed up yet.

The applications are available at the city's 15 recreation centers or at the Recreation Office at Room 124, City Hall, and should be returned to the office this week.

After this registration, the recreation department will determine the league areas where the boys will play and will announce these areas prior to the June 14 opening of the playgrounds.

In so far as possible, league areas are located at every playground that has a ball diamond and where ample registrations show an interest in this popular baseball program.

The program will start as soon as playgrounds open and all boys will be placed on teams, will play at least three innings in each ball game and will play at least two games a week.

Tourney Is Slated

The tourneys will be conducted for five weekends through July 1 with merchandising certificates and trophies for the winners.

The family tourney will be divided into five divisions: father-son, mother - daughter, mother - son, father - daughter, and husband and wife. Winners will receive $25 gift certificates, second place winners will receive trophies.

The headpin tourney will be in four divisions, adult men and women, and junior boys and girls. Winners will receive trophies.

The tournaments are ABC sanctioned and handicaps will be observed.

Catholic Classes To Move

Bishop Ready High School will serve triple duty next [illegible].

Three Catholic secondary schools — Bishop Ready, St. Francis De Sales and Holy Family—will hold classes in the new building, a diocesan spokesman announced this week.

Bishop Ready, situated on Columbus' Far West Side, extreme of Mound-st, will be completed in time for classes next September.

The school represents the current project financed by the Diocese Development Fund.

In announcing that operation of Holy Family High School would be transferred to the new location, diocesan officials again emphasized that the school would be continued until the present freshmen class graduates in June, 1964.

As previously planned, freshmen who in the past would have attended Holy Family will enroll at Bishop Ready next fall.

Holy Family's sophomore, junior and senior classes will continue to be taught by the Sisters of Mercy.

St. Francies De Sales' freshman and sophomore classes will hold classes at the new school until their building at Karl and Ferris-rds, on the North Side, is completed.

Parent Outlines 'Safe,Sane' Prom Party For West Grads

Dear Editor:

There has been so much adverse publicity concerning the senior prom parties, especially since the terrible tragic deaths this spring in our near-by towns, that I thought you might like to print some little article telling those in the Hilltop area what the parents of West High seniors are planning to keep the students occupied and entertained that "one most exciting night of their young experience."

First — I sent a copy of a letter to all parents (also a menu) so that they would be advised of the program — where their youngsters were to be — at what time, etc. etc. (which many parents have since told me they thought was a good idea).

As you know —the prom at the school, will be held in the gym from 8 until 12 Friday, June 2 — sponsored by the school and chaperoned by the teachers.

The parents' sponsored party will be held at the Deshler-Hilton, beginning at 1 and lasting until 4. There will be a buffet supper served in the grand ball room — dancing to Tommy Dale's orchestra and entertainment directed by John Crawford, comedian. There will be many prizes to be distributed.

This will be followed by a breakfast held at the Westgate Park closed shelter house from 6 until 8 on Saturday morning. Students will be urged to return home after breakfast.

We have had wonderful response from the parents — no one has refused to help make this affair a success — and many have volunteered without being asked.

Those serving on various committees are as follows:

General chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edwards, breakfast committee Judge an Mrs. Robert Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Apel, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hawes, Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Geist, Mr. and Mrs. George Jenay, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Ricker and Mr. and Mrs. Starling Williamson.

Tickets and reservations, Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Langdon, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crosier, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Ducrier and Mr. and Mrs. John Sines.

Prizes, Mr. and Mrs. William Staley, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Carfrey, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kanatas, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Predmore, Mr. and Mrs. George Ralph and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Stewart.

Sincerely, —
Mrs. Arthur M. Edwards

Food Market This Week

By ESTELLE R. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits—Strawberries, bananas, canned grapefruit juice.

TIPS FOR YOUR MARKET BASKET IN JUNE

June is an exciting month. It is traditionally famous for picnics in parks and patios. Entertaining is very much in the limelight. And, fortunately, there is a plentiful supply of meats, poultry and dairy products. Produce counters, too, are becoming fuller each week with summer vegetables and fruits to make each day's menu something special.

High Quality beef will be in abundance and at attractive prices, too. Wholesale prices on most cuts are at their lowest level in more than a year. Although it's more difficult to compare prices at retail, low prices are apparent on most cuts, and more "specials" are offered.

Pork and veal supplies may be slightly lower than last month, but the American Meat Institute says you can expect an upturn in pork supplies in July. The abundant and economical supply of lamb will probably continue through the first part of the month. Watch your newspaper ads for especially good buys.

Name a poultry item and it's likely to be a good buy—broiler-fryers, young turkeys for barbecuing, stewing hens and eggs. There is now less difference between the various sizes of eggs. However, in most markets the large sizes are the best values this week.

Milk and dairy products once again take top honors in the grocery store. In recognition of the outstanding role of these dairy foods in our American market basket, the dairy industry has designated June as "Dairy Month," for the 25th year in a row. Watch for good buys on many items.

Strawberry supplies from southern Ohio and neighboring states are at peak of season and prices probably as low as they will go this summer. You'll find a wide range in quality and price, depending upon the source. Growers in the Columbus area expect the bulk of their berries to be ready between June 10 and 20. A few early strawberry buds may have been nipped by frost, but most reports indicate a good crop is in prospect.

Grapefruit supplies are dwindling fast but there are more watermelons and cantaloupe each week with lower prices. Bananas and pineapple are good choices. A few peaches and sweet cherries are arriving—price in the luxury class.

You still have time to enjoy asparagus and to freeze those last packages. Come hot weather, asparagus disappears as suddenly as it arrived, so enjoy it to the fullest. In excellent supply are hot house tomatoes, snap beans, cabbage, cucumbers, green onions, new long white and Sebago potatoes, and Florida sweet corn.

GM Wage Rate Remains Same

General Motors today announced that its more than 300,000 hourly-rate employes including local Ternstedt workers, will continue to receive a cost-of-living allowance of 17 cents an hour during June, July and August.

Under the GM wage formula, there was insufficient change in the nation's consumer price index to require revision of the cost-of-living allowance.

Hogs do not perspire. This means that the only way they have of eliminating body heat is by radiation or conduction to their surroundings, or by breathing out moisture from the lungs.

DR. AND MRS. SHELLHAAS had a handshake for friends and an embrace for the children at the reception that followed the service.

By Betty Daff

Glenwood members and friends by the hundreds gathered at the church last Friday evening to honor their beloved "Rev. Joe", retiring Sunday from the pastorate after 22 years' service.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Shellhaas will move to Bellefontaine and to a quiter life. Dr. Shellhaas will continue in the ministry on a less active basis as supply pastor.

In his typically simple, eloquent manner, Dr. Shellhaas reaffirmed his faith and his love for his friends, and then, with Christian statesmanship, earnestly directed their loyalty to Glenwood's new minister.

"You are always in my heart; walk freely through all its corridors," he said.

"Come and see us anytime you're nearby. We have strawberries and raspberries and there will always be shortcake — and the fishing's fine.

"Your roots are very deep in our hearts. We hope to keep your love always, as you have ours — but you owe your allegiance to your new minister."

Following the short service, a reception was held in the parlor with the Shellhaas's greeting each guest. The evening was closed with a social hour in the church basement.

Sunshine Pot-Luck

The Golden Age Club of Sunshine will have its monthly pot-luck luncheon at noon, June 6.

Ohioans Make The Most Of Water Sites

Upon the invitation of Tom George, sales manager of Henry Boats, Inc., I was treated to a boat ride the other day above Griggs Dam. What do you think I saw? On the busiest boating waters in this area, there were more fishermen out than boaters. Several anglers were loading gear into their boats for a combination outing, and many more fishermen lined the banks.

This is multiple-use of recreation facilities in practice—putting a water resource to triple use. First there is water supply, then fishing and boating.

Complete harmony is too much to hope for in such situations. There are plenty of cases where water supply has caused a draw-down which upsets the recreationists. Some fishermen want a quiet cove to themselves, and resent any disturbances. Bank fishermen do not like boat waves washing their bobbers in to shore. Speed boaters and water skiers do not like a fisherman's boat anchored in their way. Then there are extremists — people who want all the water reserved for fishing and others who lobby for wide open boating with no restrictions.

Usually there is a spirit of cooperation and negotiation. Everyone gives a little and you wind up with the workable solution of multiple-use.

This concept is by no means new, but the word of multiple-use has been coined in recent years. In a crowded state such as ours it's the best solution to the outdoor recreation space problem. Other areas in other states can afford the luxury of single use, a type of resource management that should not be ignored. There should be areas where the dropping of acorns on leaf-litter, a splashing fish and the hum of insects are the only noises.

But here at home, we will have to be content for the most part to pull our large-mouth bass and crappies out of the water with perhaps a sail boat regatta in view. Or maybe a family will be picnicking across the way or an outboard skimming across the water. Water skiing will have to be done in certain zones, horsepower limits and speed regulations must be enforced. Multiple-use offers recreation to a lot of different people, but also carries with it a responsibility of protecting the rights of everybody.

So much for today's lecture.

My jaunt on the waters of Griggs was superb. The sun was shining (no mean accomplishment for this spring). Fishermen were taking fish, mostly crappies and bluegills, with a few catfish thrown in. And George's boat handled beautifully. It was equipped with one of the new inboard-outboard combinations — an engine mounted on the inside of the transom with a propeller unit on the outside. This tips up and permits the boat to be trailered a distinct advantage over a regular inboard boat.

FISHIN' FEVER HAS HIT! Take a look at this lunker smallmouth bass taken from Dale Hollow Lake, Byrdstown, Tenn. The 6-pound 15-ounce trophy is held by Andy Saling, White Castle accountant, who spends his spare time with rod and reel. Saling's catch-of-a-lifetime was 26 and 5-16 in. long and 18½ in. in girth. Bait was a chub minnow on a spinning rod, using an eight-pound test line. In the other picture is a nice catch taken here below O'Shaughnessy Dam by (from left) Lee, Lee Jr., and John Bachman. It included crappies, walleyes, large and smallmouth bass—a fine example of multiple-use of water. Both above the dam and farther downstream at Griggs Dam the water is used by fishermen and boaters.

The Red Cross "Learn To Swim" campaign co-sponsored by WBNS-TV will get underway in most county and city pools about June 16. Pool owners and managers are cooperating with the Red Cross Water Safety Service to provide the best possible instruction for youngsters and adults.

Registration for all classes must be made in person at the community pool in which membership is held or where youngsters will be guests.

Certificates and colorful patches will be issued to those passing each classification.

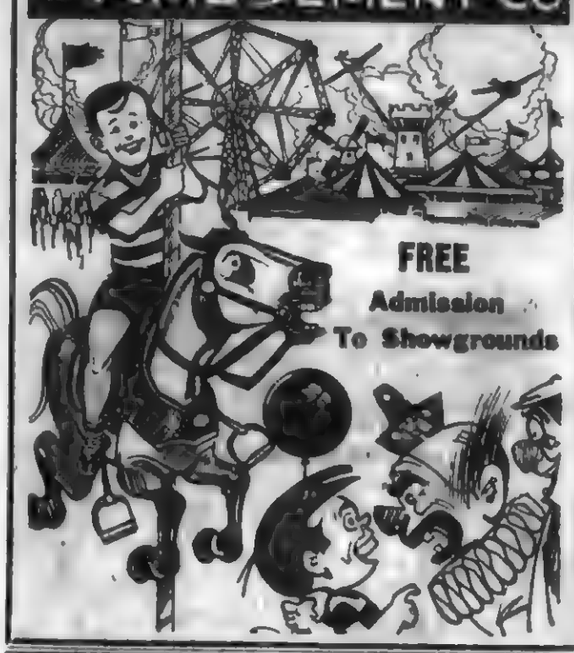
Wildlife Book Is Available

Once again the popular book "Ohio's Wildlife Resources" is available to the public in a revised edition. The informative 216-page volume had been out of print for some time.

When "Ohio's Wildlife Resources" first appeared, it was considered a milestone in the field of wildlife publishing by conservation authorities. It won the "National Award for the Outstanding Publication of the Year," presented by the American Association for Conservation Information, among others.



The written material has been brought up to date. A few new color plates appear in the 48-page section that depicts Ohio wildlife in full color.

The book was written and edited by Rod Cochran, editor of the Ohio Conservation Bulletin, the official monthly publication of the Department of Natural Resources. Publishing was done by the information and education section of the department.

Price is $1.65 per copy which includes sales tax and mailing charges. Orders, with check or money order enclosed, should be sent to: Ohio's Wildlife Resources, 1500 Dublin-rd, Columbus 12.

IDLE HOUR GUIDE . . .

WRFD-FM About To Begin; 'Polliwogs To Whales' On 10

By Stan Robinson

Robinson

FM meaning frequency modulation, a process which eliminates much broadcast static and certainly enhances the high and low sounds.

There are several highlights in the new and diversified program schedule including Johnny Martin and "Newsic," 6 to 7:15 a.m., six days per week. Host Gene Kirby and "Reflections," 11:07 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. is on Monday through Friday and combines music with facts and stories from the years 1920 thru 1955.

Bill Hamilton and "World Audioscope," 8 to 9 p.m. daily presents a composite program with the sounds of the world today. WRFD-FM correspondents around the world will contribute. "This Is Steve Allen," a stimulating excursion with Steve Allen into a variety of interesting and exciting areas of entertainment and serious thought.

A well-liked network star in recent seasons, Steve is heard 9 to 10 p.m. nightly. Many familiar WRFD-FM shows are on the schedule too, including "Sundial," "Marianne," The "PM Show" and the "Lamplighter," WRFD-FM is certain to be a refreshing new concept of entertainment and information on a radio dial.

IN THE SWIM ON 10 . . . Telementary 37 tells the story tonight, Thursday at 10:30 of Johnny Smith, a typical eight-year-old who enrolls in the Red Cross Learn-To-Swim classes to help his exclusive Angels Club win an important swim meet. Johnny's guardian angel is on hand when the youngster needs help, and Flippo the clown makes a special poolside appearance.

HELEN O'CONNEL JOINS "HERE'S HOLLYWOOD" AS CO-HOST.

On the 13th, Dean Miller will introduce his new working partner on the "June 13 telecast of "Here's Hollywood" show, Channel 4. Miss O'Connell, who while still a teenager, gained fame as vocalist with Jimmy Dorsey and his orchestra, replaces Joanne Jordan on the 4:30 to 5 daily NBC-TV show.

On the 13, Dean Miller will chat with Helen O'Connell in her Brentwood, Calif., home and then the following day, she will conduct her first interview when she welcomes Emmy-award-winner Don Knotts to the cameras. Local viewers may recall that back in '57 and '58, Miss O'Connell was a featured member of the Dave Garroway, "Today" show. In the recording world, "Tangerine" and "Green Eyes" will always be remembered, collectively having sold several million copies, sung in the O'Connell style.

SEVERAL CHANNEL 10 FAVORITES TAKE SUMMER HIATUS . . . As the television summer schedules commence, especially affected at WBNS-TV will be the 6:30 time period. "Adventure Theater," now seen on Wednesdays and Thursdays, will expand to a five day-a-week format. The Tuesday show will present "Air Power," an award-winning network series and on Friday, "Jim Bowie" will be seen as a part of "Adventure Theater." Robert Young in "Father Knows Best" will replace "Juvenile Judge" on Tuesdays at 7:30 for the summer, and as of June 4, "Man From Cochise" with John Bromfield steps in for Burns and Allen, Sundays at 6:30 p.m.

HUMOR AND SATIRE for adults and children set on NBC-TV in new show, "THE BULLWINKLE SHOW" . . . An animated cartoon series in color will be a Sunday evening program on NBC-TV starting Sept. 24 with a design for family appeal, using sophisticated humor and satire, action and adventure in comedy situations. Bullwinkle Moose, and his sidekick, Rocket J. Squirrel, a jet-age flying squirrel spend most of their time batting a pair of villainout but comic spies, Boris Badenov and Natasha Fatale. Bullwinkle Moose is the only moose in the world who walks on two legs. Another regular segment of the series will include "Fractured Fairy Tales" with Edward Everett Horton narrating off-beaten versions of popular fairy tales.

ITEMS IN VIEW FOR THE VIDEO . . . "This Week Around the World," a Sunday evening news review, takes over ABC-TV's "Winston Churchill," time period beginning June 18. CBS radio will present for the 32nd consecutive season, the New York Philharmonic Concerts this fall, starting Sept. 30. "Peter Loves Mary," calls it quits on NBC-TV. This week was the finale.

"Face Of A Hero," starring Jack Lemmon leads off the "Playhouse 90" re-runs on CBS-TV beginning Tuesday, July 4. Mary Martin is expected to star in one of the "DuPont Show of the Week," specials on NBC-TV next season . . . "Malibu Run," ends its CBS-TV run on July 19 and will be replaced by repeats of "Reckoning," which in turn are re-runs of old "Studio One," "Pursuit," and "Climax" presentations.

Johnny Carson is now a contender for the role of host on the popular "Candid Camera," Sunday evenings next fall on CBS-TV and Channel 10, replacing Arthur Godfrey . . . NBCs "Meet The Press" welcomes a familiar newsname on June 4, when Edward R. Murrow, director of the U.S. Information Agency, is special guest. The program is seen locally on Channel 4.

SHOE WEAR

How long should a pair of shoes wear a child? That's like asking how far is up. It depends a lot on what the child does to the shoe. For instance, I had a little "leather wrecker" the other day who had managed to wear through the soles of a pair of our best shoes in five weeks. We keep card records, so we knew that his last shoes had lasted five months. Of course that was during the winter and boots had taken the brunt of wear, but now, he wasn't sitting around the house much and he wasn't wearing boots, and, more to the point, he had a new two wheeler bike which he couldn't ride too well. So, he said that when he had to stop, he put his feet down and used his good shoes for brakes. As a general thing, it pays to buy good shoes to protect your child's feet. But it doesn't follow that under abuse, the more expensive shoe will give more wear.

Record Crowds At Jubilee

Pat Sullivan Crowned Queen At Opening Night Program Monday

Before an audience standing a dozen deep around the outdoor stage, 16-year-old Pat Sullivan was chosen Monday night to reign as "Queen of the 1961 West Side Jubilee."

Queen Pat will be on hand to greet the thousands who flock to Sunshine Park, 667 Sullivant-av, the rest of this week to enjoy the fun.

A panel of hard-pressed judges had the knotty-but-nice task of choosing the queen from among 24 beautiful entrants who rode up in a parade in their honor.

The new queen is a 11th grader at Central High School and lives at 225 Dana-av. She was sponsored by Stoll's Market.

As part of her honor, Queen Pat was given a huge trophy from the Jubilee-sponsoring West Side Board of Trade, a $100 modeling course, $25 in cash and a $10 gift certificate from the Davis Department Store.

Chosen as runner-up was Judy Kettell, of 267 Dakota, a 12th grader at Central High. She was awarded $15 in cash and a $5 gift certificate from Davis Department Store.

All the other contestants were given $5 gift certificates.

The judges were Hugh DeMoss, Gene Fullen, Nita Hutch, John C. Young and Judge Robert Draper.

Jubilee Chairman Chuck Ater was all smiles as he predicted that record crowds will take advantage of the good weather and enjoy the jubilee spirit.

By late Monday night, a vast number of the complimentary tickets had been returned by kiddies under 12 for bargain admission on rides furnished by the Gooding Amusement Co. Tickets are still being distributed free by West Side Merchants.

Still to come this week are four more days of fun at the Jubilee.

Tonight, a boxing tournament is planned for 7 p.m. Star attraction of last year's Jubilee, the boxing card features seven fights between 14 fighters from recreation centers throughout the city.

Two popular attractions—a greased pole climb and car wreck—will be held each night of the Jubilee.

Thursday, teenagers 13 to 16 years old will have an opportunity to demonstrate their pie-eating talents in a contest scheduled for 6:30 p.m. All entrants must register at the park by tonight.

Friday, a sawdust pile full of pennies will be thrown open to kids eight-years-old and under. The half-hour frolic is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m.

Saturday will come as the grand climax of the Jubilee.

After a full day of fun at the park, the Gene Fullen show will be held at 9 p.m.

Immediately after the performance, all prizes—including the 10-day paid vacation for two—will be given away.

OLD SCHOOL WAS 'NEVER LIKE THIS'

AMID A CHORUS of "Oh's" and "Ah's" a group of sophomores from Holy Family High School decided Thursday afternoon that the old alma mater was "never like this." The 10th graders, under the tutelage of Fr. Richard Endres, were given a preview look of their gleaming new home for the next two years—Bishop Ready High School. All Holy Family secondary classes will meet in the new building in September. Among the students accompanying Fr. Endres (third from left) were Carol Stattmiller, George Ream, Beatrice Ring, Barbara Ryan and Gary Crumley. Fr. Endres is scheduled to be the first principal of the new school.

SEARCH IS ON FOR BEAN QUEEN

That is — it's time the gals of the Hilltop expecting to enter the competition to select the queen begin to take care of the necessary details that will make them official contestants.

Hilltop Bean Dinner officials take a liberal view of eligibility requirements. Girls entering must be single, 15 years of age or older and either a resident of the Hilltop or an employe of a member of the Hilltop Business Association. The Hilltop area has been defined by the H. B. A. — for contest purposes — as west of Central-av to the Franklin-Madison County line.

Entries, accompanied by a photograph, preferably billfold size, should be mailed to the Hilltop Business Association, 2552 W. Broad-st, Columbus 4. An entry blank for that purpose will be found elsewhere in this newspaper.

The winner, together with a court of two attendants will be chosen on the first evening of the Bean Dinner, to be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 24, 25 and 26, at Westgate Park.

A trophy and a $25 US Savings bond will be awarded the queen and her attendants will receive $25 Savings Bonds.

Council Sets $220,000 For Women's Facility

The Columbus City Council Monday appropriated $220,000 to finance construction of a 1½ story brick women's workhouse.

Plans call for the new building to be built just north of the Columbus Workhouse. It will house some 75 inmates.

The appropriation is among the last group of capital improvements expenditures for 1961.

The Council also authorized appropriation of $50,000 for development of Southview Park.

A Planning Commission recommendation to rezone a tract adjacent to the Valleyview Community Center from commercial to residential was approved by the council.

A spokesman explained that the commission felt the commercial zoning was "out of line" with the residential use of the area.

The Council adopted boating regulations for the recently created recreation area north of Greenlawn Dam. The new code is identical to those in force on other Scioto River reservoirs.

In other action affecting are resident, the council authorized the transfer of real estate owned by the city to Pilot Dogs, Inc. in exchange for same amount in Southview Park anad granted a water tap to C. A. Gibeaut ,Inc., 3260 Valleyview-dr.

Vacate Rush Alley from Sullivant to McDowell-st, excepting portions of interesting alleys and streets.

Rezone a 50-foot strip of land located at the rear of the proposed property on the west side of Harmon-av between Griggs and Greenlawn from residential to commercial.

Four Area Teachers Are Promoted

Appointments of four teachers in area schools to the posts of cadet principals was approved by the School Board Tuesday.

Promoted were Mrs. Barbara Guyer, sixth grade teacher at Lindbergh; Mrs. Ruth Allen at West, and Robert Browning and Everett Reynolds at Central High.

The four will be assigned to the administration building for a training period, and then be appointed as principals.

Scholer Warns Of Hazardous Traffic

Police Chief George Scholer has warned here that the opening of baseball season "appears to have made traffic on Sullivant-av, W. Mound and W. Broad-sts particularly hazardous during the evening hours."

He called on motorists to exercise "special attention" while driving on these streets.

Scholer also ordered Precinct 2 patrolmen to crack down on reckless operation of motor vehicles and assured clear distance ahead violations.

Enforcement activities are to be intensified on W. Broad and W. Mound between 6 and 11 p.m., he said.

Two area intersections were among the high accident locations during the second half of May, Scholer reported.

Sandusky and Broad topped all intersections in the city with six accidents during the two-week period. Four accidents were recorded at Central and Mound.

Trott To Receive Diploma At OSU Summa Cum Laude

Richard W. Trott, 615 Columbian-av, will graduate June 9 from Ohio State University, school of architecture, college of engineering summa cum laude (with highest praise).

Friends are invited to an open house in his honor Sunday, June 11, 2 to 5 p.m. at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trott, 686 Galloway-rd, Galloway.

Trott has collected an impressive list of honors during his college career. He was recently initiated into Sphinx, senior men's honorary, and Texnikoi, engineering honorary, along with receiving the coveted AIA medal awarded annually by the American Institute of Architects for general excellence in architecture.

The Architect's Society of Ohio and the Columbus Producers' Council both recently recognized him for his outstanding scholastic record.

He has received the faculty prize from the School of Architecture for four years as top student in his class and has also attended the President's Scholarship Recognition Banquet for high ranking students.

He has served as chairman of class memorials on the senior class committee along with being a member of the President's Committee of 88, Secretary of Ohio Staters, Inc., and a member of the Student Chapter of The American Institute of Architects.

During his college career he has received both the Joseph Bradford Memorial and John Noble Richards Scholarships. He placed third in the nation in the Cardinal Lercare design competition and also won an honorable mention in the Koppers design competition.

Last summer he was chosen by the architectural firm of Voorhees Walker Smith, Smith and Haines to represent Ohio State University in participating in its training program in New York City. An article written by Trott appeared in the January, 1961 issue of "Living for Young Homemakers."

He will be working in Columbus for the next year or two and will then attend graduate school in the east for his Masters Degree.

A 1955 graduate of West High School, Trott is married to the former Vera Jean Mincks.

Mound-st Sidewalk Issue Aired

A situation termed "critical" by various local PTA leaders, may be remedied by Columbus' Chief Engineer Robert F. Werner, near the first of July.

For sometime now, PTA groups from Hilltonia and St. Agnes elementary schools have been working with the Hilltop Community Council to get sidewalks on E. Mound-st.

The plea was issued by the PTA representatives for walks between Wheatland and Wayne-avs on both the north and south sides of Mound-st.

Mrs. Charles Shaw, corresponding secretary for the Hilltop Council, reported Monday that "things looked pretty good" for the sidewalk projects.

"I received a letter from Mr. Werner last week," Mrs. Shaw said. The letter read in part as follows:

"The city, owner of parkland on the South side of Mound-st, is taking steps to construct a five-foot wide concrete walk in front of its property on July 1."

A problem still remains,

Special Rubbish Collections In Progress On West Side

The west area Cleanup Campaign opened with a bang Monday.

Five brand-new trucks of the Department of Sanitation were thrown into the drive for a "Cleaner Columbus." The vehicles included four regular rubbish trucks and a special flat-bed for use in hauling away anything from old furniture on down in size.

The pickups will continue on the regular days through June 16. Anyone wishing special pickup on large items should call CA. 1-2211, extension 328.

A spokesman for the West Side Neighborhood Council announced this week that the second phase in the Cleanup Drive in that area will begin Wednesday, June 21.

On that day, and for three Wednesdays thereafter, the Division of Street Maintenance will sweep and clean all West Side Streets.

The water and brush units will start in the Franklinton Neighborhood Project north of Broad on June 21 and work south. The exact dates and boundaries for each Wednesday's work will be reported next week.

The West Side Council has urged that all residents cooperate with the city in the project, so that all streets can be thoroughly cleaned.

The street cleaning program is a special effort sponsored through the cooperation of the West Side Council and Division of Street Maintenance.

A spokesman for the council explained that the city normally does not concentrate its efforts on one area as in this campaign.

He pointed out that "it has been a long time since all the streets on the West Side were cleaned at the same time."

A survey by city housing inspector on the West Side was completed here this week. In the area, city inspector condemned two houses and ordered the owners, of 71 others to fix up their property.

Assistant Safety Director James Worster, who directed the inspection, praised West Side residents for their improvement efforts.

The inspectors were seeking unsafe or unhealthy violations of the minimum housing code.

In other action this week, the Health Committee of the West Side Council met with the neighborhood committee of the Gay-Hartford-Meek area to make final plans for the pilot project to be conducted in their area.

By a joint agreement the campaign, which will be completed on June 19, 20 and 21, has been designated the "Franklinton Neighborhood Project."

It will be an intensive clean-up, fix-up, paint-up effort, which is to serve as a guide for the whole city.

All residents of the four-square-block area have received a letter outlining plans and seeking 100 per cent cooperation in the program.

JUNE 14 . . . A FAMOUS BIRTHDAY

On Flag Day, Thursday, June 14, the Stars and Stripes will be 184 years old.

We should hoist this stirring piece of cloth and let it wave because it is a symbol of the past, of the men and women who went before us, and of the records they wrote upon it. We have the opportunity of honoring the birth certificate of great events, of a great plan of life worked out by a great people.

We hope to see our Flag wave up, down, and across the nation as an emblem of our power and purpose as a nation today. Let us remember the proper way to display it on our buildings. If a flagpole is not used, hang the Flag so that the blue field is uppermost and to the left of the observer in the street.

Flag Day can be — should be — something special for all of us.

WHERE WERE YOU THURSDAY NIGHT?

Maybe it was just the time of year, as one man said.

Or the unseasonable heat, as another gloomily suggested.

Or maybe — and this seems more probable, — it was just plain indifference.

Whatever the cause, the record stands. No one turned up for a discussion of "Our National Purpose" which was to have been held Friday night at Sunshine Recreation Center.

No one, that is, if you exclude six members of a PTA group who happened to be at hand and who were more-or-less "shanghaied" to save the meeting from being a complete flop.

As has been pointed out again and again, a great contrast between the United States and Russia is apparent in national direction or lack of it.

We — the spokesmen for the free peoples of the world — are vacillating in a sea of self indulgence, hoping that no one will rock the boat.

Friday's meeting, part of an idea fostered by the National Recreation Association, might not have accomplished much.

It would have been after all, just one meeting in one section of one city in one state. But that is not the point.

The point is, that no one — not one person — cared enough to come out and try.

Perhaps our first goal as a nation must be — not freedom and justice for all men — but to inject a sort of spiritual adrenaline in the souls of our people, of our people who just don't care.

And just one last thing
Where were you Thursday night?

REMEMBER FLAG DAY

IT'S A HISTORICAL FACT!

The first flag of the United States originated 184 years ago in the Second Continental Congress,— 11 days after it was requested by an Indian as an emblem of protection for his chiefs!

Jones Gets John Hay Fellowship

He is one of 76 teachers selected from 20 states and the District of Columbia who will study for a year in the humanities at six universities: California, Chicago, Columbia, Harvard, Northwestern, and Yale. Each will receive a sum equivalent to his teaching salary, full tuition, health fee, and transportation costs for himself and his family.

Jones, the son of Mr and Mrs. W. Haydn Jones, 82 S. Sylvan-av, was graduated from West High School, Ohio State and Columbia University T.C. before becoming an art teacher in the Dearborn, Mich., public schools.

He and his wife, the former Carolyn Campbell of Columbus, and their son will leave for the University of California at Berkeley in August.

Farm mortgage lending in 1960 showed a downward trend. Compared to 1959 lending by federal land banks was down 12 per cent, by the Farmers' Home Administration, 10 per cent; and by 21 insurance companies, 10 per cent.

Hilltoppers Take Course At Hospital

Dalzell R. Maxwell, 273 S. Richardson-av and Mrs. Barbara Tallini, 753 Chestershire-rd, were among 19 persons honored June 4 for special volunteer service at Columbus State Hospital.

They received pins from Dr. Lowell O. Dillon, superintendent, for completing an intensive three-month Advance Orientation and Internship course. This consisted of five evening lectures and discussions, and three months of rotating individual assignments.

The course is designed to prepare volunteers to better meet the needs of patients, especially in the fields of recreation, music and occupational therapy.

Patients are visited regularly by 63 organizations, including Ladies of Maria and Glenwood Fellowship Club. Among local officers of the Volunteer Service Council are Noble L. Allen, Jr., first vice president; Harry E. Richter, Jr., treasurer; and Margaret Dunaway, secretary.

Rausch Wins Dumbarton Scholarship

Geoffrey L. Rausch

One of two Dumbarton Oaks Garden scholarships given this year by Harvard University has been won by a Hilltopper.

Geoffrey L. Rausch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lew Rausch, 3051 Palmetto-st, has received a $1000 grant to provide for a summer of travel and study of historic and contemporary examples of landscape design.

Geoffrey is a senior in landscape architecture at Ohio State University. He has also received the faculty award, a book, for his achievement.

Young Rausch will spend one month in research at the Dumbarton Oaks Research Library of Collection in Washington, D.C. This will be followed by a month of travel study along the Atlantic coast of the United States.

Record Season Expected At Camp Lazarus

On the basis of early reservations, a record camping season was predicted today by Robert May, official director of Camp Lazarus, which is operated by the Central Ohio Council, Boy Scouts of America. The program will open June 18, following a week of intensive training and preparation by the general staff.

Lazarus is a 319-acre camp, five miles south of Delaware, just off route 23. The camp will offer eight weekly camping periods conducted for Boy Scouts 11 years of age and older. All troops will camp under their own adult leadership at a fee of $17 per Scout per period. Scouts may register and deposit a $2 fee with their scoutmaster. This summer it is anticipated that 2,300 boys will enjoy camping at Camp Lazarus. Last year there were in excess of 2,000 campers. There is a resident staff of 20.

Name The Lion Now— Only Three Days Left!

Entries in the Hilltop Lions Club "Name the Lion" Contest must be postmarked no later than midnight, Saturday, June 10, to be eligible for a share in the $100 jackpot of prizes that will be awarded at the Lions Community Fourth of July celebration at West High School.

"Dozens of youngsters in the eligible age group, primary through high school grades, have already entered the contest," according to Ervin Schmidt Lions president-elect and context chairman. "Even more have asked for additional copies of the official entry blank," he added.

Since the contest rules and blank appeared only in the annual newspaper of the Lions Club, they are reprinted here as a courtesy of the Hilltop Record and West Side News:

In full view, you could see even better that he's a friendly Lion whose cowboy garb represents our western area community and Hilltop Lions Club services to the community by his pistol which, naturally, contains six notches for (1) sight saving, (2) community betterment, (3) health, (4) education, (5) welfare, (6) boys and girls.

Six notches on one gun means there are 12 notches on both guns and this represents 12 years of service to the area.

The pistols are .47-calibre specials, standing for the 47 men who first formed the club, the fourth Lions Club in Columbus as indicated by the four bullets in the gun belt.

The purpose of the cartoon is simple. It's to bring a better understanding of the Hilltop Lions Club to the community.

The Lion, once it is officially named, will be used to publicize the club and its projects. A cutout, 10-feet high, will be placed in a conspicuous place to herald special events and will be on display at the Fourth of July celebration.

All entries must appear on the official entry blank. Members of the Hilltop Lions Club and their immediate families are ineligible.

All entries will be judged on the basis of aptness of thought, neatness, spelling, originality — with prime concern of the suitability of the name selected in respect to the organization which it represents.

All entries will be judged by an eight-member Lion committee. Selections are final.

First prize is a $50 savings bond plus an 8"x10" sketch of the Lion.

Second prize will be a $25 savings bond and the third place winner will receive a $10 cash award.

Three other prizes of $5 each will also be awarded.

Winners will be notified in advance of July 4 by mail.

Hillcrest Bible School Opens On June 12

Hillcrest Baptist summer vacation Bible School will be held at the church, W. Broad-st at Eldon-av, June 12 to June 23, daily from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

Newly revised curriculum material will be used in all departments from kindergarten through juniors—ages four through 14.

Totman Finishes Special Course

Army National Guard Capt. William G. Totman, 42, whose wife, Ann, lives at 223 Demorest-av, has completed the officer career course at the Transportation School, Fort Eustis, Va.

Captain Totman is regularly assigned as a motor maintenance officer with the 37th Infantry Division, a National Guard unit at Fort Hayes.

GROUNDBREAKING SERVICE for the new addition to St. John Lutheran Church, W. Broad-st at Hague-av, was held May 28, preceding the 10:30 a.m. worship service. The head of each church organization participated in the rite. From left are, Larry Kable, assistant Sunday School superintendent; Charles Wilson, Brotherhood President; Harold Krull, vicar; James Matheny, stewardship chairman; Rev. C. T. Langholz, pastor; Weldon Shively, evangelism chairman; Ralph Culp, vestry chairman, and Fred Schaaf, building committee chairman. Services will be held at the church for several more Sundays and then at West Broad School until the building and remodeling is completed.

Ceremonies Mirror To Expansion

A ground-breaking service and two cornerstone ceremonies within a week are signs of the progressive times on the Hilltop.

St. John Lutheran Church broke ground for a new addition to the building, W. Broad-st at Hague-av, May 28.

Cornerstone was laid and blessed for St. Aloysius Elementary School, now under construction on Wheatland-av behind the church, Sunday, June 4.

Glenwood Methodist members also laid the cornerstone for its new church building being built on Valleyview-dr west of Hague-av, in a service held last Sunday afternoon.

St. John's congregation will worship at West Broad School while the church is undergoing an extensive expansion, remodeling program. Members expect to reoccupy the structure by Christmas.

St. Aloysius School, replacing the old building on W. Broad-st at Clarendon, will be finished in time for enrollment next fall when classes reconvene.

Glenwood Methodist, adjoining the new Hilltop YMCA, is also slated for completion by Christmas.

Bible School Set At West Broad

West Broad Street Presbyterian Church, Dakota and Broad-st, will hold vacation church school for age groups of kindergarten, primary, junior and intermediate, June 12 to June 23.

After viewing the film, "Highlites of the 1960 Olympics," and a few choice stories by the event's chairman, Dwight Black, coaches, athletes and parents adjourned to the cafeteria for refreshments. Decorations were handled by next year's varsity cheerleaders, Vickie Hixson, Barbara Hunter, Sandy Malone, Sara Paini, Joyce Pear and Judy Vargo.

Also coming in for some special recognition among the departing Bronco athletes were this year's outgoing varsity cheerleaders, Chriss Carfrey, Anne Halley, Judy Castle, Kathy Jo Smith, Joan Lorenz and Sandy McMillan.

Incidentally, speaking of cheerleaders, hearty congratulations and best wishes go out from this corner to those six lucky gals who recently won berths as next year's reserve cheerleaders and thereby the varsity two years hence. Survivors of the 80-plus girls who tried out for the six slots are Linda Bruner, Becky Baker, Debbie Guenther, Bette Waldeck, Sue Scholten and Karen King. All 80 practiced on their own for weeks and then received aid from next year's varsity cheerleaders in the last few weeks. Some 20-odd finalists had to go through two tryouts before the eventual six winners were announced.

Two graduating seniors copped special honors and were recognized at the affair although both awards had been previously announced. Gary Alwood was awarded the much coveted Agonis Award given to the outstanding scholar-athlete in the senior class of most Franklin County high schools each year by the Agonis Club.

The receiver of the award must not only particiate in more than one sport but carry a "B" or better average in his classwork. Gary was the starting center, although weighing only 160 pounds when he inherited the job on the football for team for two years. He also played defensive end and linebacker, thereby going "both ways" most of the time.

An outstanding young golfer he has been an "ace" of the Cowboy linemen for two year. In the spring Alwood not only played on the golf team but was also on the baseball squad.

Last year he saw part time service in the outfield but this spring made a fine transition as the regular first baseman and was the team's outstanding batsman with an average well over .300. In his high school career he had also played end on the reserve football squad and played reserve basketball for one season.

The other senior award winner was Don Birle who achieved the Miles Award as this year's most improved member of the football team. Coach Bill Schmitter, in presenting the award at the recent Senior Recognition Assembly pretty well summed up Don's qualifications for winning the award.

"Don began the season at end (it was his second year of varsity ball) but due to injuries we were forced to shift him all over the line offensively and defensively. At every position that we used him he did a fine job.

"However if he had been able to stick to and properly develop one position there is no doubt but what he would have been outstanding and properly gained more personal recognition.

"However his sacrifice and effort for the best of the team, coupled with his well-done jobs at any slot made him the prime choice for this award.

Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alwood of 3201 Stephen-dr S., and Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Birle of [illegible].

Other special awards — Jim Brewer, the Haunts Award as the outstanding athlete-scholar. He was a fullback on the varsity football squad last fall; Lew Coles, the Noble Allen Award as the outstanding sophomore track athlete. He was also a varsity member of the football and basketball teams this past year as a sophomore. The outstanding athlete in the graduating class this past January already has been presented to Jan Greer, a varsity football lineman for two years.

It's sort of a toss-up as to which provided the worst disappointments and beatings to the West golf team this past spring, weather or the opponents and the ensuing scores. Of the regularly scheduled seven matches against other schools (conducted on six Monday nights, one match being a triangular affair against two other schools at the same time), only three matches were gotten in "between showers." Since the other matches would have had no bearing on the loop's, final outcome, the remaining ones were permanently postponed.

Of the three played all were lost as the Cowboys probably had a tough golf campaign this year. The first match against North, with Gary Alwood the only winner, was reported earlier in this column. The other two were the "triangular" matches against Upper Arlington and Linden McKinley, the two ton "dogs" in the Monday section of the loop. West didn't score a single point as Alwood had a bad night, shooting an 89 and thus the Cowboys were shut out 18-0 "twice."

Alwood was the only Cowboy linksman to enter the district tournament this spring and he missed by a whisker making the state tourney. He shot a 74, good for sixth place in the district. Actually he shot the third lowest score of the tourney as a 71 (tied) won it and then four men tied at 73 for second. Top medalist, besides any on qualifying teams, is eligible for the state meet, and all but one of the five preceding Gary were on the winning two teams. Therefore he missed by one of qualifying. There are several local and statewide competitions upcoming for high school golfers that he will probably be entering this summer, so much more will probably be heard from this lad on the links.

Cub Scouts Taught Cooking Prior To Summer Outings

Eight young Hilltop Cub Scouts are making sure they'll be ready to cook their own meals when it comes time for summer hikes and camping trips.

The youths, members of Den 3, Pack 520, have been getting intensive training in the culinary arts the past three weeks from Betty Newton, the Ohio Fuel Gas Company's home service adviser and food preparation expert.

A free six-lesson cooking course for the boys was arranged by Miss Newton at the request of Den Mother Mrs. Gilbert J. Driscoll, 253 S. Burgess-av.

Members of Den 3, sponsored by St. Aloysius Parent-Teachers Assn., include Doug Driscoll, 253 S. Burgess-av; Tommy Kennedy, 272 S. Terrace-av; Charles Jones, 362 S. Agden-av; Edmond J. Brittefeller, 183 S. Warren-av; Charles Kerber, 261 N. Wayne-av; Randy Sleeper, 294 N. Ogden-av; Michael Near, 53 S. Burgess-av, and Michael Moeller, 115 N. Huron-av.

Bruce Driscoll, brother of Doug, and a member of Boy Scout Troop 520, also was a member of the class.

Cooking instruction for the boys centered on foods which can be prepared easily indoors or outdoors. One lesson was devoted exclusively to breakfast preparation, so that the boys will be qualified to help their mothers on busy mornings at home.

It marked the first series of classes for a Boy Scout group in the Columbus area, Miss Newton said. Many local Girl Scout and Camp Fire Girl groups have taken the free Gas Company however, according to Mrs. Shaw. "We've got to get the various property owners in that area to construct sidewalks in front of their dwellings before the project is complete," she said.

Werner said that if the private walks are not constructed within a "reasonable length of time," legal proceedings will be initiated to cause their construction.

The PTA officials claim that children attending both of the mentioned schools have to walk in "ankle deep mud" on their way to school.

They claim that their children "are in danger" and that immediate action should be taken.

"If all the property owners won't cooperate," Werner said, "the installation will be a slow process since legal proceedings are time consuming."

Five Girls To Represent Area At Buckeye Girls State

Saturday, June 17 marks the opening of the week-long American Legion Auxiliary Girl State Program, on the campus of Capital University.

Girls who will be arriving from all parts of Ohio will be divided into two political camps. Candidates will be chosen, campaigns conducted, elections held and, in general, the staid old campus at Capital becomes a political arena.

This year, Camp Chase Unit 98, American Legion Auxiliary, will sponsor in co-operation with the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and the Hilltop Lions Club, the largest number of delegates ever to represent the Hilltop and West Side.

The girls have been selected on the basis of leadership, scholarship, personality and their keen interest in the functions of American government.

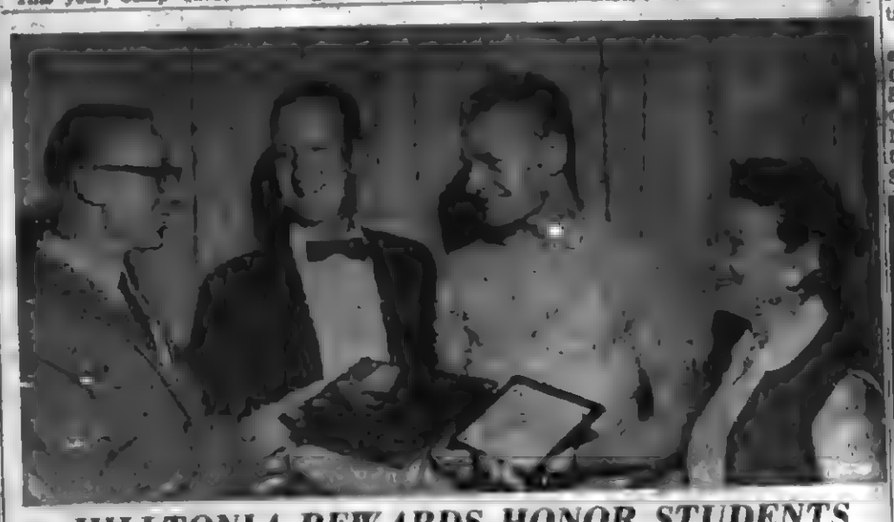
From Franklin Heights High School, Betty Feyh, 999 Frankrd, and from Holy Family High, Teresa Knipfer, 3107 Eakin-rd.

Miss Peggy Radel is president of Camp Chase Unit and Mrs. Larry G. Scales is unit Americanism chairman in charge of Girl State activities.

Attendance at this year's Buckeye Girls State is expected to be about 1050, the largest in its 14-year series.



In 1960 nearly 20,000 girls participated in Girls' States, with the largest enrollment of 980 recorded at Buckeye State.

Delegates will participate in the two-party system of political organization, campaigns, elections and the functioning of government. Each girl has a function — elective or appointive.

To supplement their practical experience, delegates will hear Gov. Michael Di Salle, Ohio Supreme Court Chief Justice Carl W. Weygandt, and Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, director of the Institute of International Studies, Bradley University.

Many other state, county, and city officials from Ohio will be guest speakers and advisors..

SHOE PRICES
What makes a shoe worth twenty dollars? Is it possible for a manufacturer to put twenty dollars worth of leather in a shoe? I've been asked this and similar questions many times.
My answer is that there isn't twenty dollars worth of leather in a shoe but there certainly can be twenty dollars worth of comfort in a good shoe. Cheap shoes may resemble good shoes externally, to such an extent that you can't tell the difference immediately, but just put your foot in them and you can feel the difference immediately.
There is a quality of fit that never comes in cheap shoes because it requires time and money to put it there. If you value your feet, don't count pennies when you are buying shoes. You get only one pair of feet and you have to make them last a long time.

Broad; east to Murray Hill South; then south to Sullivant-av; east to Georgesville-rd; north to Broad; and return eastward to Southampton.

Runs are made every half hour between 6 and 10 a.m.; every hour between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.; half hourly from 3 to 7 p.m.; and hourly from 7 to 10 p.m. All starting times are from Southampton.

Fares will be 35 cents for adults and 20 cents for children ages six to 12.

The operation began with one new 25-passenger bus, Goodin said.

At present there are no arrangements for transfer tickets between the Lincoln Village and Columbus systems.

Proposed Site For Playground Draws Protest

A suggestion that the median of West Park-av might be used as a playground has drawn a howl of protest from persons living in the area.

A petition protesting the proposed playground construction on the center strip was signed by 77 residents of the thoroughfare and forwarded to the West Side Neighborhood Council.

The protest stems from a report at the council's May 11 meeting which noted the interest of the City Park Department in use of the median as a fenced play area for children.

The petition has been referred to the council's health and recreation committee for recommendation.

Are You Among The 10% Who Really Catch Fish?

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROD COCHRAN

There's an old saying among fishin' folks that has more sense than poetry to it—that the boy who goes fishing the most is going to catch the most fish.

While on the surface this looks to be a statement as innocent as a baby's smile, there is much more to it than meets the casual eye.

It is often said that 10 per cent of the fishermen catch 90 per cent of the fish. I do not know about exact percentages, but basically the statement is true. This profound bit of knowledge came to me one summer at Buckeye Lake where I was employed by the Division of Wildlife as a creel census-taker, determining angler success.

My job was to talk to fishermen, asking them questions about how long they fished, what bait was used, and what was caught. I measured all the fish I saw that summer, and weighed many of them.

A huge percentage of the anglers I saw had no fish. Some were irate, and made it very clear that they thought the lake was void of fish. Most of them were disgruntled at not catching fish, but welcomed the outing and were appreciative of their day on the water.

The lesson to be learned here is what separated the 90 per cent from the 10 per cent. Why do a few fishermen consistently catch fish, while most of them flail the water to a froth with artificials or drown fishing worms to no avail?

Here is the answer: work, persistence and an inquiring state of mind!

I would be the last to try to change your fishing habits. If you want to combine fishing with family outings twice a year, fine. If you sit in the sun and snooze a little under the pretense of fishing, more power to you. You return home refreshed, and that's the main thing. But don't complain about not taking an ice chest full of fish with you.

Extra Effort Pays Off

To graduate into big league fishing takes plenty of effort, but is not any less sporting than casual fishing. These fishermen go home just as refreshed of mind as any others, but usually they are physically exhausted. They work at fishing, and thereby find their recreation.

To join the noted 10 per cent, you must learn to lose some sleep. You will be out early and often you must stay late. Eating lunch will be a luxury that will sometimes have to be foregone.

Physical mastery of your tackle will be a must. A spirit of inventiveness is also a necessity, for you will have to fish with different lures in different ways at different times. You will fish at day and at night, in sun and rain, in clear water and muddy. And, you will catch fish. As you catch more and more, you will learn by experience until you reach the point where you are seldom, if ever, completely skunked. Often, you will bring home a stringerful.

If this sounds like too much work, and it does to me, then forget the big leagues. Enjoy yourself on the water, but don't complain about the fishing too much. Remember the old saying, the boy who goes fishing the most catches the most fish.

Graham Film Is Planned At Drive-In

Billy Graham's new film "The Heart Is A Rebel," will be shown at the Christian Drive-In Saturday and Sunday, June 10 and 11, 8:15 p.m.

Drive-in is located just south of 1900 W. Mound-st.

The film was made during the New York crusade, and stars Ethel Waters and the entire Graham team.

Jimmy Rea, director of the drive-in, announced the new parking area for church buses will be ready and, as in the past, the group having the greatest number present will be given a large Sallman's painting of the head of Christ. Groups should turn in the number to the projector booth during intermission, and each child will receive a free bottle of pop.

Tsk!

IDLE HOUR GUIDE

Birthday Greetings To "Casper," New Series: Project-Youth

By Stan Robinson

Casper, the lovable camel celebrated a birthday this past week, June 5 to be exact. "Casper Capers" was first seen in Columbus on Channel 6 in June of 1955. At the time he was a star on another WTVN-TV show called "Play Yard."

The creator of Casper is a talented young man, in action behind the Casper set, five days a week for a half hour at 4. Sky Lucey carefully watches a television monitor and guides the daily proceedings on the screen. Lucey is a producer and director as well as the man who plays the role of Casper.

Robinson

Casper chats with his friend Chuck Nuzum and together they introduce the cartoons, read the mail and sing happy birthday songs to the children. Nuzum has been with the show since its inception. Casper receives more mail than any other personality at the station. Children of ALL ages are his friends.

WLW-C OFFERING A NEW SERIES on Saturday nights . . . Four young people will be special guests each week with Hugh DeMoss, Channel 4 News Director moderating an informative new program in a six-week series. The first show this past Saturday was titled "Youth Looks At The World Community." On June 24, "Youth Looks At Morals,"; July 15, "Youth Looks At Opportunity"; Aug. 5, "Youth Looks At Religion"; Aug. 26, "Youth Looks At Government" and on Sept. 16, "Youth Looks At Education." WLW-C's Special Broadcasts Service Director, Betty Shepherd advises that a special adult guest will join the students from time to time.

"TV GUIDE" READERS CHOOSE FAVORITES . . . The second annual "TV Guide Award Show," on the NBC-TV network is slated for Tuesday, June 13, 10 p.m., channel 4. It will be in color and black and white. Nanette Fabray and Jackie Cooper will star in the entertainment portion . . . all but the final 15 minutes, when awards will be presented in eight categories as voted on by readers of TV Guide. Sketches lampooning the television industry will be part of the entertainment. Efrem Zimbalist Jr. will be the host and will take part in the skits of the telecast originating both in New York and Hollywood.

OUT OF TOWN SALUTE on 10 during June . . . Throughout June WBNS-TV will salute many communities outside of Franklin County with filmed scenes from some 80 areas in Ohio. Photographer Dick Williams and the film department station wagon have been making the rounds in quest of interesting pictures.

INDUSTRIAL AUTHORITIES ON "THE NATION'S FUTURE . . . A question of vital importance to American industry, "Does The United States Need A More Restrictive Trade Policy", — will be debated Saturday, June 10, on Channel 4 and NBC-TV, 9:30-10:30 p.m. Jackson E. Spears, vice-president of Burlington Industries, Inc., will take the affirmative position and Charles H. Percy, the chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Bell and Howell Co., will present the negative case.

IN VIEW FOR THE FUTURE . . . John Daly, who subbed for Dave Garroway during Garroway's recent leave of absence from the "Today" show is expected to take over the show when Garroway departs, probably before the end of summer. Ailing Lucille Ball has cancelled her CBS-TV special "Lucy Goes To Broadway" which was supposed to be filmed this summer for December. Victor Borge's first special for the 1961-62 season is scheduled for CBS-TV, Wednesday, Sept. 27 . . . Rex Reason won't be part of ABC-TV's "Roaring Twenties" cast when the series commences in the fall.

OUTPOSTS OF CULTURE HIT BACK at famous hairdresser . . . A prominent hairdresser succeeded in getting in the hair of many "Dave Garroway, Today" viewers a week ago when he commented that everything 10 miles outside of the New York city limits "becomes very dull and old fashioned."

According to the mail and phone calls, Mr. Kenneth of Lily Dache, had struck with a hot curling iron. Anita Colby who conducted the interview had explained that the man was probably the best known hairdresser in the country and that he had designed Jacqueline Kennedy's hairdo. Marilyn Monroe and Zsa Zsa Gabor are among his clients too.

When Miss Colby asked him whether "Mrs. Kennedy's hair style has any effect on the hairstyles around the country, outside of New York, Mr. Kenneth dropped his bombshell, saying "everything becomes dull and old fashioned when you travel 10 miles outside of New York." He even thinks that Mrs. Kennedy's hair style, which she has had for three years, has become to him, "an old hairdo." Outraged feminine viewers in such outposts of culture as Westport, Conn., not to mention Boston, San Francisco and dozens of similar places indicated very plainly they would like to get their hands on Mr. Kenneth's hair.

96th Division Plans Reunion

The 96th Infantry Division Association has invited all veterans of the unit to attend the fourth annual reunion of the division at Detroit, July 27-29.

The session will include business meetings, a moonlight excursion on the Detroit River, "gab" sessions, banquet and dance.

He Gets A 'Kick' From Mingling With The Crowd At A Carnival

On a warm summer evening, Floyd Gooding likes nothing better than to mingle with midway crowds at a jubilee like the one sponsored by the West Side Board of Trade at Sunshine Park.

The fact that the dimes or quarters they spend mean money in the bank for the Gooding Amusement Company may contribute to his pleasure, but it is not the main cause. Gooding just likes people, he says.

For more than 50 years he has been entertaining the public. His Uncle John owned a steam operated merry-go-round and Floyd sold tickets for a nickel for him. These tickets entitled the buyer to ride the wooden horses for a few minutes. But to Floyd they were passports to pleasure.

Somehow he seemed to have communicated this feeling to the crowd, because his Uncle John called him the best "dawg gone" ticket seller in the business. Today, many years later Gooding is still proud of that.

He is also proud of the business heads. Located right here on Columbus' West Side, it is the largest operator of riding devices in the world. Twelve travelling units with more than 125 rides transported by 230 tractors and trailers, operated and maintained by some 6,000 employees.

The units play more than 150 fairs, festivals and jubilees during a single season, travel half a million miles and most important of all as far as Gooding is concerned, "provide pleasure for more than ten million people annually."

No Charge To See Maids

There will be no admission charge at the Maid of Roses contest this Sunday at Whetstone Park, Mrs. Kay Barber of the Parks and Forestry Division has announced.

Girl Scouts

OPEN HOUSE SCHEDULED — A cordial invitation is extended to parents and friends of registered campers to attend the annual Open House scheduled to be held at Camp Ken-Jockety Sunday, June 18, from 2 to 5 p.m.

Dorothy Gamber, established camp director, and her staff will be present to receive visitors. This will be the only visiting day during the 1961 established camp season.

Brownie troop 661

A troop birthday party was held May 29 with Susann Castorino as the honored girl for the month of May. These monthly birthday recognitions are a part of the troop observation. Leader is Mrs. James Mullins and Mrs. Walter Ball, assistant.

NOTE — Day Camp starts June 26 at Camp Darby. Members from the Hilltop Neighborhood who have just completed their Day camp training include Mrs. Robert Duncan, Mrs. Sammie Lancia, Mrs. William Schultz, Mrs. Walter Ball, Mrs. James Mullins, Mrs. Gilbert Weaver, Mrs. Earl Potts, Mrs. Donald Stout and Mrs. James McKenna.

Intermediate troop 249

Recently troop members had as their guest, Mrs. Charles Kinsworthy from England, who spoke on "International Friendship." She explained all about the Girl Guides and this was followed by a question and answer period.

Suprising information for troop members and leader Mrs. Sammie Lancia, was that the guide uniforms were different from the American ones, they also learned that the troops were called companies and their leaders are called captains, with the assistant leaders being lieutenants.

Girls are working on their second class. They took a hike to Holton Park and worked on their nature 2nd class requirements.

Glenwood Minister Is Named

Rev. Warren H. Bright, appointed minister of Glenwood Church during the Methodist Ohio Conference in Lakeside, will arrive at the parsonage the first of the week from his present post in Cincinnati.

Rev. Bright, recuperating from a recent kidney stone operation, will not assume full duties of Glenwood's ministry for several weeks.

He served pastorates in Pomeroy, La Rue, Forest, Lima and Urbana before his appointment to the Cincinnati Church in 1949.

A native of Logan, he was graduated from Boston University School of Theology.

He and his wife, Betty, are parents of two children. Their son is enrolled in the graduate school of the University of Chicago where he is working on a Ph D. degree in the mathematics of bio-physics.

Their daughter is spending the summer in France as a governess and will return in the fall to college in Washington, D.C.

Guest ministers will speak at Glenwood until Rev. Bright is able to assume his full duties.

'KING OF THE HILLTOP' CAMPAIGN UNDERWAY

A campaign to determine who will be "King of the Hilltop" at the forthcoming Hilltop Bean Dinner was launched with appropriate campaign speeches at the meeting of the Hilltop Business Association, Tuesday noon at the Berry Restaurant.

Don Rumley, campaign manager for "Chick" Strickler representing the Hilltop Lions Club, stated his organization believes they have a winner and that "our candidate is a favorite of the ladies." Strickler made no denials.

Howard Reeber, candidate of the Hilltop Y's Men's Club, expressed appreciation for any help in the campaign. His campaign manager, John Scott, pointed to the need of this event being a big success.

James Goudy, 1960 King of the Hilltop, representing West Franklin Kiwanis Club, introduced this year's WFKC candidate, Jimmy Ryan, who gave the usual well-spiced words in his behalf.

Hilltop Kiwanis candidate Al Hollowell, sick in bed as a result of the strenuous campaign, had accolades thrown in his direction by C. C. Hartley. He admonished the group to put forth their best efforts, and said, "may the best man win." Hartley explained that all the money raised in the campaign will go towards the building of the new Hilltop YMCA swimming pool.

The public may vote for their favorite candidate by depositing money in containers in numerous local business places. Further announcements will be made next week.

Earl Allison, Franklin County Prosecuting Attorney, spoke on the subject, "Murder Around the Clock," wherein he pointed out that there had been very few criminal homicides west of the river previous to 1959. That year there were four. There have been none in 1961.

Pilot Project, Street Cleaning Slated To Begin On West Side

Two new phases of the West Side Cleanup open next week.

Starting Monday, the Franklinton Neighborhood project—an intensive improvement campaign designed to serve as an example for the entire city—will swing into high gear.

Wednesday, the city of Columbus will move into the area for an intensive street cleaning program which is to continue for four weeks.

The Franklinton project will be conducted in the area from the east side of Meek-av to the west side of Hartford-av, and the north side of Gay-st to the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks.

Agenda for the three-day program includes:

Pickup of all rubbish piled at regular collection spots Monday and Tuesday; streets barricaded for cleaning — Tuesday; streets and catch basins cleaned — Wednesday.

As part of the project, Robert Brauch of the Sanitation Department has announced that the city will also remove logs and other debris from the Pennsylvania Railroad right-of-way.

The street cleaning project, which will be conducted on four successive Wednesdays, will be a cooperative effort of the city, West Side Neighborhood Council and youth groups in the area.

Youth Will Assist

Prior to the actual work, groups of boys and girls from the area will distribute notices to each home on streets to be cleaned.

The West Side Council, which is sponsoring the Cleanup Campaign, will have members in the field to work with city employes during the sweeping.

Glen Beach, chairman of the council's health committee, has asked that the public cooperate by moving cars from the side of the street to be cleaned.

He warned that cars parked in the way of sweeping equipment can be towed away by the city.

Beach said that commercial streets to be cleaned will be blockaded the night before work begins but that residential streets will not.

For the street cleaning program, the West Side has been divided into three areas.

On the first Wednesday, one side of each street will be cleaned in first area. On the second Wednesday, the opposite side of the street in the first area and one side of the street in the second area will be cleaned, and so forth.

The cleaning schedule will appear in the Hilltop Record and West Side News one week prior to the actual work.

In the announcement, N indicates north side of the street; S, south side; W, west side; E, east side; and B both sides.

Purchase Of Clime-Rd Park Site Approved

Residents of the Clime-rd area on Columbus' far west side have finally been assured of a park of their own.

The City Council Monday night authorized purchase of a rolling 88-acre tract on Big Run Creek south of Clime-rd, for park and recreation purposes.

Cost of the land, which is now owned by the Marian Foundation, will be $177,000.

No date for the actual purchase of the property has been set, according to Bill Huggins of the City Attorney's office. "But it should be very soon," he noted.

The Marion Foundation, which now uses part of the property for agricultural purposes, is a corporate body affiliated with the Catholic Diocese of Columbus.

City officials have indicated that the park will not be opened to the public this year because improvement funds are not immediately available.

The land, blessed with a partially-wooded ravine, lies south of an S-curve between Georgesville and Demorest-rds. It is located approximately a quarter mile east of Georges-

Wilson-Rd Extended? Not Yet

Project Still In 'Talking' Stage

By Bill Gress

It is going to be a long time — probably several years — before anyone drives on the proposed extension of Wilson-rd, city in the "talking" stage here.

A check with city department heads revealed:

1. Progress on the project has been slow.

2. Concrete action is expected in the near future.

3. The extension should be programmed by 1965.

Project Initiated

The Wilson-rd project was formally initiated in May, 1960, when the City Council allocated some $45,000 for preliminary engineering and land study, officials indicated this week.

The long-sought public works project, which will connect W. Broad-st and Sullivant-av, apparently is still in the "talking" stage here.

Since then, funds for the project were reserved in the capital expenditures bond issue approved by voters in November, preliminary plans were made and appraisals begun.

The extension of Wilson-rd is planned as an important north-south link in the city's street system. It is designed to alleviate a major bottleneck on Columbus' far west side.

At present there are no direct, main links between Georgesville-rd and Hague-av, a distance of two miles.

Lack of action on the project has drawn the ire of at least one area business group.

A spokesman for the Great Western Business Association explained that his organization is "very concerned" about the project.

He stressed that the extension, "among other benefits," would make the West Side safer from a traffic standpoint; make the area between Demorest and Brinker once again a calm residential section; and reduce the traffic hazard around Westgate Park.

Plans call for Wilson-rd to be extended south from W. Broad through both city and county areas and under a railroad to intersect Sullivant at Kingsford.

Legal Staff At Work

Mayor Ralston Westlake, who has pledged to push for the completion of the extension as soon as possible, said here this week that the project "is at present in the hands of City Attorney Russell Leach."

The mayor explained that the city legal staff was busy appraising property and preparing to make land purchases.

A member of Leach's staff, Bill Hewson, told a Hartley Newspaper reporter his office was now in the process of negotiating with two property [illegible].

He noted the purchases will probably be made in the near future.

Hewson, pointing out that final engineering plans have not been completed, said he could not say how long it would take to acquire the necessary land nor how many purchases are to be made.

Work Not Programed

Planning Director Jack Bachtel explained that the project had not been programmed on the city public work calendar.

Noting that funds for the extension were reserved in the street construction section of the November bond issue, he pointed out, that all projects financed by the bonds sale, are slated to be begun by 1965.

Bachtel said that work has not yet progressed to the point where it requires city-county cooperation and that the two governmental units had not met to discuss the project.

He also explained that no decision has been reached on dividing the cost of crossing the New York Central Railroad tracks, major construction obstacle facing the extension.

Stork Discusses Cost

Service Director Ernest Stork said that the final cost of the project has not been determined.

He said that the city has not had "a real indication" of the cost of land purchases. "This will be a major factor in total expenditures necessary," Stork said. There are no important buildings in the proposed right of way, however.

The service director explained that for the city to "speed up" the project would require a crash program, including the hiring of a consultant firm to expedite design.

McElroy Says No On Surveys

Attorney General Mark McElroy has ruled a city school district has no legal authority to make surveys to develop community plans for playgrounds, streets, utilities and other facilities.

The attorney general said, in his opinion to State Auditor James A. Rhodes, that exempted village and local districts also lack this authority.

Rhodes had asked about the authority of these agencies to contract with private organizations, or with other governmental agencies for these surveys.

GORDON AND SHEILA, who prefer to be known as MacRae and MacRae, check over the "Bells Are Ringing" script with Hartley Newspaper writer John Auble, Jr. The couple are shown pointing out parts of the script which include bits of their night club act. They opened Tuesday at Vets Memorial with the Kenley Players and will run all this week there.—Staff photo by Ron Pataky.

The MacRae Story: Pageboy To Star - - Then Family Team

By RON PATAKY and JOHN AUBLE, JR.

A missing cast had everyone on the edge of their seats in darkened Vets Memorial Auditorium Saturday afternoon.

Gordon and Sheila MacRae, in Columbus for the six-day run of "Bells Are Ringing" which opened at the hall Tuesday night, chatted informally with Hartley Newspaper reporters.

An occasional rumor interrupted the conversation . . . "they won't be in until tommorrow . . . one less day of rehearsal."

The "cast that didn't show," held over in Warren, O., due to fog conditions (the kind that give ulcers to producers, says Joe Vispi, associate producer of the Kenley Players), had created a tense atmosphere.

But, MacRae and MacRae seemed calm, cool, etc.

They chatted in an easy, relaxed manner about show business, the "hard times," their family, their love of doing summer stock and their professional careers.

The fact that the cast was late might have worried some performers, but not the MacRaes.

"Lady Luck has always been good to us," Gordon smiled, "and there's no reason to think she'll let us down now."

And, from the story they had to tell, their careers have, indeed, been sprinkled with "breaks." It's been that way from the beginning.

"Believe it or not, Horace Heidt discovered me when he heard me singing a song in the washroom at NBC in New York," Gordon commented.

"I was a page boy at the time. My dad always told me to sing when I felt like singing and that's what I've always done" (editor's not: And still does).

"And," he continued, "that's no press agent's 'pipe dream' either . . . that's actually the way it happened."

"That launched Gordon's career," pretty Sheila said. "And he was off and running—as a single. Then, Miss Luck stepped in again."

"We always wanted to work—and be recognized—as a team," Gordon said. "But, I was afraid that I'd been 'single' too long."

The many television shows and magazine articles helped. And now, they feel they've "arrived" as a team. It's Gordon AND Sheila MacRae—and they love it.

During the nearly-two-hour interview, conversation drifted to the subject of their four children, presently finishing school in California.

"We feel that the children should be able to do what they want," Sheila said. "But, deep down inside, we kind of hope that they don't go into show business."

"That's their decision, though," she added. "They all seem to have talent and we won't stop them if they decide to be entertainers."

"That's true," Gordon agreed, "my Dad always encouraged me to do as I wanted. For awhile I worked in his machine shop in Syracuse . . . but I just didn't like it.

"I always knew that I wanted to sing and, somehow felt, that I could make it," he continued. "I'm glad he let me make my own decision and we want to give our kids the same break."

What's ahead for the MacRaes?

First, their children will join them when they're out of school—as they do every summer.

"From here," Gordon said, "we go to the Cocoanut Grove in Hollywood to introduce our new act." They'll be there three weeks.

"Incidentally," Sheila added, "we plan to do bits of our night club act throughout the run of 'Bells.'"

Then to Chicago, and will wind up the summer season in Hawaii on vacation with the family.

The MacRaes, just two of the many stars slated for the Kenley Players Productions this summer, lived up to their show-biz-wide reputation of being friendly, down-to-earth people.

Marines Set For Summer Camp Work

The 88th will travel to Little Creek by air transportation.

The 88th Rifle Company has just received an additional increase in quota for the enlistment of 11 men between the ages of 17 and 28. Persons interested should contact the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, 240 N. Sandusky-st prior to June 30. Telephone is CA. 6-1501. Any Marine Reserves on the inactive duty roll who desire to become members of the 88th may contact the unit.

The Jerseyville, Ill., police department station wagon was parked in front of the police department building when it was stolen.

Boomerang From Washington—

The American citizen who wants to write to his Congressman and/or Senator and decry the Federal Government's policy of "spend and spend, tax and tax," proclaim his own aversion to any and all forms of Federal aid, and vigorously urge a return to "rugged individualism," had first better make sure that he's not mailing a boomerang that could flash right back from Washington and smack him squarely between his billfold and his bank account.

A case in point is that of a Fairfield county voter who wrote along those lines to Sen. Stephen Young (D-Ohio), and got "mouse-trapped" for his trouble.

He wrote to the senator:

"You New Deal spenders spend and spend, tax and tax. You sicken me. Let's return to rugged individualism. I stand on my own two feet, don't ask any favors from Washington, am against creeping socialism, against handouts and aid for the aged."

Senator Young evidently did some checking on the letter-writer and then let it be known that:

"This citizen enjoyed the Federal school lunch program in public school, received educational training as a GI; college education under the GI Bill of Rights, bought his farm with an FHA loan, enjoyed checks from the soil bank program for not raising crops, and farm supports to help him receive more for his farm products. Incidentally, his father and mother are receiving Social Security checks each month."

Should a Congressman or some other Government official receiving such a letter resent the criticism deeply enough, the critic might find all doors barred to him should he ever renew hi sFHA loan, sign up again for farm subsidies, or apply for any of the numerous other "benefits" that can be had from Uncle Sam.

Which raises the question of how many adult Americans are similarly obligated to Government? Are they still in the minority, or do their numbers now constitute a majority?

I. A cynical and ruthless Government that wants absolute power.

II. A majority of the people dependent upon Government for a substantial portion or all of their income and reluctant or refusing to criticize or oppose because of their fear that they would be deprived of that Government "aid."

Glenwood Methodist Scene Of Ceremony Uniting Zo Ann Stanfield, James Trachsel

Miss Zo Ann Stanfield and Mr. James William Trachsel exchanged their marriage vows May 20, 6:30 p.m. at Glenwood Methodist Church.

The former Miss Stanfield is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur L. Stanfield of 76 N. Oakley-av, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Trachsel of 5203 Trabue-rd.

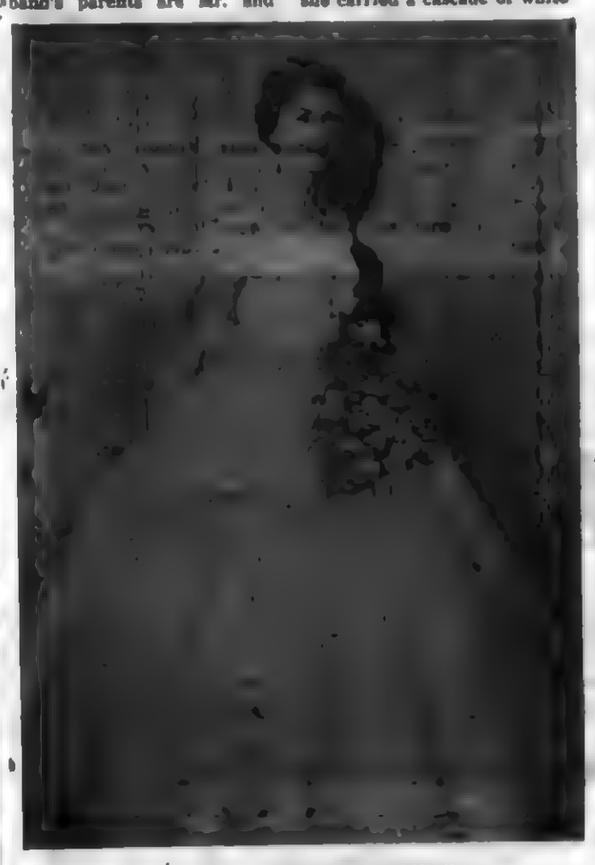
Mrs. Elven Wilson served as matron of honor for her sister. She wore a gown of two-tone aqua and turquoise silk organza fashioned with pleated cummerbund, scoop neckline and full skirt featuring a back bustle.

Miss Corolyn Cooper served as bridesmaid, and Mrs. J. Ashley Leppink and Mrs. Donald Cuthbert as bridesmatrons, and Miss Vicki Trachsel, sister of the bridegroom, as junior bridesmaid.

They wore two-tone gowns of ice pink and peony styled identically with the one worn by the honor attendant. Each carried a sheath bouquet of pink glamellias and ivy foliage.



Mr. John Biete served as bestman and guests were seated by Mr. Lowell Noland, Mr. Robert Haas, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Mr. Robert Finta and Mr. Randall Trachsel, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception followed at the church.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Richard L. McClintock, the bride chose a hand-fashioned gown of silk organza over silk taffeta. The bodice was appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace trimmed with oat pearls and crystals. The full circular skirt was trimmed with inserts of the lace and featured back tiers of ruffled organza and Alencon lace, caught at the waist with organza roses.

Mrs. Robert L. Masters served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Judy Bond, Miss Carole Hess and Miss Jean Stewart.

Robin and Roberta Pringle, twin cousins of the bride, were the flower girls. They wore floor-length frocks of white silk organza over blue taffeta and carried blue and white tulle baskets with clusters of blue delphinium florets.

'News-Hound' Loses Self On Hilltop

A little "news hound" who has quite a reputation in Dayton got absorbed with things on the Hilltop, last Saturday, and is lost.

"Tina," a brown and white, longhaired, "mostly Chihuahua" dog jumped from the car of Dayton-Journal Herald newswoman Martha Edmiston at 105 N. Westgate-av.

Mrs. Cliff Boggs, a niece of the columnist, said they were alighting from the car when the little dog scampered away.

Mrs. Boggs said Tina has been a traveling companion of Miss Edmiston's (a former Columbus Citizen writer) for nearly five years. "So, of course she has been written up many times in the Dayton newspapers."

"She is very, very friendly and probably has taken up with some family who are unable to trace her owner. She has no collar or identification. We can get her home again if the finder will call BR. 6-3606."

Bid Opening Delayed

Date for opening bids on the new $2,612,000 senior citizens center on the west side, originally set for June 8, has been delayed until June 20, according to Russell Tayler of the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority.

Bids will be opened at 2 p.m. in the Building Exchange on Dublin-rd.

FATHER'S DAY

Next Sunday, the 18th, is the special day devoted to that overworked, under privileged easy-mark for all the family . . . FATHER. Father has two soft spots . . . his stomach and his feet. On his day he would be flattered by a little catering to both. So, feed him good and treat his feet to some of the light comfortable leisure-time shoes now available. The tops in shoes of this sort are the new, washable pigskin shoes, so light they float on water and so soothing and restful to tired feet that you just can't tolerate stiff, heavy shoes once you try them. They come in slip-on or laced styles in several colors with bouncy, crepe soles that absorb jars and jolts. They even come in golf shoes. So, if your dad's "dogs are barking" make his Father's day a comfortable one with Hush Puppies . . . they quiet his "barking dogs".

IDLE HOUR GUIDE

'Father's Day Party' On Ch. 6; Racing From Scioto Downs On 4

By Stan Robinson

Top entertainers and local personalities will be featured Sunday when Channel 6 presents, "Gene Fullen's Father's Day Party" from 11:15 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

Among the special guests are the noted columnist Ben Hayes, with a Father's Day story or two, restaurant owner Benny Klein and the Roy Eldridge combo, nationally famous group, plus songstress Mary Ott who appeared last week as vocalist with Lawrence Welk during his Columbus appearance at the Coliseum.

Robinson

What you might term, "the frosting on the Father's Day cake," will be the Al Wahslon trio. Gene Fullen has worked for over a month to prepare this 75-minute show and still may add another famous entertainer to the guest list by Sunday. Happy Father's Day to fathers everywhere.

"RACING FROM SCIOTO DOWNS"... An expanded schedule of 12 telecasts, eight more than last season highlights WLW-C's second season of racing activity, the first one having gone this last Monday night. Clark Smith is working with track announcer Charlie Hinkle.

American Legion Baseball Gets Off To Big Start

By BOB WILCOX

Camp Chase Post of the American Legion baseball loop got off on the right foot in the opener last Sunday, but may have set some endurance records in doing so.

They downed Scioto Post No. 1 8-0 in 16 innings. Originally scheduled to be a doubleheader, the length of the first game forced postponement of the second contest until later.

The thermometer read 94-degrees when the game started and it lasted a "cool" five hours and ten minutes. The Chase battery in Sunday's fray of pitcher Jim Thornton and backstop Jack Trotter really had a workout. Losing eight and five pounds apiece respectively during the game.

Thornton hurled himself a two-hitter and pitched a no-hitter for 10 innings. Scioto got two singles off him, one in the 11 and one in the 13. He whiffed 13 and gave up five bases on balls.

St. Charles' Don Hanna took the loss.

Chase plays its next game tonight, Wednesday, at East High. They then have their bye next Sunday and as yet don't know their opponent the following Wednesday night.

With Hilliard

In a pre-league tune-up game last week, Chase downed the Hilliard squad with a little more ease and much less time, 10-3. Green, Thornton and Evans each hurled three innings for the victors with Thornton picking up the win. Chase garnered 15 hits. Ross had 3-4 and Trotter 2-3 and each also had himself a double.

Chase got all singles for their 11 safe blows, seven of them prior to their winning rally, and four contributing directly to that. Wilson, Green and Ross had two hits apiece with Trotter, Thornton, Alwood, Malone getting one each.

Camp Chase Coach Ed Lewis, in his second year at the Chase helm and the varsity baseball coach at Franklin Heights High School during the school year, looks for another fine season.

Last season they won their first seven in a row before tasting defeat for the first time and then went on to win the Gold Section of the Legion League, losing to the Blue Section winner, Scioto Post No. 2 (Grandview, who at the time was defending state Legion champions), in a best 2-3 playoff series.

Chase finished with a 11-4 record for the year. From that squad they lost only two boys including first sacker Mike Cantlon and third baseman Jim Walsh.

Fekete New West Coach; Schmitter To Whetstone

Former Ohio State All-American fullback Gene Fekete, for nine seasons an assistant coach at Ohio State, was named this week as head grid mentor at West High.

The appointment was made by Irvin F. Young, assistant superintendent in charge of personnel for city schools.

Fekete succeeds Bill Schmitter as head coach and Schmitter has been transferred to the new Whetstone High School, Young said.

Fekete, who will also serve as head coach of the Columbus Colts of the United Football League, will be entering the high school scene for the first time since he served as a student teacher at North High School in 1947.

He played only one year at football at OSU but won all-Big Ten honors and was named to the Look All-American team.

He then served 26 months in the U. S. Army and played one year with the Cleveland Browns following his discharge.

The new West coach taught physical education at Illinois State Teachers College in 1949-50, where he was head basketball coach and backfield coach in football.

He moved to Ohio State the next season as backfield coach and resigned after the 1959 season to enter the insurance field.

Schmitter, a graduate of North (1941) and Ohio State (1947), served three years with the U.S. Navy and took his first teaching assignment at Scioto Twp. in 1948.

Free All-Star Ducats Given Little Leaguers

The Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce is offering free to Columbus Little Leaguers, 15,000 tickets to the Jaycee sponsored All-Ohio East-West High School All-Star Baseball series to be held at Jet Stadium Saturday, June 17 and Sunday, June 18.

Project Chairman Jack Horn, 334 N. Ogden-av, said that Little League managers can obtain free tickets for their teams by calling the Jaycee office, 228-2773.

In accordance with stadium rules, all youngsters attending must be accompanied by adults, up to five children with one adult. Adult tickets will be available at the stadium for $1 each.

Horn also said that since the Sunday double-header falls on Father's Day, several of the pint-sized teams are arranging to have the fathers join the youngsters in watching an afternoon of good baseball.

The Junior Chamber is distributing these 15,000 tickets as a part of their constant effort to promote interest in baseball and sports in general among Columbus area youth.

EMC, Depot Papers Taken Over By Sharp

Sharp Publishing Co., has completed a contract to publish a weekly newspaper for Engineer Maintenance Center and Columbus General Depot, according to owner Thomas Sharp, 968 Chestershire-rd.

Both government centers formerly published bi-weeklies under the names of "Service Times" and "Supply Line." Sharp said the publications will be published weekly under the combined names and 7,000 copies will be circulated, mainly to employes.

THIS ARCHITECT'S SKETCH shows the Broad-st frontage and the east side of a new Howard Johnson motel and restaurant which will be built east of the Ternstedt plant. The gate lodge is in the left background. The restaurant is in the middle of the two motel wings.

READY BY SPRING

Howard Johnson Plans Luxurious W-Broad Lodge

The sign on West Broad-st which advises, "34 miles to the next Howard Johnson Restaurant," won't be of much by next spring.

That's the completion date the restaurant chain has announced for a new one and one-half million dollar motor lodge to be constructed on a five-acre plot to the east of the Ternstedt plant.

Two corporations, Your Host of West Columbus, Inc., and the Highway Corp., will finance and operate the motel.

The building will have a 550-foot frontage on Broad-st and will include a luxurious 100-room, two-deck lodge, built of glass and pink Tennessee brick.

In addition, plans call for a gate lodge, a 140-seat restaurant with a cocktail lounge. There will be a Shell Oil service station adjacent to the lodge.

Special and unique features will include:

A permanent 50-ft. oval swimming pool with sand beach and glass sides and roof for year-round use. Other recreational facilities will be a putting green, surfaced tennis court.

Covered walkways will prover to the gate lodge and restaurant.

All lodge rooms will have direct dial and automatic phone service, the newest installation of its kind. Direct communication with 100 other Howard playground area and plastic-Johnson Motor Lodges throughout the nation will also be available.

There will be special facilities for conventions and group meetings.

William R. Smith and William Pennell, spokesman for the two development corporations said that construction will start this summer.

Bids Opened On Center For Elderly

Columbus' solution to the problems of its elderly — an extensive new Senior Citizens Center — moved another step nearer to reality Tuesday.

Bids on the $2.5 million facility were opened by the Metropolitan Housing Authority.

Contracts for construction will be let within the next 10 days, according to a spokesman for the MHA. Work is scheduled to begin shortly thereafter.

The Center — to contain a high-rise apartment and a recreation building — is to be located on a 3.5 acre site bounded by McDowell and Gift-st, Cherry-dr and Sunshine Park.

Pointing out that the successful bidders had not yet been determined, a MHA representative said it looks as if the final development cost will "fall in the area of $2,250,000."

"This is about $160,000 less than the architects' estimate of $2,412,000," he said.

He explained that no bids would be accepted until the authority's architect and legal staff have had an opportunity to determine if they meet qualifications.

In all, five bids were received on the general contract, seven on the electrical, three on the mechanical, and two on the landscaping.

Major share of the cost will fall to the Metropolitan Housing Authority. The city of Columbus will contribute $330,000 as its share in the recreation facility.

Plans call for the project to be completed by early 1963.

The 11-story apartment building will contain 188 living units. Some 25 per cent will be efficiency apartments; 25 per cent, two bedroom; and 50 per cent one bedroom.

Rents will range from $30 to $65, according to Russell Taylor of the Metropolitan Housing Authority.

Special features of the building will include ramps in place of stairs, grab bars in the bath rooms, all electric cooking facilities, master TV antenna and alarm bells on each floor.

The apartments will be administered by the housing authority. All utilities will be furnished.

The recreation buildings which will be operated by the city recreation department, will

Bob Miller

"An all-round good Scouter" — that was the summation of a tribute to Bob Miller, 997 Biana-blvd, as he was presented the Silver Beaver award Saturday evening.

Miller was one of six men who received the highest honor of the seven-county Central Ohio Boy Scout Council at its annual meeting at Camp Lazarus. More than 500 people witnessed the surprise ceremony.

Other recipients were C. A. Gimre, Glenn Throop, Herbert J. Hammers, Harker Ritzsen and Lauren D. Secoy.

Miller, who is president of Bob Miller Auto Parts stores on W. Broad-st and Sullivant-av has been deeply interested in Scouting for more than 20 years. He became a troop committeeman in 1940 and served as chairman for 10 years. He also served as institutional representative, neighborhood commissioner and in various district capacities, including Scout circuses, jamborees, and football ushering.

Miller came to Columbus from Harpers Ferry, W. Va., soon after leaving high school. He worked for Automotive Parts Co. 17 years before opening his own firm in 1946.

During this time he has built up an impressive record of community service. He serves West Park Methodist Church in seven capacities, and is active in West Side and Hilltop business associations. He is a past member of the board of Columbus Boys' Clubs and is past president of Automotive Jobbers Association.

Vote For Bean King

Around the community in numerous business places are containers where you may vote for your favorite candidate for King of the Hilltop Bean Dinner.

The candidates are popular men of the area but the big winner will be the Hilltop YMCA swimming pool. All the money received from this event will be turned over to the "Y" swim pool fund.

Why not shell out a few sheckels for this worthy cause! Last year $412 was raised by this method. It is hoped the total may go over $1000 this year.

Hilltop Lions Plan July 4th Program

A "$1,000 program" will climax the Fourth of July for Hilltoppers.

For the 11th consecutive year, the Hilltop Lions will sponsor a free Independence Day celebration at West High School's Hagley Field.

Gates open for the program at 8:30 p.m. The show, featuring professional entertainment, is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Fireworks, which begin at 8:45 p.m., will include ground displays ranging from "Stars and Stripes" to "Hilltop Lions Sign" and a selection of aerial pieces.

Committee members are Dick Fagin, Paul Hott, Bill Myers, Dick Sansenbrenner, Chuck Nell, Fred Nagle, Dave Tingley, Sam Taylor, and Dick Gilger.

Each hour from 2 to 6 p.m., an aerial bomb will be shot off to remind Hilltoppers of the free show.

The Lions each year sponsor the celebration as their way of thanking the Hilltop for its support during the annual lightbulb and newspaper sales, according to Foster.

THE FIRST FLIGHT of the helicopter service between Nationwide Inn and Port Columbus was made following a luncheon at the Inn Tuesday afternoon. The service will be available for businessmen and other travelers from now on.

Helicopter Service To Connect West Area With Port Columbus

Ten minutes to get from the Nationwide Inn to Port Columbus! Impossible.

It won't be in a few weeks — when helicopter service is available.

William Devereaux, manager of the Inn, announced this week that an agreement between the Lane Aviation Corporation and the Inn will bring the airport to within 10 minutes travel distance of the suburban hotel, Westinghouse, the General Motors plant and the Lincoln Village industrial complex.

Businessmen and other travelers can make reservations for the flights through the room clerk at the Inn or at Lane's desk in the Port Columbus Terminal Building.

Devereaux unveiled the innovation Tuesday at a luncheon for industrialists, manager of the nearby Lincoln Lodge and news reporters. The gathering watched the inaugural trip of the Inn-Heli service.

Foster Lane, president of the Lane Aviation, arrived in a two-place helicopter and made the first landing on the Inn parking lot.

According to Lane, the rotary-winged aircraft will also be available for charter flights. In many cases, he said, helicopters can provide portal-to-portal service within a 100 mile

Lane points out that if the service is expanded he contemplates use of such executive helicopters as the new four-place Cessna Skyhook model. This 'copter can take off and land on a residential-size lot and cruises at 120 miles per hour. The first public showing of the Skyhook in the Columbus area will be at Lane Aviation in late June.

West Side Council Digging Into Projects

By MARCUS ORR

The current clean-up campaign shows it; so did the reports at an executive committee meeting June 15.

Glenn Beach, 463 S. Central-av, chairman of the health committee, pointed out that every detail of the clean-up campaign had been carried out on schedule. This includes the start of four-block Franklinton neighborhood pilot project, rubbish pick-up for the entire area, and advanced plans for cleaning of all streets which begins today (June 21) and runs for the following three Wednesdays. (See schedule in this edition.)

Beach, himself, has agreed to process all complaints on clogged catch basins. Property owners who are troubled with these may call Beach at BR. 9-7265. He, in turn, will call the proper city authorities.

Dana Closing Discussed

The executive committee last Thursday decided to protest the closing of Dana Avenue playground. One of the committee members, Emmett Seeley, who is also on the Columbus Recreation Commission, said his efforts to retain supervised play at Dana were futile. "The stastistics were against me," he said. "Figures showed that participation had dropped off steadily every year."

Bob McGuire said parents should send a flood of letters to Recreation Superintendent N. J. Barack at City Hall if they want to see supervised summer play returned to Dana playground.

He remarked that Dana is bigger than Chicago-av playground, which has been retained. The committee is also asking the city to expand the McKinley playground area again as the barracks-type homes are torn down.

Early details for a West Side Master Traffic Plan were mapped out by the Neighborhood Council's traffic committee Thursday. Six areas, basically within school district boundaries, will be represented by chairmen at an Aug. 15 meeting. Traffic needs from each will be presented at the full council meeting in November and will then go to the City Traffic Commission. The chairmen will process all traffic complaints within their areas.

Following is a list of the areas, chairmen and tentative organizational dates: Chicago Avenue, Emmett Seeley, Sept. 20; Dana Avenue, Bob McGuire, Sept. 27; Avondale Avenue, Fred Staley, Oct. 4; Franklinton, Ralph Oberleitner, Oct. 11; Bellows Avenue, Don McCann, Oct. 18; Sullivant, Mrs. Ruth Burke, Oct. 25.

The traffic committee also decided to send a letter to city service director requesting overhead lighting under the interchanges at the cross streets of Town, Rich, and Sullivant-av.

It was announced that the TB

Lures, Lures, Lures! Can Be Confusing

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

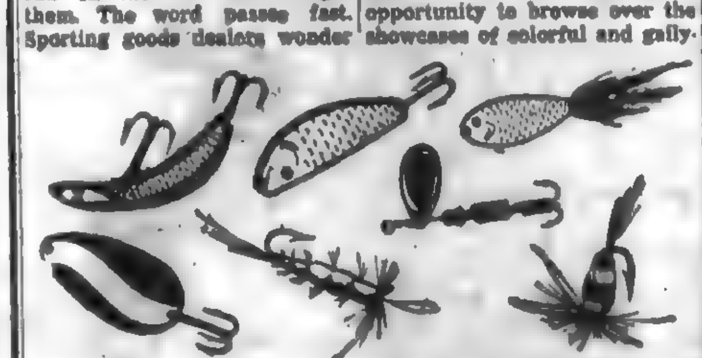
What bait?

This is the eternal question that faces all anglers. And the question is vastly more complicated if you use artificial baits. The different types, patterns, sizes and weights seem almost limitless — but a fellow finally must pick one from the multitude and tie it on his line.

It's obvious, however, that fishermen get a lot of help in bait selection from fellow fishermen. There are fads and fashions in baits and they are always changing.

One nice string of fish from a particular lake can start a run on the lure that caught them. The word passes fast. Sporting goods dealers wonder what has happened, as anglers stand in line to get a certain bait. Yes, fisherman are fickle in choosing baits.



The fortunate feature about changing baits with the current fad is that there are a lot of good baits that will catch several kinds of fish. Every bait will catch fish at certain times. There are examples where fishermen have tied hooks on corn cobs, clothes pins, pine cones, bottle caps and the like and have caught fish. But there are many lures that have been proven over the years to be good fish producers.

Don't Buy Haphazardly

Advice of most consistent anglers is to not rush but and buy everything you hear about, but rather to concentrate on how to work an artificial bait. You will still have plenty of opportunity to browse over the showcases of colorful and gaily-painted lures. (This is a sport in itself for many fishermen). If you fish a lot you will lose baits, and your supply will periodically need replenishing.

But once you have made your purchase, you must cast it in the water and try to entice a fish to strike it. If you know nothing of the bait, then read and follow the manufacturer's instructions. Certainly it is to his advantage if you catch fish, and quite probably he knows how best to use it. As you have more experience with a certain bait, then you can experiment some on your own. Different tactics will be needed on different days and different seasons of the year.

Still, you will notice, that I have not given you an answer to the problem of deciding what bait to use. Using what Charlie used "in this very same hole" last week might be as good a way as any in deciding after all. That is, if you're certain you know what Charlie used last week to fill his stringer. Fishermen have known to give out faulty information.

KIWANIS PROJECT

Camp Chase Site Marker Ordered; Dedication July 23

Hilltop Kiwanis Club has answered the call from the Franklin County Historical Society and will sponsor a marker for the site of old Camp Chase.

The announcement this week seems appropriately timed. It was just 100 years ago, on June 30, that the Civil War training camp and Confederate prison was officially named.

C. H. Campbell, chairman of the Kiwanis public relations committee, said the cast aluminum marker, about four feet square, will be erected on the grounds of the Hilltop Branch Library and will be dedicated Sunday afternoon, July 23.

Two similar markers already are up in the city. One is located at the northeast corner of North Broadway and High-st honoring the settlement of Clintonville. The other is at W. Town-st and Civic Center-dr, at the site of the Columbus Feeder Canal.

Campbell said the following inscriptions will appear on the Camp Chase marker:

(Side 1) Camp Chase was established on the south side of the National Road, four miles west of the statehouse, May 27-28, 1861, as a training camp for recruits pouring into Columbus in answer to President Abraham Lincoln's call for volunteers. The camp was laid out by General William S. Rosecrans on a site just west of Hague-av known as the Racegrounds. By June 16, 1861, the grounds became known officially as Camp Chase, honoring ex-governor of Ohio Salmon P. Chase, at the time secretary of the treasury in Lincoln's cabinet.

(Side 2) During its years of government service, Camp Chase served its four-fold purpose: It was first used as a training installation; then as a prison for Confederate captives; as a place of detention for paroled Union soldiers; and finally served as a mustering-out place for Northern regiments. On July 5, 1865, the prison commandant notified the War Department that Camp Chase was without prisoners, and on July 14, 1865, the prison property was offered for sale at public auction.

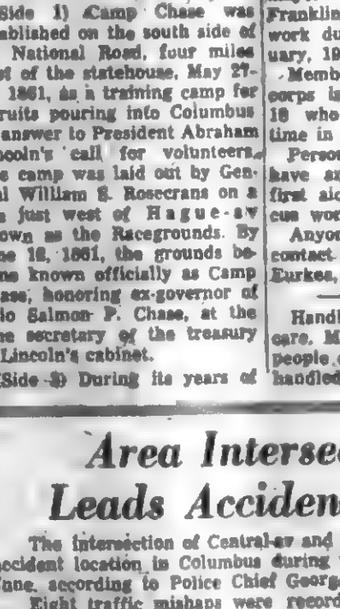
Membership in the disaster corps is open to anyone over 18 who is willing to donate time in event of an emergency.

Persons joining the unit will have an opportunity to learn first aid, firemanship and rescue work.

Anyone interested should contact Weller at 1234 S. Eurkea, Columbus 23.

Handle insecticides with care. Most of them can poison people and animals if they are handled carelessly.



Area Intersection Leads Accident Race

The intersection of Central-av and Mound-st was the high accident location in Columbus during the first two weeks of June, according to Police Chief George Scholer.

Eight traffic mishaps were recorded at the intersection from June 1 to 15.

Scholer said that enforcement would be intensified on both W. Broad and W. Mound-sts between noon and 6 p.m. Special emphasis will be given to stop sign and speeding violations, he said.

Hilltopper Donald Gilmore, who ran unsuccessfully as an independent Republican in the May 2 city council primary, has failed to file a campaign expense account within the allotted period, thus disqualifying himself as a candidate for five years, according to the Franklin County Board of Elections.

Gilmore finished last in the field of seven candidates seeking six nominations.

Land Purchase Defeated By City School Board

The Board of Education Tuesday voted 3 to 2 against a proposal to purchase nine acres of land for a school site in Lincoln Village South.

Recommendation that the city schools buy the land had been made by Superintendent Harold H. Eibling.

The site is located at Stiles and Arnold-avs in Prairie Township.

Board member William Fornof explained that he could not see "spending taxpayers money to buy land when we don't even know if the site will ever become a part of our school system."

MORE HOME 'EC' FOR BOYS?

According to a recent release, the Ohio State Board of Education has approved a plan to get more high school pupils including boys, interested in home economics.

Assistant State Superintendent Harold Bowers feels the idea is a sound one. Surface reasons given: offering the course for slow learners, for girls taking commercial courses or preparing to go to college, and for "boys who may want to be handy around the house in future married years."

The real reason: by offering the expanded courses, schools will be able to qualify for additional federal funds.

The surface reason given, may or may not be commendable, depending upon what side of the fence one is on as far as home economics is concerned.

But to expand the courses in order to qualify for additional funds from a federal agency is much the same as the given statement for climbing Mt. Everest—"because it's there."

"Like the funds for stepped up math, science and foreign language courses," the release says in the same breath with home economics, "70 per cent of the money will come from the federal government."

To rationalize to the extent that home economics is on a par with the math and science and foreign language is absurd.

And to reach into the public till for money to show boys how to cook and clean house after they are married shows a lack of "economics" intelligence on the part of the state board.

Teacher Shares Experiences Of Year's Assignment Abroad

By BETTY DAFT

Fortunate students of Miss Florence Harper, both at West Broad and at George Tomlinson School in Southall, Middlesex, England, have a deep appreciation, based on understanding, of the others' country.

Their intimate view of life across the sea was gained through their teacher's participation in the Fulbright International Teacher Exchange Program.

And fellow teachers and friends, as well as her pupils and their parents, have shared in the advantages of Miss Harper's year abroad.

She and a teacher at George Tomlinson School, exchanging their classrooms last year under the Fulbright program, spent their months in the new country studying and teaching.

Learns While Teaching

Each explained the education system, history, geography and customs of home while studying the new curriculum, visiting in homes, making friends and traveling extensively during vacation periods.

The cycle was completed this year as the teachers returned to home classrooms — sharing their experiences and knowledge, applying new knowledge to their own teaching methods and, most of all, picturing the people, their ideas and their problems.

English Schools' emphasis on creative writing, reading and spelling were most admired by Miss Harper.

Comparison And Contrast

Curriculum included the familiar spelling, reading, language, and history. With special permission from the headmaster, Miss Harper also included United States geography and history.

Less familiar were regular instruction in crafts' — needlecraft, ceramics, metal and woodworking; country dancing, practiced twice a week; hymn practice, once a week and intensive physical education program.

Each school day started with a religious assembly with hymns, prayer and Bible reading.

Miss Harper described George Tomlinson as built in 1953, and located about 20 miles from London, the school was of modern design, decorated in bright colors. I missed American lighting—windows lined one wall of the room allowing plenty of sunlight but on dark days, only one lightbulb lighted the entire room.

"And central heating was so rare. The British dont' mind; they are a very athletic, outdoors-loving people. Physical education is an important part of their curriculum throughout school. They walk a great deal and ride bicycles.

"School was divided into infant school for students four to seven and junior school, seven to 11. The top third of the class then attended grammar school and the others, schools for academic and technical training.

"Students were screened all along the years and arranged in classes according to their abilities. Parents, therefore, were interested always in their child's standing in the class."

School year in England is from Sept. 8 to July 31, but there are frequent vacations—at the half term each six weeks, Christmas, Easter and the religious holiday of whitsun.

During these holidays Miss Harper traveled, visiting Ireland, Wales, Scotland, Switzerland and Holland. Christmas in Paris and Easter in Rome were memorable highlights of the year.

Gypsy Rose Lee As "Auntie Mame"

BACKSTAGE

By RON FATAKY

Opening Of 'Auntie Mame' Delights Columbus Audience

Columbus play-goers got a second straight shot in the arm Tuesday night as the Kenley Players' production of "Auntie Mame," starring Gypsy Rose Lee, did justice to the good name that the Kenley group has established throughout Ohio the past few years.

As a play, "Auntie Mame" has some great moments . . . and as "Mame," Gypsy established once again that she can indeed act, in addition to her other, perhaps more famous talents.

A slow first act, sprinkled with the usual opening night technical difficulties, didn't seem to detract from the delight which the nearly-full Veterans Memorial audience experienced.

Once the opening kinks were ironed out and the play got on its feet, action moved swiftly, with Gypsy supplying the deft touch required in the transition from moments of rollicking merriment to more tender, heart-warming moments.

From the opening curtain, the star demonstrated the vitality and warmth needed to put a play like "Auntie Mame" across.

A most capable supporting cast, led by Mark O'Daniels as Beauregard Burnside, Jane Van Duser as Vera Charles and Gerald Metcalfe as Brian O'Banion, are deserving of praise for their part in the evening's fun.

A particular bright spto, for the second straight week, was the clever handling of the Mr. Babcock and Claude Upson roles by Matthew Tobin and David Doyle, respectively. Both men, each a master of comic technique, nearly stole the show in certain scenes.

An additional treat was the success of a local lad, Gary Tomarkin, in the role of the adult Patrick Dennis. Tomarkin, well-known as a fine student actor at Ohio State University, performed quite capably in his first professional performance.

Ann Sullivant as the lovable Norah, Eugene Moon as the servant, Ito, and Betty Carr as Agnes Gooch scored heavily in supporting roles. Miss Carr particularly made the most of the hilarious "Gooch" role, for which Peggy Cass received her Oscar nomination in 1958. Terry Soggs, as the child Patrick Dennis, performed like a seasoned trouper.

Frequent scene changes and 19 costume changes by the star help keep the play moving swiftly, while Gypsy's curtain speech delighted the audience. Numerous references to her more-well-known talents provide a fitting conclusion to a delightful evening.

The show will run through Sunday. For those of you who like to laugh, "Auntie Mame" should be a natural.

Area Church Will Host Missionary

Rich Street Church of Christ, W. Rich-st at Grubb-st, will hear Donald Baughman, missionary to Nigeria, Africa, Sunday, July 2.

Mr. Baughman, a native of Columbus, will soon be returning to Nigeria.

While in Africa he gathered a reptile collection and brought some home to the Columbus [illegible].

Bible School begins at 9:30 a.m. and this will also be the first Sunday in the "Harvesting For Christ," campaign.

Contest, sponsored by "The Lookout," national magazine, will last through July and August.

Bible schools compete with others their size for national recognition. Richard Clipner, the Sunday School superintendent, reports the goal is at least a 15 per cent increase for [illegible] Street.

Area Resident Attends Meeting

Fred Riemenschneider, 158 N. Guilford-av, 78, is among 20 delegates from the Southwest Unit attending the assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in New York's Yankee Stadium, June 20 to [illegible].

Program highlight will be the Bible lecture by N. H. Knorr, Sunday, June 25, 2 p.m.

Food Market This Week

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Protein Foods—Milk and dairy products, fryers, large eggs, pork loin roasts, beef from chuck, rib and round.

IT'S THE SEASON OF BOUNTIFUL DAIRY FOODS

We can't let June go by without calling your attention to "Dairy Land"—the dairy counter at your supermarket. The array of dairy products is impressive—whole milk, skim milk, buttermilk, sour cream, table cream, whipping cream, ice cream, butter, various types of cheeses and any more.

Each of these dairy items can make an important contribution to your family's nutritional needs. And among them you'll find something to please individual appetites and —your pocketbook.

Take time this week as you shop to look over all the dairy items available. Remember, too, the ones in the grocery department, as dry milk, and the many canned ones. You will be amazed at the number. And note the little "markers" in the case calling attention to special prices. Many kinds of cheeses, for example, are several cents below the usual selling price.

The reason for this abundance is that milk production is at its highest level during May and June. Production this year is running a little above the 1960 output, due mainly to a further increase in milk output per cow. It's during this heavy production period that more milk is used for manufacturing dairy products, some of which can be stored for slack periods that come later in the year.

A NEW DAIRY BY-PRODUCT

A new use for a dairy by-product was recently announced by the industry. The U.S. Department of Agriculture has developed a new method for drying cottage cheese whey that makes it possible to use this dairy by-product in a number of commercially prepared foods, including sherbet and bakery products.

Whey is a valuable food source, containing some protein and calcium, and fairly large amounts of riboflavin and other B vitamins present in the milk from which cottage cheese is made. Yet whey from cottage cheese is usually wasted because it doesn't keep well, is costly to ship in liquid form, and is difficult to dry.

Dried whey produced by the new process is a smooth free-flowing powder. It keeps well for several months without refrigeration, is economical to ship, and will be easy to use in prepared foods. The powder is not yet being manufactured commercially.

Earlier attempts at drying whey were unsuccessful because the heavy liquid clumped during processing and clogged drying equipment. In the new method, developed by scientists of the Department's Agricultural Research Service, the clumping problem is solved by mixing the whey with nitrogen gas or air just before the final drying. This treatment makes a foam of the whey which is more readily and evenly dried when sprayed into the dryer.

Teacher Retires After 40 Years Of Service

By Betty Daft

The closing of this year's school term marked the end of a 40-year mathematics teaching career for Miss Pauline Sparrow — 36 of those years spent at West and Hilltonia Junior High Schools.

Retirement for Miss Sparrow will mean more time for her hobbies. Leisure time interests of travel, photography and gardening will become an absorbing, new way of life.

Hundreds of pictures, mostly color slides, have recorded her experiences during three trips to Europe, and visits to Alaska, Mexico, Cuba, South America and the Caribbean area, as well as throughout the United States and Canada.

Discussing the many places she still wants to see she names first, "The Mediterranean countries — I've seen some of the area only briefly on other trips to Europe.

"I do want to travel more, but not for a while. First, I'll rest — I'm rather tired. And I'll have much more time for my gardening and just keeping house. When I do travel I'll now be able to go in more comfortable weather."

During her first trip to Europe in 1952 she spent seven weeks visiting a family in Finland, and the country is her favorite. "The people are so friendly and hospitable, and the food is outstanding. I also saw the Olympics the summer I was there."

During World War II Miss Sparrow served three years in the United States Coast Guard as a SPAR, stationed at various times in Portland, Seattle and Washington, D.C.

She taught in Springfield, Greenfield and Mt. Vernon before joining the Columbus School System in 1935. She was assigned to West Junior High and remained there until four years ago when she transferred to Hilltonia.

She keeps abreast of her former students through The Hilltop Record, reading it each week for engagements and wedding announcements, and for news of their accomplishments.

Miss Sparrow, a native of Cynthia, Ky., was graduated from Springfield High School, Miami University, earned a BA degree from Ohio State University and an MA from Columbia Teachers College.

Miss Pauline Sparrow

She also did post-graduate study at the University of Colorado and the University of [illegible].

A resident of 976 Thomas-rd, Grandview, Miss Sparrow is the daughter of an educator and the sister of two teachers — Mrs. Madaleen Colter of Cincinnati and Mrs. Christine Piper of Cleveland.

Another sister, Mrs. Rachel Bernhardt, lives at the Thomas-rd address and a brother, Dr. O. M. Sparrow, lives in Cleveland.

State Board Wants Federal Funds For Home Economics

The State Board of Education has approved a plan to get more high school pupils, including boys, interested in home economics.

The idea is a sound one, according to Harold Bowers, assistant state superintendent. He said that plans have been developed for high schools to offer home economics to slow learners, and to girls who are majoring in commercial courses or preparing to go to college. Bowers also said that there is even a home economics course for high school boys for their future married years.

Bowers said by offering these expanded courses, schools will be able to qualify for additional funds; 70 per cent of the money for a home economics supports will come from the federal government.

From The Top O' The Hill

By Betty Daft

Mrs. Michael N. (Edith) Vuchnich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer B. Myers, 2034 Fairmont-av, was installed as president of the National YWCA of Canada in a ceremony held last night in Nova Scotia. A graduate of West High and an active member of Glenwood Methodist Church, she met her husband while the two were students at OSU. She was married in Cape Town, South Africa and the couple lived in Johannesburg for two years.

Vuchnich is now president of the Lincoln Electric Co. of Canada, Ltd. The couple has one son, Michael, a senior at Northwestern University.

Mrs. Elmer Hegenberger met Mrs. Vuchnich in May when the two were delegates to the international YWCA convention held in Denver. The two lunched together, reminiscing about school days (Mrs. Vuchnich was a classmate of Elmer's) and catching up on later happenings in the community. Old friends may write her at 50 Weybourne Crescent, Toronto 12, Ontario, Canada.

The two are co-starred in the production with Joan Fagan and Art Lund. Susan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Johnson of 121 S. Sylvan-av attended the opening of the show in New York May 18. A 1945 graduate of West High, Susan has scored many Broadway hits since her first success in Brigadoon 11 years ago. "Most Happy Fella" in 1958, followed by "Oh Captain" and "Whoop-Up," are a few of the most familiar.

A HOT FOOT

Hot weather brings on foot and shoe troubles that do not bother us in the cool months. For instance, this time of the year we are often called upon to explain the ways and wherefores of blisters on children's toes. It can happen in shoes that are apparently perfectly fitted. Usually it starts with a wrinkled stocking or a seam in the shoe which rubs against an active little foot that is hot, perspiry and tender. Children seldom tell you when their feet hurt, so a blister develops. Here is good hot-weather foot advice for young and old . . . wear shoes that give as much ventilation as possible, change shoes and sox frequently use talcum or foot powder in shoes and on feet, buy summer shoes a bit looser than winter ones. Feet do swell more when the temperature gets "way up there".

PARALYTIC POLIO

will it hit your babies and breadwinners this summer?

Unhappily, polio is not a thing of the past...yet. You and your children can get it if you are not immunized with Salk vaccine. Polio struck last summer particularly at infants and children too young to go to school...and at their young parents. There's a good chance it will strike at them again if they are not fully vaccinated.

Protection against a lifetime blighted by crippling is certainly the greatest obligation a parent has. It cannot be ignored. Here's what Dr. Luther L. Terry, Surgeon General of the U. S. Public Health Service, has to say:

"We have a proved weapon against polio today. Every child and adult needs the protection of Salk vaccine."

The time to make sure of safety next summer is now. Call your own physician or the local health department for information.

Don't face next summer's polio epidemic season as defenseless as if there were no means of protection! Get that protection now...and you can be sure of having peace of mind.

Don't take a chance—take your polio shots

HE NEEDS HELP! ... no doubt about that ... and Craig Merideth is just one of the thousands of kids who will find it during the coming summer months in local kids' baseball leagues. In most of these leagues, Craig and his buddies will find spirited booster groups and the kind of competent coaching that turns foul balls into home runs. Hilliard Family Prepares For Coming Horse Show Competition seems to be the spice of life for the Bailey Bradley family, Amity-rd, Hilliard. All of the Bradleys, with the exception of four-year old Kay, are avid horse exhibitors.

The family competes in three different classes, Bill and Clark in reining; Obralee and Mary in horsemanship and Dad Bradley, better known as "Stretch" in cutting horse contests.

"Stretch" has been active in saddle clubs and breed associations for a number of years. He is a past president of the Ohio Western Horse Association and has held offices in the Ohio Quarter Horse Association and Palomino Exhibitors Association of Ohio.

He is also a member of the Franklin County Fair Board and the Mid-Western Horse Show and Rodeo.

The children seem to be following in their father's footsteps. All hold memberships in the Triple "T" 4-H Club of Franklin County.

The Mid-Western five-day show will feature halter and performance classes for Appaloosas, Arabians, Morgans, Palominos, quarter horses, western horses and ponies. There will be a generous sprinkling of calf roping and cattle cutting contests, a girls' barrel race and rodeo events in addition.

In keeping with its interest in youth, Mid-Western is devoting the entire performance Monday afternoon, July 3, to the 4-H classes.

Free tickets for children under 12 can be obtained by writing to the show secretary, Marie McDonald, 5947 Sunbury-rd, Gahanna.

Over $10,000 in cash, prizes and trophies will be awarded to winners in the different categories.

More than 700 entries from 22 states will be trying to cop some of the loot.

A unique feature on Saturday afternoon will be a horse auction. A dance in the Youth Center Building is planned for Saturday night.

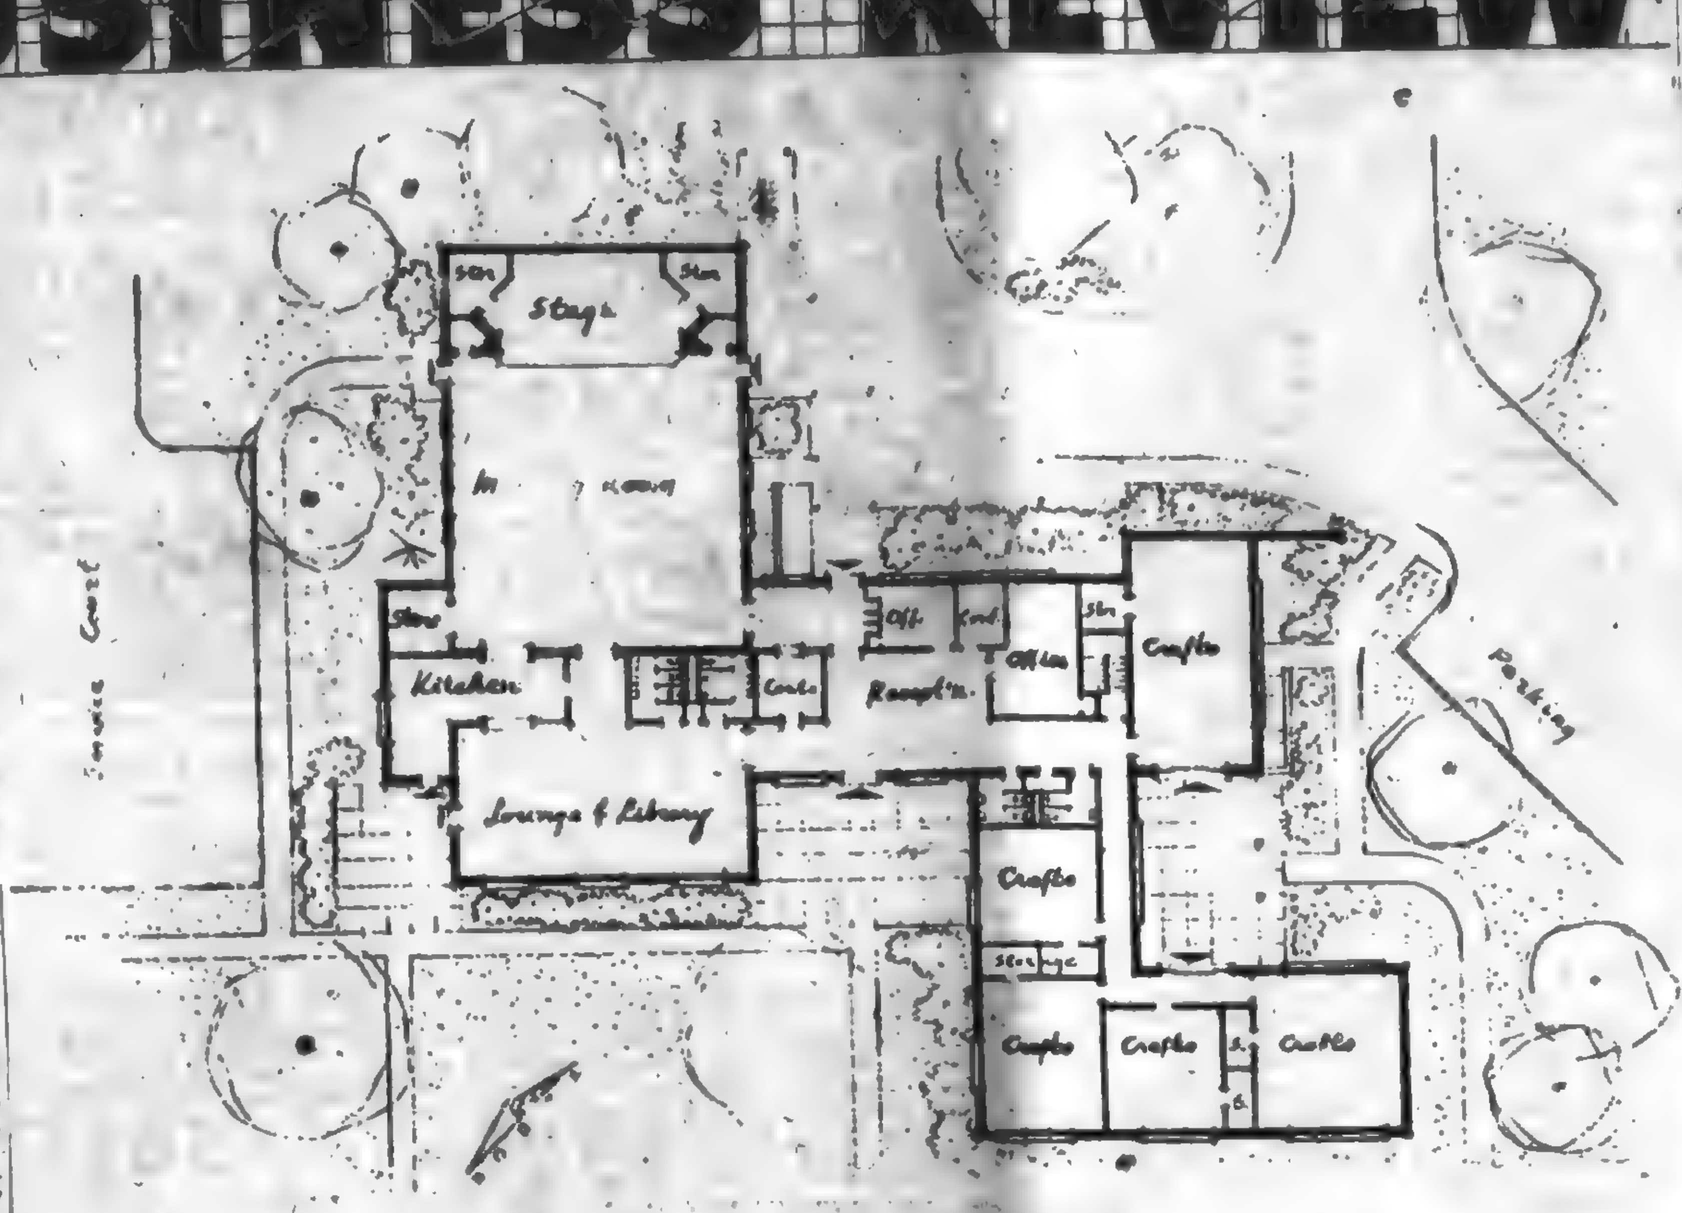
cater to senior citizens from throughout Franklin County.

It will include an auditorium seating 450 people, a lounge, kitchen facilities, eight craft and activities rooms and a garden center.



The center—combining both living and recreation facilities—is unique to Columbus, according to Taylor.

"It's the only project of its type in the world, as far as we know," he explained.

The Ohio, Cleveland and Toledo have residential centers for the aged, and Cincinnati is building one, but nowhere else have they been combined with recreational facilities, Taylor said.

He pointed out that the living units will be allocated by a simple formula—the greatest need and the lowest income.

In general, requirements will be that the applicant must be a minimum of 65 and a resident of Franklin County for one year.

FLOOR PLAN UNVEILED

THE RECREATION BUILDING to be built as part of the new Senior Citizens Center, will include facilities ranging from a kitchen and dining room to craft rooms and an auditorium.

EMD Promotes Trio To Key Positions; Adds Equipment

Myron Willison, Parker Buel, John W. Robison

Two men were elevated to new vice-presidents' posts and a third was named comptroller at Eastern Motor Dispatch, Inc., 1213 W. Mound-st, H. H. Buel, president at the Columbus-headquartered truck line, announced today.

At the same time the line reported the biggest addition to its tractor-trailer fleet in the past decade.

"Both moves are designed to put us in an even better position to compete with other forms of transportation," Buel asserted.

Named to the vice-presidential spots were Myron Willison, 1531 Ashland-av, who will be in charge of road operations, and Parker Buel, Cincinnati, who will supervise Western Division terminal operations. John W. Robison, 633 S. Westgate-av, was chosen comptroller. All three have long records of service with EMD.

Willison will be in charge of road operations and equipment movement throughout the system. Previously he was in charge of Western Division road operations.

He is a past chairman of the Ohio Council of Safety Supervision and is a member of the Ohio Motor Carriers'-Labor Relations Association.

Robison, previously assistant to comptroller I. R. Sinsabaugh, steps up to the financial post with the latter's partial retirement. A tech sergeant in the Army Medical Corps, Robison came to Columbus shortly after World War II. He was associated with the Veterans' Administration here and took advanced accounting at Franklin University. He has been a part of EMD's accounting department for the past nine years.

Buel, for the past 18 years manager of EMD's Cincinnati terminal, will now supervise terminal operations in Ohio and western Pennsylvania.

EMD's recent additions to its fleet include 20 recently purchased "master-size" trailers and 10 Diesel tractors. The trailers, largest standard size on the road, will operate between Ohio and the Eastern seaboard. The tractors will operate between Ohio terminals and EMD's Somerset, Pa., relay station.

Total value of the new equipment was placed at "over a quarter of a million dollars."

Some of the equipment is already in service and the rest will be factored into the EMD fleet as soon as it is processed through EMD's garage.

Searching For Beauty

It's the biggest Fourth of July anywhere (at least in this county) and the people of Ashville are looking for the prettiest girl in Franklin and Pickaway counties, or anywhere for that matter.

The Ashville queen, who will be chosen from the entrants living in the Columbus rural and urban areas, will be presented with her crown on Saturday, July 1, and will reign in the parade on July 4. More than 12 bands are already scheduled to take part in the event, attended last year by more than 10,000 people.

Girls wishing to enter the beauty contest must be 16 years old. There is no entry fee and no advance registration needed. Contestants must be present in time to register before 8:30 p.m. Saturday, July 1, however.

In addition there will be contests for the kids, with the naming of a "Little Miss" and a "Little Mr.", open to all children.

IDLE HOUR GUIDE

'Holiday Lodge,' New On 10; WLW-C Features Zoo-O-Rama

By Stan Robinson

Camels to cockatoos, moose to monkeys, they all find their place in the sun and a place in front of the Channel 4 cameras Sunday at 12:45 p.m.

Dick Simpson and son, Dennis, are making a weekly trip around the Columbus Zoo meeting the animals and their keepers. People who have made the Zoo not only an entertainment mecca in central Ohio but also an unparalleled educational experience for the whole family, will be seen on this entertaining and informative quarter hour.

Robinson

The WLW-C Public Affairs Department in conjunction with the Columbus Zoo are combining all efforts to present the story of the hundreds of animals housed in the Northwest Columbus attraction.

A BRIGHT NEW COMEDY series on Channel 10 . . . "Holiday Lodge," is the title of a new Sunday night series which moves into the Jack Benny 9:30-10 p.m. period for the summer. Wayne and Shuster, Canadian comics with many guest appearances under their belts in the U.S.A., portray harried social directors of a retreat named "Holiday Lodge."

This comedy team with triple-threat talent including not only humor but also song and dance will add to the other characters such as a comic handyman named Woodrow, the hotel's one-man disaster squad; Dorothy Jackson, desk girl; and J. W. Harrington, the pompous manager of "Holiday Lodge." The first show is this coming Sunday and would seem to shape up as a fast moving half hour to enjoy every Sunday while Jack is away, probably counting his money for fall.

SUNSPOTS CAUSE FREAK TV RECEPTION . . . Lately many televiewers, while changing stations, have stumbled upon exotic programs coming in on some of the "unused" TV channels reserved for out-of-town use. Surprised watchers, momentarily confused by strange names, places and unlisted shows coming in on the usually vacant channels have asked, "How come?"

According to WLW-C engineers, Bob Kries and Chuck Widney, the uncommon long-distance, daytime TV reception from Texas and the southwest is caused by "sporatic skip" an on-and-off again phenomenon related to auroral displays and sunspot activity.

Oddly enough, the regular 11-year-long sunspot cycle, which was first observed by Chinese astronomers thousands of years ago, has been on the decline since March 1958 when it hit an all-time high. But this year's unusual weather fronts have been spawning abnormal numbers of atmospheric inversions that help duct strong TV signals into our area for the past month.

These usually rare occurences act as a two-way path, carrying the low-band TV channels to such faraway points as Nova Scotia, Cuba, California and to ships in the Gulf of Mexico.

CH. 4 WELCOMES "PIP THE PIPER" to Saturdays . . . 9:30 a.m. "Pip," a fantasy series concerning a wonderland, (Piperland) in the clouds where happy people frolic and musical instruments grow on trees, now joins the NBC-TV and Ch. 4 Saturday morning lineup of Shari Lewis at 10, King Leonardo at 10:30, Fury at 11, and the Lone Ranger at 11:30 a.m. Jack Spear and his wife, Phyllis, creators of the characters will again appear as "Pip" and "Miss Merrynote" along with the regulars.

MANION FORUM ON WVKO RADIO . . . The Manion Forum is now a weekly WVKO feature each Sunday at 12 noon. It is a 15-minute commentary, dedicated solely to conservative, anti-socialistic thought and action. Guest speakers include former President Herbert Hoover and other well-known speakers against communism as it is today. WVKO-FM is also carrying the program.

IN VIEW FOR THE FUTURE . . . "On Your Mark," a new game show for children makes its debut on ABC-TV Saturday morning, Sept. 23 with Sonny Fox as MC. Winning contestants will be given a chance to realize one of their ambitions in life. . . . NBC-TV has confirmed "Car 54," Where Are You?," for its Sunday night roster next fall. It will be the replacement for the Tab Hunter show on the schedule beginning Sept. 17. Nat Hiken, creator of the Phil Silvers Show, "Sgt. Bilko," is the producer of this comedy package built around two New York City policemen.

The Gertrude Berg—Cedric Hardwicke series for CBS-TV has a new title: "Mrs. G. Goes To College." . . . Judy Garland is scheduled to be interviewed on Ch. 4's "Here's Hollywood," Friday at 4:30 p.m., NBC-TV . . . "Margie," a family comedy series about a teen-ager's experience in the roaring 20's will be the lead-in program for "The Untouchables" on ABC-TV's Thursday night slate next fall.

"Concentration's" producer is at work on a giveaway that provides the winner a million dollar stock market investment kitty. This possible new approach would be unveiled on the night-time version of the popular show after various legal details are ironed out by NBC . . . ABC-TV's "Wide World of Sports" for Saturday, July 1, will present a championship softball game, "live" from Clearwater, Fla. . . . "Candid Camera" and Allen Funt, its creator, are planning a couple of shows for next season that would originate in Chicago and Hollywood. The program is a Sunday spot on Ch. 10 and CBS-TV.

UNDERGROUND STORAGE helps Ohio Fuel serve you better!

Huge, natural rock formations — thousands of feet underground in Ohio — are used by the Ohio Fuel Gas Company to store tremendous volumes of natural gas you need to heat your home in winter. These underground storage areas once contained supplies of "native" gas. This gas was used up several years ago. Now, gas piped to Ohio from Texas and Louisiana is pumped into the underground storage areas during summer. In winter it is withdrawn as needed to heat homes. On cold days as much as 55 per cent of the gas you use may come from storage. Nine out of every 10 Ohio Fuel customers have gas for heating their homes today because of underground storage — another step in Ohio Fuel's constant program of progress to serve you.

By Craig Weaver

LEARN PIONEER SKILLS

Boy Scouts from three different troops in the Southwest District attended a pioneering merit badge campout June 10 and 11 on the McMurray farm near Darbydale.

The boys made three types of primitive crossings over a creek, including a rope monkey bridge. They lashed an eight-foot table from wood they gathered at the site.

The five boys who received their pioneering merit badge for their work were Larry Keeny Danny Keen, of Troop 172; Wayne Smith, Troop 45; Bob Miller and Sheldon Hatzer, Jr., of Troop 357. Sheldon Hatzer, Jr., also passed his cooking merit badge.

Merit badge counselors for the weekend were Gene Stinson, an assistant district commissioner; Sheldon Hatzer, scoutmaster of Troop 357, and Bob Miller, also of 357.

Any Scouts interested in passing the pioneering merit badge, are asked to contact Gene Stinson or Sheldon Hatzer.

THEY'RE OFF TO CAMP

SIXTEEN MEMBERS of the West Side Boys' Club have been sent to Camp Ot'Okwa in Hocking County for 10 days by the West Side and Downtown Kiwanis Clubs. Helping load a truck with camping gear Friday were Rev. Carl Wilson, Ralph Burrell and Roger Chrisman, all of the West Side Kiwanis, with Jimmy McCoy, 652 W. State, Harold Rausch, 594 W. State and Gary Wycuff, 440 W. Cherry. Other boys sent to the camp were Dennis Lilley, Eddie Duff, Mike Taylor, Willie Clemmons, Troy Ledens, Mike Walker, Kenton McCoy, Herbie and John Wycuff, Leonard Cross, Bobby Lewis, Larry Mitchell and Melvin McDowell.

SPORTS of SORTS

Compiled By Bob Wilcox

Camp Chase's American Legion baseball squad, and defending Gold Section champ, kept its record unblemished last week by winning its second league start of the young campaign and its third of three encounters for the season. Traveling to meet the legion squad composed of East High players they came home with a nifty 14-0 win.

Franklin Heights' Max Green authored a fine two-hitter for Chase as he whitewashed the foe for his first win of the Legion season. In the process he whiffed eight and walked only three.

Chase scored in every frame except the second with a four run fourth as its big inning. Left fielder Bob Ross to date, is having a sensational time at the plate after a rather disappointing average this spring for the West Cowboys. At East he had four for four and six RBIs. First Sacker Gary Alwood chipped in with a booming triple for CC. Chase failed in two squeeze attempts at home but succeeded on one in the third frame as Lee Malone squeezed John Evans in from third. Chase had a boxscore of 14-15-1 to East's 0-2-4.

Some Chase-chasers . . . It looks like Green's first win (above) was also his last for Chase this season as it appears that Chase has lost half of its tremendous 1-2 pitching punch of Green and Jim Thornton.

There is a Legion rule that prohibits Legion ball players from playing in all-star games. Thus several players withdrew from last weeks' East-West All-Star baseball series at Jet Stadium. Green withdrew, but later decided to play with the all-stars and forfeit his Legion play. At press time he has appeared as a pinch-hitter in the Saturday opener and struck out. It is quite likely that he will also have done some hurling in the Sunday double-header before the three game series is over.

Chase will also be without the services of ace shortstop Steve Wilson this week (three games worth) while he is on vacation. It's uncertain what line-up changes will be made but quite likely Jim Workman will move over to short from the "hot corner" and Ross will come into third.

Gary Clark will probably take over in left field but who will take Green's place is right is a toss-up at the moment. Chase did secure some pitching help last week, picking up Aquinas' Pat Purcell. Who the number two hurler will be is another mystery with Evans and possibly Purcell and Grove City's Scott Anderson as top candidates. Clark and Ross can also heave if a real necessity arises.

Tonight Chase travels to meet Southway Post there in a single encounter and then has a big doubleheader with Eastmoor at West next Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Jet Jots . . . The Jets returned home for a seven day homestand last Monday evening with Rochester and Syracuse providing the opposition for the stand. The Jets then depart next Monday for another seven-day roadtrip to Toronto and Buffalo, returning home on July 3 against Charleston.

Next week at this stand . . . a birds-eye view of the what possibly was the last North-South high school basketball all-star game . . . the present (and recently past) Jet Roster, and some notes on the Jets as a whole and the latest Camp Chase results.
